WHOLESALE KILLING PLANNED BY MINERS.

Bundle of Forty Marked Photographs is Taken from Union Hall.

Secretary Cochrane is Arrested and Brought Before the Mine Owners—Hundreds of Deputies and Militiamen Round Up Suspicious Characters in the Gold District. Fifty Deported—Additional Deaths.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) June 7.—Under the regime of hundreds of deputy sheriffs and about one hundred and fifty militiamen, receiving their orders from Edward Bell, a wealthy mine owner, who succeeded Sheriff Robertson when he resigned under threats of lynching yesterday, this gold-mining district passed a comparatively peaceful day. Throughout the day, deputies and soldiers marched and searched the hills for union miners, and the sum total of the day's arrests was 19. This swelled the number of men confined in the "bull pen" to considerably over two hundred, and tonight 24 of them were placed aboard a special train and deported from the district. The men were resident of the following towns of the district: Cripple Creek 3; Victor 3; Independence 12; Gold Fields 3; Anaconda 2, and Altman 1. They were all active unionists, and served as leaders in the strike now pending.

VICTOR (Colo.) June 7.—Two hemp ropes, knotted with a noose for hanging, were lying on a table in the room where the Cripple Creek District Mine Owners' Association held a heated discussion today behind closed doors. The members were greatly incensed by the discovery of what they regarded as evidence of the existence of a plot in the Victor Miners' Union for wholesale assassinations of mine owners and miners. This evidence was a bundle of forty marked photographs found by Lieut. Keegan in the Union Hall. On the back of some of the photographs was the name of James Cochrane, secretary of the union.

The most important was a group of the night shift of the Vindicator mine. The photograph contains about twenty portraits, five of which were numbered from one to five. On the back were written the names of the persons numbered. Of the five names, those of Charles McCormick and Mel Beck had been crossed out. These two were killed in the Vindicator explosion last November.

On other photographs, similarly arranged, it is asserted, there are crossed out the names of some of the men who have disappeared and whose whereabouts or departure are unknown.

James Cochrane was arrested and taken into the Mine Owners' headquarters for a hearing.

"I do not know anything about these pictures," he said, "except that they were taken to show the 'scabs.' The marks by the names of the men who have been killed are mysterious to me. I was not present when the pictures were taken, and cannot tell you any more about them."

News leaked out today that had Thomas Christianson been captured last night, three men would have been lynched. The plot was arranged and a special train was standing on the Florence and Cripple Creek tracks to carry a body of men who were ready in Cripple Creek, awaiting a signal. Alfred Miller, former Marshal Michael O'Connell and Tom Christianson were regarded as ringleaders in the rioting of yesterday, and they were marked for lynching on that account. The failure to capture Christianson was the only reason the plan was not carried out. The other two are still in custody, awaiting the decision of the Citizens' Alliance as to their fate.

AN EXCITING NIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VICTOR, June 7.—Excitment ran at a high pitch last night, although no sensational incidents occurred after the riot of the afternoon. From dark until day, the principal streets were almost as crowded as they were during the day by thousands of men and women who assembled from all parts of the camp, in the belief that darkness would invite further bloodshed. Their expectations, however, proved to be groundless.

Aside from the occasional arrest of a union agitator by the military authority and the Sheriff's deputies and the occasional shriek of a Krag-Jorgensen from some dark, secluded spot in the foothills, the night passed off quietly. All night, however, the streets of the city and the footpaths leading to and from the mines were watched closely by the troops and the deputies, and every few minutes a hard-faced miner was brought in and placed in the armory, which is under heavy military guard. The dragnet was cast far and wide, and more than one hundred and fifty union men, said to be the leaders of the riot yesterday, are now lounging about on the hard floor of the armory. Many have been there since early yesterday morning, and there is no telling how much longer they will be kept in confinement.

At midnight, last night, a special train of five coaches, drawn by a heavy engine, pulled in on the Florence and Cripple Creek siding, near the temporary "bullpen," and the suppressed excitement was suddenly raised to fever height. It was rumored, and apparently with some foundation, that some twelve or fifteen of the recognized leaders of the union were to be turned over to Shriff Bell, and that all other prisoners were to be deported from the camp. As soon as the train backed onto the siding, Secretary C. C. Hamlin of the Mine Owners' Association, Sheriff Bell, Mayor French and Capt. Moore went into conference at the military headquarters. In about thirty minutes, Hamlin came out of his private room and telephoned to the railroad officials that the train would not be needed at that time. When this information went the rounds, those who had been expecting [illegible] a feeling of relief, and men employed in the various [illegible]

SITUATION MORE INTENSE.

By noon, the situation had grown more intense, though a recurrence of yesterday's experience is not expected, because nearly all of the union miners have been disarmed. The feeling against the unions is very bitter. The crowd around the armory, the Short Line and the Florence and Cripple Creek depots increased, and the soldiers and deputies were having some difficulty in keeping the streets passable. By order of Mayor French, the fire department stretched a line of hose from a fire plug at the corner of Victor avenue and Third street to the armory for the pupose of dispersing the crowd without resorting to the use of arms.

The sheriff, the military authorities and the mine owners now openly state that a wholesale deportation of union miners will occur, although they will not state when. It is believed that all but the leaders will be sent out tonight on special trains with a warning never to return. The leaders, of whom there are probably twelve or fifteen in custody, will be held by the sheriff. The sheriff is swearing in deputies as fast as possible. Fifty were added to the force in Victor alone today. No firing has been done today, and no outward disturbance of any kind has occurred.

MAYOR THINKS TOWN SAFE.

Mayor French said today that, in his opinion, no more troops are needed here.

"Company L, now on duty, consists of sixty men," he said, "and the number can be increased to 100, if necessary. Besides these soldiers we have 100 armed deputies. The civil authorities have perfect mastery of the situation. Should the military turn over their prisoners to the civil authorities, there will be no lynching."

However, the feeling against Alf Miller, who is said to have started the rioting here; Former City Marshal Michael O'Connell, by whom, it is asserted, union men who fired upon people in the streets from Union Hall, had been sworn in as deputies and armed, and Harvey Starbuck, former marshal of Independence, is strong. Every person in the district has taken sides with one faction or the other here, and nobody would be surprised should rioting break out anew at any moment.

"The Western Federation of Miners will be banished from the field," declare the mine owners.

"It has not been proven that the dynamiting was done by the Federation," retort union men. "We have a right to remain here."

Both sides express a determination to fight to the bitter end. Business is practically suspended in Victor, and conditions in Cripple Creek are little, if any better. All saloons are closed by order of the authorities. Many merchants have closed their stores, and all who can are doubling or trebling their insurance.

MARTIAL LAW OPTIONAL.
GEN. BELL HAS AUTHORITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, (Colo.) June 7.—Adj. Gen. Sherman M. Bell, accompanied by a detail of staff officers, is on his way to Cripple Creek bearing the acting govenor's proclamation of martial law for that district. He has instructions to use his judgment as to need for issuing the proclamation, and if he decides that conditions warrant it, to place the gold camp under the reign of the military for the second time since the strike of the miners began last August.

Gen. Bell traveled on a regular Colorado and Southern train from Denver to Colorado Springs. At the latter place, the Adjutant-General and his escort entered a special train and proceeded to Cripple Creek. The framing of the proclamation was the result of an appeal from Sheriff Bell of Teller County for troops, declaring that a state of insurrection existed in the Cripple Creek district.

DEBS SAYS "STAND PAT."
MINERS IN A CAMPAIGN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—The convention of the Western Federation of Miners today delegated to the Executive Committee the full charge of the Colorado situation, both politically and otherwise with instructions to use their best judgments in the fall campaign. A telegram was received from Eugene V. Debs saying: "Enemy is desperate. You are on top. Stand pat."

A resolution condemning the "nefarious dynamiting plot," which sent fifteen miners to their death and seriously injured a number of others at Independence, Colo., Monday, was adopted unanimously by the convention. A reward of $5000 is offered by the federation for the capture of the perpetrators of the outrage.

Vice-President J. C. Williams and Secretary-Treasurer William D. Haywood were today reelected to their former positions. Owing to the absence of President Charles H. Moyer, no nominations were made for the office of president, the constitution providing that the president of the federation, shall be in attendance when a vote on the nominee for the office is taken. W. W. Moore of McCabe, Ariz., was elected a member of the Executive Board. The other officers of the federation will be elected tomorrow, and final judgment will probably be reached.

CONSIDERING MARTIAL LAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—Acting Governor Warren A. Pargott is considering the question of declaring martial law in Teller county. He said tonight that he had written a proclamation for that purpose, but was holding it back pending further advices on the situation there. He intimated that the proclamation would probably be published within a [illegible] Pargott says that under arms in the Cripple Creek district, having been called out by the local peace officers. His latest advices were that no further disturbances had occurred in the camp. He did not know, he said, that the authorities had arranged to deport all union miners.

Adjt.-Gen. Sherman M. Bell and six other officers of the National Guard left Denver for Cripple Creek tonight. Gen. Bell said he was going up merely to "size up the situation." It is probable that the martial law proclamation will be posted on his arrival at Cripple Creek.

THREE MORE OFFICIALS OUT.
SYMPATHIZED WITH MINERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) June 7.—Three additional city officials were forced to resign their offices today, namely, Chief of Police William Graham Night Marshal Fred Hardy and Justice of the Peace Charles Harrington. Their reputed sympathy for unionism led to this action. In each case, a committee of the Citizens' Alliance waited upon them and compelled them to act immediately, under pain of violence.

Sixteen deputies, armed with sawed-off shotguns, visited the union store and made a thorough search for weapons. They were rewarded by finding a rifle and shotgun concealed behind a large ice box. Subsequently, they

FIFTY MEN DEPORTED.

Cripple Creek Rids Itself of Half a Hundred of the Union Agitators.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLORADO SPRINGS, (Colo.) June 7.—A special train, consisting of an engine and two coaches, bearing fifty union miners deported from Cripple Creek by the citizens, passed through this city this evening. It was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and did not stop here. The first car was empty, and the second car had all the blinds drawn and armed guards were on the platform.

The police and the sheriff's office here were determined not to let the deported men stop here, and arrangements were made with the Rio Grande road to carry the men past this city. It is presumed they are headed for Denver. About three hundred people were at the depot to see the train pass through, but there was no demonstration.

THE GREAT WAR.

JAPS HAVE ADVANCED.

Severe Fighting on the Peninsula.

On the West Side They Hold the Lower Slopes of Wedge Hill.

On the East Side They are About Three Miles South of Thungkiakhou.

Naval Battle in Pechili Gulf, Killing of Correspondent Lewis Etzel.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHAN HAI KWAN, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Continuous fighting is going on between the advancing Japanese and the Russians defending the entrance to Port Arthur fortress. There have been severe engagements since Monday, but there is no opportunity to learn what success the Japanese have achieved, now how much the loss of life has been in fighting for the possession of the slip leading to Wedge Head.

Admiral Togo has more than sixty small ships, mainly torpedo boats and destroyers, guarding the coast from Kinchow head to south of the entrance to Port Arthur, and outside this line he has four battleships and sixteen cruisers of various types. No junks are permitted within six miles of the coast, and it is evidently the purpose of the Japanese army and navy commanders to prevent all information from going out.

It is clear, however, that the Japanese have advanced materially since last Sunday, both on the easterly and westerly slopes of the peninsula leading to Port Arthur proper. The firing yesterday was a good mile to the south of that Monday, and it is corroborated by the others of the Chinese boats observing operations that the Japanese have advanced at least three miles south of Thungkiakhou, on the east side of the peninsula. On the west, they have possession of the lower slopes of Wedge Hill, and from the severe firing of yesterday, it is plainly the intention of Gen. Oku to take this tableland with the least possible delay, so that emplacements may be built for big artillery which must be brought up to dislodge the Russians from their fortified position on Liao Ting heights, averaging 1000 feet high, or more than 200 feet higher than any of the plateaus of Wedge Hill. From the continuous fighting of Monday and yesterday for the possession of Wedge Hill, it is assumed that the Japanese guns have been landed and are now on the military road from Kinchow, ready to be placed in position when the Japanese infantry and artillery have taken this northwesterly line of Russian fortifications.

There is no news here tonight of happenings since yesterday, as it takes fourteen hours for the swiftest junks to come across the gulf. Those in this morning say that Admiral Hashiba has notified all captains to keep six miles off coast. The inner sea line of the Japanese comprises from ten to twelve gunboats on the westerly side of the peninsula, with torpedo boats on an outer line, and west of them the bigger warships.

In front of Port Arthur proper, the Japanese have one-third of their heaviest fighting vessels.

SEVERAL DAYS OF FIRING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHEFOO, June 8, 10 a.m.—A fleet of junks which has arrived from Dalny for the purpose of buying stores for the Japanese report having heard continuous firing between Dalny and Port Arthur for several days.

Japanese warships are making Dalthein headquarters, and are coming and going continuously. They take turns guarding the entrance to Port Arthur. The junks further report that Chinese are no longer allowed to leave Port Arthur, and that the Japanese are punishing the bandits who raided Dalny and Talienwan. Three bandits have been executed and sixty have been arrested. The junks saw nothing of the Japanese fleet off Port Arthur.

BY LAND AND SEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, June 7, 4 p.m.—Preceding a sea atack on Port Arthur last night, the Japanese apparently made a determined effort to advance on that stronghold by land. A Chinese junk, which left a point three miles south of Port Dalny early Monday morning has arrived here. She reports having heard firing north of Port Arthur from 7 o'clock Monday morning until 2 o'clock that afternoon, by which time she passed out of hearing distance. It would appear that the Japanese planned a land and sea attack on Port Arthur yesterday. The Russians, on seeing this, sent their fleet out to give battle. The result is not known.

NAVAL BATTLE IN PECHILI.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEFOO, June 7, 3 p. m.—An impression prevails here that a naval battle took place last night in the Gulf of Pechili. Passengers on steamers passing the Lia Ti Shan promontory at the time did not hear any firing, while reports come from Tenn Chow of heavy firing being heard there from 11 o'clock last night until 2 o'clock this morning. Vessels from the Miao Tao Islands confirm this report, and so do the residents of hills in the vicinity of this city, who heard the firing and saw flames out at sea during the night.

The fact that the Russians were endeavoring, June 4, to clear the roadsteads off Port Arthur of mines indicates an intention upon their part to give battle outside the harbor upon the first favorable opportunity.

A Japanese correspondent returning from Talienwan says there is a persistent rumor there that the Japanese battleship Yashima struck a mine off that port recently and was sunk. Chinese arrivals from Talienwan are unable to confirm the story.

JAPS ROUT COSSACKS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, June 7, 3 p. m.—A detachment of the Japanese force which landed at Takushan surprised and routed a company of Cossacks Sunday at Kan Chia Tun, on the Kinchow road, seven miles northwest of Takushan.

KOUROPATKIN LOCATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, June 7.—The Foreign Office received a dispatch this morning definitely announcing that Gen. Kouropatkin, with his main force, is at Liao Yang.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN SQUADRON.

GRAND DUKE ALEXIS' PLANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7, 6 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Grand Duke Alexis commander-in-chief of the navy, according to an apparently reliable report, which, however, is not officially confirmed, has obtained the permission of the Emperor to create a third Pacific squadron from the ships of the Black Sea fleet, and permission has been obtained from Turkey to take the ships through the Dardanelles, on the condition that they will not return.

This squadron will be composed, according to the report, of the battleships Rostislav, Dvenadtsat, Apostoloff and Triasviatitelia, and will be accompanied by torpedo boats and destroyers, and will sail for the Far East simultaneously with the Baltic squadron. The Associated Press is unable to obtain any confirmation of the report.

REPORTED SOLD TO JAPS.

SUBMARINE PROTECTOR SHIPPED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRIDGEPORT, (Conn.) June 7.—A report reached this city today that the submarine boat protector had been shipped to Japan from New York and that four boats modeled after the Protector are now under course of construction at the works of the Newport News Drydock and Shipbuilding Company. Bridgeport men interested in the construction of these boats decline to give any information as to what has been done with the Protector. Japanese agents have been in this city several times and as a result it is said draftsmen are working day and night at a local hotel on plans and models of submarine boats. Some of these models are known to have been shipped to Newport News.

CORKED IN BLACK SEA.

RUSSIAN FLEET WON'T SAIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 7.—The Foreign Office has not received any request from Russia or Turkey to agree to the passage of the Russian Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles. It is pointed out that Turkey doubtless would be delighted to get rid of the Russian Black Sea fleet, but the passage of warships through the Dardanelles would be a distinct contravention of the treaty, permission for which has not been asked nor is likely to be granted if asked for.

ALEXIEFF AND KOUROPATKIN.

VARIOUS STORIES AFLOAT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERBURG, June 7.—5:20 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] While it is undoubtedly true that a very active Russian force is operating on the Liao Tung Peninsula in the hope of impeding and possibly crippling the Japanese army commanded by Gen. Oku, the number and character of this force are shrouded in mystery.

According to accepted stories here, Viceroy Alexieff insisted that Kouropatkin should not leave Port Arthur to its fate, and the advance of troops, the strength of which is not known here, may be due to his pressure. But two things are certain, the strength of the main army at Liao Yang has not been appreciably weakened by the force sent south, and the movement was not ordered by Emperor Nicholas.

The Associated Press is assured by a member of the Emperor's suite that the stories that the differences between Viceroy Alexieff and Gen. Kouropatkin on this subject were referred to the Emperor, who in turn submitted them to the Council of War, which agreed on the advisability of ordering an advance are absolutely false. The Associated Press's informant reiterated the statement, cabled June 3, that the Emperor is not attempting to impose his views upon Kouropatkin, saying further that the Emperor considered that the military situation has distinctly improved from the standpoint of the future.

This being the Empress's birthday, the day was observed as a general holiday. Business was suspended, and the government offices were closed. Little actual news from the seat of war was obtainable.

WORKING AGAINST LAMSDORFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6, 5:26 p.m.—Members of what is known as the war party are attempting to use the assault perpetrated on Foreign Minister Lamsdorff by the Prince Dolgorouky, last week, to render Count Lamsdorff's position untenable. With this end in view, they are helping to spread exaggerated reports of the incident. There is no reason at present to believe that they will succeed.

CABLE INTERRUPTED.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Commercial Cable Company sends out the following notice: "We are advised that the Nagasaki-Fusan cable is interrupted."

THE VERY LATEST.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

LONDON, June 7.—[Exclusive Despatch.] Reports received from several quarters indicate that a great battle by land and sea is on at Port Arthur, and that the Japanese expect to occupy that stronghold before the end of the week.

EARLY MORNING FIRING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEFOO, June 7—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was very heavy firing at Port Arthur from 3 a.m. to 5 a.m. today.

TIDINGS FROM SAKHAROFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—The General Staff today received the following dispatch from Gen. Sakharoff, chief of staff of Gen. Kouropatkin:

"There is no change in the situation in Feng Wang Cheng. A Japanese detachment has evacuated a position which it occupied south of Vafangow, near the village of Chu Chia Tun, and retired southward, pursued by our cavalry.

"During a reconnaissance June 3, in the neighborhood of Simatza a detachment of Japanese infantry fired on our rear guard. Their approach was stopped by an advance of our troops. The firing lasted two and a half hours. We had two men killed and six wounded."

SAMSOMOFF'S FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIAO YANG, June 7.—The Japanese have drawn in their advance guards from Vafangow. They blew up part of the railway and the telegraph station the night of June 3rd. The damage will be repaired soon.

Somsomoff's Cossacks are hastening the Japanese toward Port Arthur. Cossacks searching the hills occasionally catch detached parties unawares, in the clothing of a Japanese officer of the Fourteenth Regiment who was killed. Important documents were found, showing that the Japanese had lost heavily in the fighting May 30. Many of the Japanese killed wear tattered Chinese clothes, such as spies use.

Somsomoff's fight with the Japanese, June 3, in the valley of Pu Tsiantun, took place in an immense amphitheater in the hills. Samsomoff threw forward skirmishers to feel out the Japanese positions. The Cossacks and dragoons crept forward examining the steep hillsides, deep ravines and dry water courses likely to protect Japanese ambuscades.

Finally the Japanese fire on the crest of the hills located them, and the Cossacks swarmed up almost inaccessible cliffs. The Japanese at first kept in the shelter of the rocks, but the Russian fire searched them out, and they flitted shadowlike across the rocks, and the Cossacks continued to advance, while the dragoons cleared the valleys leading from the amphitheater. The Japanese cavalry retreated not willing to risk a collision at close quarters.

The Russians' line encircled one of the hills on which was the principal Japanese position, and like a living ribbon crept toward the summit. Col. Sereda led the advance until he fell, wounded, half way up the cliff. The command devolved upon Lieut.-Col. Chicsville, who continued the forward movement, clearing the Japanese from the heights.

In the meantime, a Russian battery placed an accurate shrapnel fire among the hill tops, helping the Japanese repeat. Two Japanese sharpshooters on the hillside injured the Russians at a critical period of the advance. An officer of Terileski's company scaled the rocks in the face of almost certain death, and killed both the Japanese, returning unharmed.

Soon after the Russians had occupied the hill top and an entrenched village, they received orders to retire. Just then the artillery reserve was brought into action and showered the retiring Russians with shrapnel, but failed to get the exact range. Besides Col. Sereda, seventeen Russians were wounded in the day's encounter. The Japanese losses, owing to the accuracy of the Russian artillery fire, seemed heavy.

BLOWN-UP GUNBOATS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 8.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Tokio cables:

"The commander of the fourth Japanese flotilla, who has returned to the rendezvous of the fleet from a reconnoissance in the vicinity of Port Arthur, mentions the loss of Russian gunboat Giliak and the blowing-up of another Russian gunboat about the same time.

"A Chinaman, escaped from Port Arthur, says that the rations of the soldiers is two pounds of bread daily, but as the officers have an abundance of food, the men are discontented."

The loss of a second Russian gunboat alluded to in the Daily Telegraph's dispatch is mentioned in other special telegrams, but is probably due to mixing the names Giliak and Gremiashohi.

KILLING OF ETZEL BY CHINESE SOLDIERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Ernest Brindle, the Daily Mail's correspondent in Manchuria, in a description of the death of Lewis Etzel, the Daily Telegraph's correspondent who was shot by Chinese soldiers while in a junk between Shwantaitze and Erdize, says:

"Our intention was to cruise along the Liao Tung coast. About 6 o'clock in the morning, the junk was surrounded by four sailing boats, manned by Chinese soldiers, who, without explanation, opened fire, their shots falling all over our boat. We were below, reading and waiting, and Etzel, looking out, received a fearful wound in the back of the head, and expired in a few moments.

"The soldiers, who were dressed like pirates, said they mistook us for a pirate boat they were seeking. They afterward donned uniforms.

"I walked to Tien Chwang Tai to summon assistance. One of the Chinese crew was badly wounded, and it is not likely that he will recover."

HIS MOTHER IN COLORADO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUTLER (Pa.) June 7.—Lewis Etzel, the correspondent of the London Telegraph, killed by Chinese soldiers near Newchwang, is stated by his cousin, Miss Edith Knittle, to have been the oldest son of Gabriel Etzel, once a prominent merchant of this city, who has been dead for twenty years. His mother now lives at Silver Cliff, Colo., with a daughter. Etzel was about forty years of age, and was unmarried.

CONSUL-GENERAL INVESTIGATES

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEWCHWANG, June 7, 1 p.m.—United States Consul-General Miller has left here by special train for the scene of the killing of Lewis Etzel of Butler, Pa., correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph. The Consul-General will make a personal investigation of the death of Etzel.

THE FAMILY NOTIFIED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—Anna B. Etzel, a stenographer living in this city, with her mother and sister, received a cablegram today announcing the death of her brother, Lewis Etzel, a newspaper correspondent, who was fired upon in a junk and killed by Chinese soldiers. The cablegram contained no details. Lewis Etzel was the son of Gabriel Etzel, who died several years ago in this city. The dead correspondent was 36 years of age. He left home about ten years ago, and had never returned.

DEFENDER OF TIEN TSIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—It is believed by persons formerly resident in Tien Tsin that Etzel was one of a number of young Englishmen and Americans engaged in various business enterprises around Tien Tsin, where he had resided for a number of years. He was in Tien Tsin at the time of the Boxer uprising, and was one of the little band of civilian defenders of the city in the trying days before the arrival of assistance from the fleets at Taku. During the advance on Peking by the allied columns and the subsequent operations he did some newspaper work.

EXPLORED WITH HARRISON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—Lewis Etzel had traveled extensively, and had accompanied some of the most famous eastern exploration expeditions. He had often penetrated some of the wildest parts of East India and with Russell Harrison, a son of ex-President Harrison made a wonderful trip through the jungles of Borneo in 1901.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, June 7, 11:30 a.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Admiral Togo has succeeded in clearing the channel leading into Talienwan. He began locating mines June 3, and since then he has found and exploded forty-one. Yesterday, a small steamer was able to safely enter the harbor. The work of locating other mines is now continuing, and it is expected that the vicinity will be speedily cleared of all dangerous obstructions to navigation. Vice-Admiral Togo reports that a southerly gale and a high sea prevailed during his operations, but the men steadfastly continued at their work.

GOT THE CHINESE PILOT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from Tokio:

"Admiral Togo reports that the clearing-up operation in the Talienwan Bay is progressing satisfactorily, despite rough weather. Forty-one mines were discovered and exploded between June 2 and June 6. The Chinese who formerly served the enemy as a pilot is now usefully employed by us. One safe way was discovered rendering navigation possible for shallow ships."

PORT ARTHUR EXPLOSIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, June 7.—The correspondents of the Times aboard the steamer Haimun, telegraphs June 6, as follows:

"It is pretty certain, from intelligence received by the Japanese secret service, that even if the channel of Port Arthur is practicable for large-draught ships, there is not sufficient coal in Port Arthur for such vessels to take to the sea.

"The explosions heard at Port Arthur are believed to have been caused by the demolition of certain government buildings.

"A portion of the Japanese Second Army Corps will hold the land approaches to Port Arthur until Talienwan Bay shall have been made practicable for a further debarkation."

THAT RUSSIAN SORTIE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, June 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Matin says that a naval officer repeats the story already in circulation at Liao Yang, that the Russian squadron at Port Arthur has made a sortie and sunk two Japanese torpedo boats and a battleship of Shikishima type.

ANOTHER JAP ARMY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LIAO YANG, June 6, 8 p.m.—Military interest is now centered upon the region of imminent operations, the Liao Tung Peninsula. Another Japanese army is landing on the eastern coast as a counterweight to the Russian advance from Dashitsao southward from Gen. Oku's army. The Japanese have seemingly given up the idea of attacking Liao Yang, if they entertained such a plan. The rainy season, which is expected to begin in two or three weeks, would, it is considered here, render an advance to Liao Yang impossible. Another force is watching Gen. Kuroki's right wing north of the Yalu River.

AFFAIRS AT VLADIVOSTOK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, June 6.—All is quiet here. It can be stated that Port Arthur is abundantly provided with provisions and munition of war. The bulk of the supplies now there was sent from here before communication was cut off. Vladivostok was not weakened by sending these supplies, and there is plenty of everything remaining here except sugar. Kerosene is also scarce among the civilians, but the quantity on hand is adequate for the needs of the garrison. Trade with the interior is improving. A train of ten cars, laden with miscellaneous goods, is dispatched daily. The railroad is open, and the traffic in ordinary freight is considerable. Much excitement has been caused by reports of gold being found in vicinity of the mouth of Amur River. Several hundred prospectors have already gone to the locality, and others are starting.

Mail advices from Liao Yang say that the ambulance train is to arrive here. On board, among other wounded, is a Japanese prisoner whom Gen. Kouropatkin took particular care to single out and compliment on the fighting qualities of his companions. The General told the Japanese that he would personally insure the forwarding of a letter to his parents in Tokio.

A Russian soldier who was badly wounded at Turenchen has received a medal for an exploit performed by him during the fighting there. He returned to his uninjured gun, which could not be removed when the Russian withdrew, and disabled it as the Japanese were coming up. He received a number of bayonet wounds but succeeded in making his escape.

PACIFIC SLOPE.

GETS FOUR FRANCHISES.

Network of Electric Lines to Stockton Suburbs.

H. H. Griffiths' Feeders to the Western Pacific.

The Algoa's Narrow Escape. Growing Grain Burns.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four franchises for suburban electric lines were granted to H. H. Griffiths today by the Board of Supervisors. They will connect with the new electric street railway system which Griffiths will construct in Stockton. He has already secured franchise for a network of roads in all parts of Stockton and wishes to reach all suburban points of interest.

One of the roads in the county will run from the city limits south to the glass works and out the old French Camp toll road and back to the city limits. Another line will run out one and one-half miles through the Fair Oaks addition, to accommodate that thickly-settled district. The third route will run over the lower Sacramento road to Calaveras River and the north out by way of the Cherokee line.

Griffiths still has applications for franchises for loop roads to Lodi from two points to which he was granted franchises today, as it is his intention to construct a splendid line from Stockton to the northwest metropolis of San Joaquin county. These electric lines will be feeders to the Western Pacific, as he will have permits to run freight cars on the roads at night.

IGNITED FIRE IN CLOSET.

HOSPITAL BLAZE INCENDIARY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Kingman, a couple of days ago, the County Hospital, the Barrington lodging-house and another building were destroyed by fire, the loss aggregating $15,000. The fire undoubtedly was ignited in a closet by one of the hospital inmates, who had a grievance against the management. The fellow left a few minutes before the fire was discovered, and appears to have made good his escape.

SHOT DOWN IN HIS TENT.

MURDERER MAKES ESCAPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A coroner's jury has charged Eusebio Ortiz with the murder of Trabaco Palomares at Lowell Saturday night. Ortiz has escaped to Mexico. He had attempted to enter a tent occupied by Palomares and his wife. The owner objected and was shot down, dying on the spot.

Roy W. Moreland was shot four times yesterday in Douglas, yet lives, with a good chance for recovery. Moreland, who is a railroad man, was standing in the Coney Island Club when approached by J. H. Peyton, a smelter hand, who, after a few curses over some mutual disagreement, pulled a large revolver and shot Moreland twice in the breast and in the neck and arm. Peyton made his escape across the line in the darkness.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENTS.

VALUATIONS IN ARIZONA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Territorial Board of Equalization has fixed a valuation of $7622 a mile upon the Southern Pacific track and right of way through Arizona. Member Olney of Graham county tried to make it $10,000, but he voted alone. The El Paso and Southern was assessed $6000 a mile and several smaller roads $3500.

MILITIAMEN UNINTERESTED.

MAY MUSTER OUT COMMAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj. Edward Jones, Fresno created a sensation today by checking up the property of Co. B, Sixth Regiment, N.G.C., which has had a tempestuous career for several months. While officers and men will not talk, it is taken as a sure sign that the command will be mustered out of service at once. Members of the company will not discuss the matter, but it leaked out today that last night only half a dozen privates appeared for drill. Maj. Jones dropped into town unannounced and put in an appearance at the Armory, much to the surprise of Capt. Hill, and other officers. In looking over the rolls, it was found that there had not been sufficient men in attendance for about a month to hold drills.

The trouble in the company dates back several weeks, when there was an election for captain. Two factions existed. The new captain managed to win out by one vote after a bitter fight. Interest in the work decreased and in a short time it was impossible to get a corporal's guard to turn out for drill.

POTASSIUM FOR PEST.

CYANIDE ON CUCUMBERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, June 7.—The Agricultural Department of the University of California has undertaken an extensive campaign against the cotton boll worm that has for years past been injuring the green corn product of the State. This pest is popularly known as the "corn worm." Prof. Clarke will begin experimenting on the corn worm at Vorden, Sacramento county, where a field of 100 acres has been set aside for the work.

Another pest that will be fought by the entomological department of the university this summer is the one that is affecting the cucumber crop around Los Angeles. The cucumber aphids will be sprayed liberally with a solution containing cyanide of potassium.

ALGOA'S NARROW ESCAPE.

DRIVEN AGAINST THE ROCKS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Pacific Mail freight steamer Algoa narrowly escaped meeting the fate of the Rio de Janeio on the northern shore of Golden Gate today. The big vessel, one of the largest on the Pacific Coast, was bound for this port from China and Japan. As she was entering the harbor the strong currents drove her against the rocky side of the channel just west of the Point Bonita Lighthouse. Several tugs were immediately sent to her aid, but the vessel got off without assistance and continued on her way into port.

When the Algoa was made fast to Lombard-street dock, it was found that there were thirteen feet of water in her fore peak, showing that she had sprung a serious leak. No fear of her sinking is entertained, however, as the water is under control.

The steamer, which is commanded by Capt. Lockett, brought a cargo of general merchandise from the Orient and had not taken on a pilot when the accident occurred. She was entering the bay by the north channel, when a tug towing an outbound bark was encountered. The Algoa sheered to one side to avoid the obstruction, when the current carried her against a ledge of rocks. An anchor was immediately dropped, and the steamer's head turned seaward. Pilot Reed was taken on board, and under her own steam the Algoa reached her destination.

The Algoa sailed from Yokahama, May 20, for San Francisco. She is 445 feet long, 56 feet beam, 22.4 feet deep. The steamer is owned by A. N. Smith of Liverpool.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTES TO WORTH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The funeral of Father Scanlan, who died in New York a few days ago, took place today from St. Joseph's Church, of which he was pastor for many years. The building was draped in black and the auditorium was filled with mourners. The grand requiem from Zingardelli was followed by the celebration of a solemn pontifical high mass by Archbishop Montgomery.

Father McSweeney of St. Francis parish, Oakland, and an old friend and fellow-worker of Father Scanlan, preached the sermon, which was an eloquent tribute to the worth of the deceased priest.

There were many beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

KEPT HIS ESTATE INTACT.

RETURNED AS FROM GRAVE

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Suddenly returning to Mission, near Wenatchee, early in May, Matt Green stopped the distribution of his estate, consisting of a large and valuable ranch in Wenatchee Valley.

Six years ago he leased his farm and left for Alaska. He and his party went to Quesnelle and prospected to the summit of the Rocky Mountains, later making their way down Fraser River in a canoe. They were wrecked. Green's partner was drowned and he reached Fort George in a famished condition, after living two weeks on roots and berries. An account of the finding of his body by Indians was published in several papers.

Effort was then made to gain possession of his fruit ranch by one John Sullivan. Legal proceedings had been started and his sister came from the East to settle the estate, claiming to be the only heir. About this time word came that Green was alive in British Columbia. Investigation showed that his partner's body, instead of his, had been found.

Three weeks ago he returned to Mission and took possession of his property. Last Saturday night he died of congestion of the brain, brought on by a fall received in Alaska. His sister will get the ranch.

DISASTROUS GRAIN FIRE.

MUCH GROWING WHEAT LOST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WILLOWS, June 7.—A disastrous grain fire swept over 600 acres of fine growing wheat of the Murdock Land Company's property farmed by W. D. Killebrew, about five miles west of Willows, last night. A large barn filled with hay was also destroyed. Two hundred acres of wheat belonging to Heathcott and Lister, a few miles north of Orland, was also destroyed Sunday night.

HAD FAITH IN EPPINGER.

TESTIMONY IN GRAIN CASE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—In the Eppinger case today no evidence was taken before 2:30 o'clock. Arguments regarding the extent to which the affairs of the defunct grain firm may be investigated occupied the time of the court. In the meantime the jury was given an outing.

In the afternoon F. E. Beck, manager of the Independent Banking Corporation, testified that he had always had absolute faith in the integrity of the defendant. When Eppinger represented that he had wheat stored in the warehouse at Crockett, the witness unhesitatingly took his word for it and loaned him money at 5½ per cent., valuing the wheat at $22 a ton. He also believed in the validity of the warehouse receipts.

HEAD FOR HIGHLAND.

ALL EASTERN APPLICANTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 7.—The board of managers of the Southern California State Hospital at Highland tonight considered applications for the position of superintendent to succeed Dr. M. B. Campbell, who resigned following the disclosures of a month ago. All the applicants, eight in number, reside in eastern States. The board made no choice, but will consider further at a special meeting next Wednesday.

Half-breed Must Hang.

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—Charles Lawrence, a half-breed Indian, was today sentenced to hang at Folsom prison August 12 for the murder of H. C. McCarty, a white man. The men had been employed on a hop ranch near Elk Grove, and in a drunken quarrel Lawrence shot McCarty.

Alcohol Fatally Burns Boy.

LODI, June 7.—Leslie Meyer, aged 9 years, was fatally burned while playing with alcohol at Valley Spring. In company with other boys, he found a vessel filled with alcohol. They attempted to light it, with the result that it was scattered all over Meyer by an explosion, and he died three hours later.

Surrenders to Sheriff After Shooting.

SAN JOSE, June 7.—W. O. Stewart this morning delivered himself to a deputy sheriff at Alviso, saying he had shot W. A. Kennedy at Centerville, last night. Both parties are recently from San Bernardino, and Kennedy had accused Stewart of having been intimate with his wife there. Stewart, who is now in jail, says Kennedy drew a knife on him. Kennedy was shot in the thigh and groin, but may recover.

It is announced that next season the Manhattan Theater in New York is to be made the home of a permanent organization of players, headed by Mrs. Fiske. The venture is the result of the recent dissolution of the independent theatrical companies, which will release the theater from the demands heretofore made by the members of that organization.

Richard E. Pruesser, a well-known broker of Albany, N. Y., shot and killed Miles McDonnell, a member of the Boston Metropolitan Stock Exchange, early this morning. Both men were interested in the company and had been on amicable terms until just before the tragedy. Pruesser had been drinking heavily and left a restaurant, went to his office and got a shotgun. He went to the Teneyck Hotel, where McDonnell was. As soon as McDonnell opened the door, Pruesser shot him dead.

At Florence yesterday a funeral service of the simplest character took place over the body of Mrs. Samuel L. Clemens, in the Villa Quarto, after a vexatious visit from sanitary officials and compliance with annoying formal regulations. Only members of the family were present. The coffin was taken to a temporary vault, from which it will be sent to Genoa and placed aboard the steamer sailing for New York June 25.

Gov. O'Dell of New York, when asked at Paris concerning the results of his conferences with Ambassador Porter, said they went over the New York situation, as the direction of the campaign depended upon his getting the views of the various leaders. In other quarters it is understood that Gen. Porter made clear his wish not to have his name used in connection with the nomination for Governor, except for most urgent reasons.

Señor Ojeda, the Spanish Minister, says his government does not credit the report that the United States desires a Moroccan port. The Minister added that the only object Spain has in sending warships to Tangier, is to protect Spanish interests there in the event of trouble.

The published statement that the French Mediterranean squadron has been ordered to Tangier meets with specific denial at the Foreign Office.

LOSSES IN LAKE STRIKE.

Boats tied up, 600; members of crews made idle, 12,000; others thrown into idleness, estimated 150,-000; loss in wages, estimated, $2,625,-000; loss to vessel owners, estimated, $1,500,000; total loss, estimated, $5,-125,000.

With the tie-up of freight traffic on the lakes practically broken, the unions and vessel owners are coming to estimate their respective loss, sustained since May 11, when the Masters' and Pilots' Association separated its strike against the Ore Carriers' Association. The strike has meant the loss of millions on both sides. Vesselmen say it is impossible to tell definitely the losses sustained by their interests and the figures given above apply only to the business contracted for and known as a total loss.

MISS INDERRIEDEN MARRIED.

The marriage of Miss Marie Inderrieden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Inderrieden, to John Ward Stimson was celebrated this morning at the chapel at the Archiepiscopal residence. Besides the family, only a few close friends were present. Bishop Quigley read the service.

HUNTINGTON'S LONG HELLO.

He Absorbs Twenty-three Additional Telephone Systems and Will Organize.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON, (Tex.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through his southwestern agents, H. E. Huntington has absorbed twenty-three additional independent telephone systems and leased lines in Texas, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Louisiana and Oklahoma, many of them being located in prominent cities, including Galveston, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, South McAlester, Little Rock and Oklahoma City, Okla. The leased lines embrace systems that have already been established and are on a paying basis in the States named, but which have not heretofore been consolidated.

It is understood that Huntington and his associates have set aside $10,000,000 with which to organize a rival company to the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph Company, and that the new organization will wage a bitter fight of competition with the old company for business. It is also learned upon good authority that the Southwestern consolidation is but a nucleus with which to initiate a telephone organization that will give local and long-distance service throughout the United States.

Distinguished Clergymen

And Prominent Temperance Workers Use and Endorse Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Rev. A. McLeod, D. D., the Great Preacher, was Cured of Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration of Forty Years' Standing by the Wonderful Medicine Whose Virtues He Extols, and to the Curative Qualities of Which He Owes His Renewed Vigor and Perfect Health.

ENDORSE

Honored and Respected Among Men, after More than 50 Years of Constant Service in the Presbyterian Church, Dr. McLeod Makes the Following Frank and Outspoken Statement of What Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has Done for Him.

Rev. A. McLeod, D. D., of the Detroit Presbytery.

"I am now in my 73d year and have served God fearlessly and to the best of my ability in my chosen calling. For more than forty years I have been afflicted with dyspepsia and nervous prostration. At times I would get so run down constitutionally through overwork as to be disqualified entirely from discharging my ministerial duties. The older I grew the more the disease seemed to prey upon me. The most noted physicians failed to prescribe any medicines that benefited me. I could neither eat nor sleep, and for more than two years I had to take sleeping powders every night.

"My nervous prostration became well nigh unbearable. But for the grace of God helping me, I would not be in the land of the living. Language fails to express the agony of my mind.

"Something over a month ago I began taking your preparation.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

In the brief period of two days I found that it began to help me. It gave me strength, added my digestion, settled my nerves and I have gained ten pounds since taking it.

"I thank God there is such a medicine to be had, and recommend all people with weak, broken-down constitutions, and nervous people especially, to use it. I feel that it will help them. I will be glad to answer any communications in regard to the healing virtue of your preparation. I am a temperance man, and I do not think my position in this matter will be misunderstood."

(REV.) A. M'L EOD, D.D., Greenleaf, Mich. Jan. 22, 1904.

Rev. Dr. McLeod's endorsement is but the outpouring of a grateful soul. The letter of a man who has been relieved of great suffering and who gladly acknowledges the great medicinal value of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people in every walk of life unite in commending this wonderful medicine—the only perfect tonic-stimulant, the one true, medicinal whiskey. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey cures coughs, colds, worst forms of grip, consumption, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, dyspepsia, and all kinds of stomach trouble. It never fails to build up a worn-out system, to soothe the tired nerves, to bring perfect health to the whole being. Every testimonial is published in good faith and guaranteed.

WASHINGTON.

CONTROL OF THE WIRELESS.

Navy Department Stirs Up Trouble for Itself.

Gen. Greely Heads Opposition to System.

Fuel Oil in the Warships. Panama's Currency.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When, in reassembling Congress, the Navy Department attempts to secure special legislation to enable it to control one system of wireless telegraphy for the coasts and insular possessions of this country, the War Department will have something to say in opposition. In fact, there may be considerable friction in the departments, Navy, Army, Treasury and Agricultural. Gen. A. W. Greely, chief of the United States Signal Corps, will probably lead the fight against the Navy Department's plans, which he believes are not feasible.

The navy has tentatively adopted the Telefunken system, and proposes to make that exclusive within a zone 240 miles radially distant from any given point on the coasts. Its system, however, has proved effective for only seventy miles. Meanwhile, ocean-going steamers have installed Marconi instruments, and that company refuses to exchange with the Slaby-Arco system or any modification of it, such as is the Telefunken. Short stations of all systems in competition with the Slaby-Arco system may be abolished, but this would hardly relieve the situation, in Greely's opinion, so long as steamers prefer to use the Marconi system.

Gen. Greely regards the navy's scheme as impracticable and points to the position taken by him on behalf of the United States at the International Code Convention, held at London last year. At that time, he opposed the adoption of the compulsory international code, on the ground that while the convention might adopt such a measure, it was entirely without power to enforce its use.

GREAT FREDERICK'S STATUE.

CEREMONIES AT UNVEILING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—General arrangements have been completed for the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great, at the War College grounds, November 20. The Emperor will send over a commission to be present at the unveiling. Ambassador Sternberg will personally represent the Emperor and will make the address of presentation. Addresses will be made by the President, Secretary Taft and Mr. Tower, American Ambassador to Germany.

If practicable, one of the gunboats of the German West Indian squadron will take part in the ceremonies, and an American warship, probably the Dolphin, also will be in attendance.

PANAMA AND GOLD.

CONFERENCE OVER CURRENCY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—In answer to a summons from the State Department, John Barrett, Minister to Panama, came to Washington today, and had a long conference with the Panama Canal Commissioners and afterward saw the President, Secretary Hay and Assistant Secretary Loomis, all with reference to the settlement of the pending Panama currency proposition.

It appears from advices received today that final action by the Panama Legislature is expected today, and, in the event that the decision is adverse to the adoption of the gold standard, some action will be required immediately by our government.

LARGE INTERESTS INVOLVED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON June 7.—It developed at the conference that, although indirect, the interest of the United States in the adoption of the gold standard by Panama is no less than $25,000,000. This is based on the belief that with a fluctuating and unstable currency with Panama, closely interwoven as it certainly will be with the isthmian canal strip population, the contractors who must dig the canal, will be obliged, in order to make themselves safe, to add at least 25 per cent to their bids in order to guard against changes in the cost of labor and supplies which must me obtained from the surrounding country incident to the currencies not placed on the gold standard.

So, if the decision of the Panama Legislature today promises to be adverse to gold, the United States government will seek to secure postponement of the final proclamation of that direction. Meanwhile, Minister Barrett will arrange for a meeting with Minister Obaldia of Panama, who is expected in Washington soon, and the two fiscal agents of Panama who are now in New York, for the purpose of securing an agreement to make Panama currency uniform with that to be employed on the canal strip.

The system which will be brought to the attention of the Panamenos is that employed in the Philippines so successfully for the past two years, namely, a gold-dollar unit with a silver peso worth 50 cents gold as a common circulating medium. Such a coin as the peso is regarded as absolutely necessary where a vast amount of crude, unskilled and cheap labor is to be employed as in the canal work.

FRENCH COMPANY'S CLAIM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—William Nelson Crowell, representing the New Panama Canal Company, from whom the United States acquired the canal concession, and M. Choron, engineer in charge of construction of the canal during French ownership, today conferred with Rear-Admiral Walker, chairman of the commission, in regard to the claim of the French Company for reimbursement of the amounts expended by the French company during the negotiations for the sale of the canal property to this government. The accounts must be audited and the date fixed when liability from the United States shall begin before the amount of the claim can be determined.

The representatives of the French company hold that the United States should reimburse the company for all expenditures from the time this agreement was made for the purchase, while members of the government commission believe the United States should pay from the time that the property was actually taken over. Objection is made to paying the expenses for work during the time negotiations were pending with Columbia for the ratification of the Hay-Herran treaty. The accounts will be audited and a report made by the commission to Secretary Taft.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

INJURY IN CALIFORNIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7. — The Weather Bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says:

"While too cool for best results in portions of the lake region and in the Missouri Valley and Northern Rocky Mountain districts, the week as a whole has been very favorable in the districts east of the Rocky Mountains. The North Pacific Coast also experienced a favorable week, but in California nearly all crops were injured by continued drying north winds.

"Winter wheat has suffered somewhat from heavy rains in portions of Oklahoma. On the North Pacific Coast the crop has advanced favorably and is heading; in California, it is maturing rapidly, the late sown having been seriously damaged by hot winds.

"In the Southern States a good crop of peaches is indicated."

FUEL OIL IN NAVY.

REPORT ON EXPERIMENTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That fuel oil, crude petroleum, is more steam-producing than coal, and that with light distillation its combustion is less wearing on boilers are two conclusions reached by the Naval Board which for two years has experimented with liquid fuel in this city. The report of this board is considered effective to the development of oil as fuel in regions where it is plentiful.

While it is understood that the Naval Board has not found the thermal advantages of liquid fuel superior to high grades of coal, as was asserted by those interested in the production of crude petroleum, it is believed the report will show how simple is the installation requisite and how great are the possibilities of oil fuel for marine and naval purposes.

Hundreds of burners have been invented, but all center about half a dozen principles. The report devotes itself extensively to the question of safe and effective installation of oil burners. Small shipbuilding interests are expected to profit mostly by the report. Large shipping interests have had means to make researches of their own, and many of their agents have visited Washington for this purpose.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Banquet to Noyes.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—One thousand of the best-known citizens of Washington tonight tendered a reception to Crosby S. Noyes, editor-in-chief of the Washington Evening Star, and known as the Nestor of journalism in this city. From out of town came 800 letters from editors, publishers, Senators and members of the House of Representatives and others congratulating the editor, now rounding out his seventy-ninth year, on his achievements. The President sent a personal message regretting his inability to be present, but extending to Noyes his congratulations.

Secretary to Canal Commission.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Dominie J. Murphy, Commissioner of Pensions under President Cleveland, today was tested by the Panama Canal Commissioners to be secretary of that body.

Thomas W. Haskins's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas W. Haskins of Los Angeles has been appointed assistant Chinese Secretary at the United States legation at Peking. Haskins is a native of Connecticut, and was educated at the University of California.

TO FINANCE NEW DUTCH CABLE.

BERLIN, June 7.—The Frankfurter Zeitung announces that a syndicate of German and Dutch capitalists has been organized for the financing of a cable from the Dutch island of Menado Tua, off the coast of Celebes, East Indies, to the island of Guam and thence to Shanghai. Through a connection with the American cable, it is intended to eliminate British influence over the German and Dutch cable business with East Asia. A company for laying the cable will be formed with a capital of $1,750,000, the German and Dutch governments giving large subsidies. It is also intended to issue a 4 per cent. loan of $1,875,000.

Serious Decrease in Birth Rate Leads to Raid Upon Australian Pill Shops.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Serious decrease in the birth rate throughout Australia and especially in New South Wales resulted in the appointment recently by the Governor of that State of a commission to inquire into causes. News of the commission's report was brought here today by C. Dudley Cooper, Australian commissioner to the St. Louis Fair, and member of the Federal Press Association, who arrived on the steamship Manuka from Sydney.

The commission made the report that the rate of decrease is absolutely alarming, and recommended the seizure of all preventatives in drug stores and absolute prohibition of the importation thereof. The seizure by the police took place the following day. The cause of the decline in the birth rate is set down to the unfortunate centralization of population in cities. Half the people of New South Wales live in Sydney, resulting in a lack of employment, so that people are unwilling to raise families for which they cannot provide.

A member of the New South Wales Cabinet, who is largely interested in a number of Sydney drug stores, got wind of the commission's recommendations in time to have all articles under the ban destroyed prior to the official inspection. The report of the commission caused great sensation in Australia.

British Mediterranean Squadron now Participates in Demonstration Off Tangier.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The following cablegram has been received at the State Department from Consul-general Gummeré at Tangier:

"Feast passed without disturbance. Situation unchanged. Awaiting reply from court."

A mail report from the consul general relative to the Perdicaris case, dated May 20, has also reached the State Department. The report speaks bitterly of the situation and says that there is no doubt that the kidnapping of Perdicaris, although he had been a public benefactor, was most popular with the Moors, who openly declared that this first incident will be followed by others of the kind. The whole country, the report says, appears to be seething with discontent and the government is almost powerless.

The consul general regards it of the utmost importance that a warship be sent. The Americans' standing in Morocco, he says, has not been one of importance, and the Moors have little or no regard for the United States or its representative, and consider that it is of little importance.

BRITISH SQUADRON SAILS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GIBRALTAR, June 7.—The British battleship Prince of Wales sailed today for Tangier, Morocco.

Later, the British Mediterranean squadron sailed and joined the American squadron. The Sultan has not yet answered the demands made for the release of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley. The reports concerning the treatment of prisoners continue to be favorable.

CALIFORNIA INCLUDED.

Seven Students of This State Eligible for Selection as Rhodes Scholars—Examiners' Report.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MONTREAL, June 7.—Dr. Harkin has received at McGill University the report of the Oxford examiners upon the papers of candidates examined April 13 and 14 throughout the United States and Canada which have no colleges affiliated with Oxford. Altogether, 120 candidates have passed and thus become eligible for selection as Rhodes scholars. They include:

California—Beverly S. Allen, William Critten, Monroe E. Detch, Henry B. Lewing, Farnham P. Griffith, Clinton K. Judy and William J. Musgrove.

MOTOR BOAT ASSOCIATION.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Forty-four leading users of motor boats have, at a meeting held here, formed the National Association of Engine Boat Members. Officers will be chosen at a later date. The association's present intention is to establish a bureau of information to bring forward the new improved method in construction, and to take such action as will be in the interests of its members as regards alcohol as fuel.

SANTA FE SCHEMES FOR FRUIT BUSINESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If not directly interested, the Santa Fé is believed to have inspired the organization of the Stewart Fruit Company, with a capital of $100,000, as part of the plans for competing with the Southern Pacific for a share of its deciduous fruit business of the Sacramento Valley. W. H. Stewart, president of the company, was, until recently, the Southern California representative of the California Fruit Agency, and R. E. Lyons, the company's vice-president, was connected with the distributors' combine, both of which organizations are closely allied with the Southern Pacific.

According to the best reports, the Stewart Fruit Company has extensive plans for establishing agencies throughout the Sacramento River district, and will contract to handle all the fruit it can get over the Santa Fé line into Chicago. In short, the creation of the company is looked upon as a fulfillment of the threat recently made by the Santa Fé that, within a month, it would seek representation in every shipping point north of San Francisco.

ESPEE'S NO. 6.

WILL RUN VIA STOCKTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Southern Pacific today announced that, beginning Sunday, train No 6, leaving here at 6 p.m., will go east by way of tSockton, instead of Benicia, as at present, which will make a difference of two hours in its arrival at Reno.

This will be the first time that the regular overland trains have run by way of Stockton since the Benicia route was established by the Southern Pacific Company.

HARRIMAN AND HILL.

CONFERRING FOR PEACE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The attorneys for James J. Hill and E. H. Harriman were in conference yesterday in an attempt to settle out of court the great battle for the possession of the Northern Pacific railroad. This conference was preceded by one held between Hill and Harriman personally at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. The two principals met late Monday, and were together for several hours. They refused to discuss the new situation, or to confirm or deny the reports concerning what had taken place at the meeting.

It was with difficulty that the two men were induced by mutual friends to talk the matter over calmly. Each feels so strongly over the attitude taken by the other that at first neither would consent to a meeting.

Before going into conference, Harriman made no concessions, but agreed to listen to any reasons Hill might advance for modifying his demand. Hill, on his part, agreed to nothing more than that he would consider what Harriman had to say.

In this frame of mind the two met, and, without witnesses, talked the matter over. Not even their closest associates know all that was said. They only know that much was said, and that the discussion was long and ardent and without apparent ill-feeling. The definite result was the meeting of their attorneys today.

Persons close to the two leaders felt today that it was a long step toward settlement, if the two men could even discuss the matter quietly.

POLITICAL.

TO NOMINATE FAIRBANKS.

Wolcott Will Propose Him for the Vice-Presidency.

George A. Knight to Make a Seconding Speech.

Overwhelming Victory in Oregon—Judeg Gray.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All doubt about the candidacy of United Senator Fairbanks of Indiana for the Republican nomination for Vice-President at the Chicago convention has been removed by the announcement here today that former United States Senator Wolcott of Colorado has been invited to make the speech in the Chicago convention placing Senator Fairbanks in nomination. Wolcott has received this invitation from men who were authorized by Senator Fairbanks to extend it.

Ex-Senator Wolcott has been selected to nominate Senator Fairbanks for two reasons. One is that he is an orator of great power, and the other is he comes from a State that will be called early in the list of States, so that Senator Fairbanks will undoubtedly be placed in nomination before any other candidate for Vice-President. Senator Beveridge of Indiana has been invited to make a speech seconding the nomination of Senator Fairbanks, and has accepted. George A. Knight of San Francisco will also second the nomination in one of his whirlwin speeches like he made at the Philadelphia convention four years ago, when he seconded the nomination of McKinley for President.

VICTORY OVERWHELMING.

RETURNS FROM OREGON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 7.—That the Republican party in this State scored an overwhelming victory yesterday is being made more apparent as the count progresses. Returns from isolated counties are coming in slowly, but those already received show that, like the more populous districts, the vote was strongly for the Republican Congressoinal nominees.

Congressman Binger Herrmann has been reelected from the First District by a majority of about seven thousand, while J. N. Williamson, the nominee in the Second District, rolled up a majority of 10,000, and later returns may swell this estimate somewhat.

The next Legislature will be Republican by a good majority, and Republicans were elected to most of the country offices.

Returns from the interior are steadily increasing the vote for "local option," and, although some of the cities and larger towns voted against the measure, it is probable that it will carry with a good majority.

PARTIAL RETURNS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 7.—The count of the vote cast yesterday in the election held throughout Oregon is proceeding slowly, and it will be two or three days before the exact result is known. At midnight tonight not a single complete county has been received from any one of the thirty-three counties in the State.

In the Congressional race, at that hour, incomplete returns from nine counties out of sixteen in the First District show Hermann (Rep.) 13,265, Veatch (Dem.) 10,188. These counties in 1902 gave Tongue (Rep.) 15,226, Weatherford (Dem.) 10,709.

In the Second District, incomplete returns from five counties give Williamson (Rep.) 7278, Simmons (Dem.) 4079. The same counties in 1902 gave Williamson (Rep.) 6928 Butcher (Dem.) 5257.

For Supreme Judge, incomplete returns from thirteen counties give Moore (Rep.) 19,436, O'Day (Dem.) 11,709. The same counties, in 1902, gave Bean (Rep.) 21,964, Bonbam (Dem.) 15,767.

Practically complete returns from Multnomah county are: Congressman, Williamson, 10,493; Simmons, 3525. This county in 1902 gave Williamson, 9277; Butcher (Dem.,) 5075; Supreme Judge, Moore (Rep.) 11,221, O'Day (Dem.) 4092. The county in 1902 gave Bean (Rep.) 10,501, Bonbam (Dem.) 4862.

TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The President today received the following telegram from H. W. Scott, proprietor of the Oregonian, dated Portland, Or., June 7: "It is 20,000; not less, perhaps more—Oregon's tribute to you."

DELEGATES AGREED UPON.

COLORADO DEMOCRATS CONVENE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) June 7.—The State Democratic Convention to select ten delegates to the national convention at St. Louis met here at 10 o'clock this morning. In all probability, the delegation will be uninstructed, but considerable Hearst sympathy is manifested. Milton Smith of Denver will be permanent chairman, and Charles J. Hughes, Jr., of Denver will be temporary chairman, while the delegates agreed upon last night are ex-Gov. Charles S. Thomas, Charles J. Hughes, Jr., Senator H. M. Teller, H. E. Insley, State Senator Charles B. Ward, ex-Gov. Alva Adams, Judge J. H. Voorhees, Judge William P. Seeds, George E. West and J. H. Robeson or Judge Theron Stevens.

A resolution was adopted in caucus last night strongly denouncing the outrage at Cripple Creek yesterday.

HEARST TURNED DOWN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PUSBLO (Colo.) June 7.—The Democrats of Colorado today named delegates to the national convention. The delegation goes uninstructed. The Hearst people captured the caucus held by the Second District delegates, but when they attempted to pass a resolution instructing for Hearst through the convention, it was turned down by a vote of 379 to 108.

The platfor mindorses the Kansas City platform of 1900 and instructs the delegates to use all honorable means to secure a platform in harmony therewith. Strong resolutions commending William J. Bryan were adopted.

JOHN R. M'LEAN ASPIRES.

SEEKS VICE-PRESIDENCY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John R. McLean of Ohio is an active candidate for the nomination for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket, and conferences between Democratic big wigs in New York and Washington in the last week have been more for the purpose of getting up a movement for him than any other purpose.

McLean, in addition to owning the Cincinnati Enquirer and other important Ohio properties, owns nearly all of the street railways, gas and electric lights and other public utilities in Washington. He owns, jointly with the Rockefeller interests, the control of the Riggs Bank here, and also owns one hotel and two residences in the District of Columbia.

SANDHILL OF SENTIMENT.

DEMOCRATS DUSTY-EYED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the Democratic National Convention draws near, the situation in that party relative to who will be nominated for President becomes more involved, rather than crystallizing around any one candidate. Hearst's gain in Illinois, Idaho and Colorado this week indicates plainly that he will be second in the number of votes on the first ballot at St. Louis, Parker being in the lead, but without sufficient number to give him the promise of eventually obtaining the nomination.

The uninstructed delegations, with the Hearst delegation, will really be in control of the convention, if they act together against Parker, and present indications are that this is just what is likely to happen. Convinced that Hearst cannot be nominated, Democratic leaders now are courting his aid in their plans for Judge Parker.

A friend of Senator Gorman explained recently that Gorman started out in the canvass to block Hearst's candidacy, but he had no intention at that time, or has now, to bring about Parker's nomination, on the other hand, and make David B. Hill the Poobah of the national Democracy.

A Democrat who held a prominent position in his party organization was asked to say what, in his opinion, was at the bottom of the recent conference between Senator Gorman, Col. Jim Guffey, Charles F. Murphy of Tammany, James Smith of New Jersey and other Democrats, in New York.

"Well," he replied, "I think they are determined to prevent Parker's nomination, if possible. They are all antagonistic to Hill, and that has given them common ground on which to act. They are dangling George B. McClellan before the anti-Parker delegations, and even before those who, without some appearance of opposition, would espouse the Parker cause. They have no real intention, however, of urging McClellan's nomination when they get to the convention. Who will their candidate be, then? Well, that is a poser. What's the matter with Grover Cleveland?"

SENATORIAL VACANCY.

KEYSTONE LEADERS CONFER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) June 7.—A conference to determine whether the Senatorial vacancy created by Senator Quay's death shall be filled by appointment or by an extra session of the Legislature was held tonight at the Executive Mansion between Gov. Pennypacker, United States Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham, who control the situation. The Governor spent several hours today examining the law on the subject, and it is thought he reached a decision and will announce it soon.

The opinion still prevails here that an extra session of the new Legislature will be held next September for the election of a Senator and that the Governor is in perfect accord with the Republican State leaders. George L. Oliver informed the State leaders and the Governor that he did not wish his name to be considered in connection with the Senatorship.

INSTRUCTED FOR JUDGE GRAY.

IURIST'S WISHES DISREGARDED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DOVER (Del.) June 7.—Contrary to the expressed wish of Judge George Gray, the Delaware Democratic State Convention, by a unanimous vote, today instructed its delegates to the St. Louis Convention to present the name of Judge Gray to the convention as the choice of the Delaware Democracy for the Presidency and to work for his nomination.

This action was taken after one of the most stormy conventions ever held in the State. The leader of the opposition to the Gray nomination was former United States Senator Kenny, who was opposed to the word "instruct." He offered a resolution that the delegates be "requested" to place Judge Gray's name before the national convention.

The fight between the Gray and the anti-Gray factions became so bitter that the former paid no attention to Judge Gray's letter in which he asked that the delegates be not instructed. They fought to defeat Kenny and would not listen to anything that his supporters offered.

Judge Gray's letter expressed his great anxiety for harmony in the Democratic party this year and held that the Democratic National Convention should be left free to select as the candidate for President the strongest and most available man. He therefore requested that the delegates selected to represent Delaware Democrats at the St. Louis Convention be not bound by instructions.

FIGHT ON IN KENTUCKY.

DEMOCRATS MEET TODAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) June 7.—The Kentucky Democrats will hold their State convention tomorrow for the purpose of naming delegates-at-large to the national convention at St. Louis and to elect State Central and State Legislative Committeemen.

Though the delegates are rather apathetic as regards the Presidential race, and are particularly certain to vote for an uninstructed delegation to the national convention, the contest for the control of the party machinery promises to develop into one of the hardest fights seen in recent years. On one side are arrayed Gov. Beckham and the administration forces, supporting Lewis McQuown of Bowling Green for chairman of the State Central Committee. Opposing them is what is known as the "anti-machine" element, led by United States Senator Blackburn and Congressman D. H. Smith, supporting Congressman J. N. Kehoe for chairman of the State Central Committee.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

AT SAN FRANCISCO, JUNE 18.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The Republican State Central Committee will meet in San Francisco June 18, to fix the time and name the place for holding the State convention to nominate Presidential electors. It is practically settled that the convention will consist of 734 delegates, the apportionment being the same as that which applied to the recent convention, which assembled in Sacramento and elected delegates to the Chicago convention.

It is very nearly settled that the next California convention of the party will meet in Santa Cruz, August 25. At the same time, several of the Congress, and quite a number of the Senate district conventions will assemble in this city. It is said that the Republicans will include in the list of nominations to be made, the office of one associate justice of the Supreme Court.

In all probability, the State and district conventions of the Democratic party, will be held in the latter part of August.

Island Democrats for Hearst.

HONOLULU, June 6.—The Territorial Democratic Convention, after a long discussion today, instructed the Hawaiian delegation to the national convention at St. Louis to vote for Congressman W. R. Hearst for President. The vote was nearly unanimous.

SEEKS DIVORCE.

Phipps Would Sever Bonds of Matrimony but Those Bearing Dividends He Wants Back.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER, June 7.—Attorney Gerald Hughes has filed in the district court a suit for divorce brought by Laurence C. Phipps, son of the millionaire steel manufacturer of Pittsburgh, against Genevieve Chandler Phipps. So far as can be learned, no co-respondent is mentioned in the bill. An injunction is brought, however, it is said, to restrain J. P. Morgan & Co., the United States Steel Corporation and the United States Trust Company from paying to Mrs. Phipps further dividends upon stock and bonds formerly held by her husband, but now in her possession.

TO SETTLE THE DISPUTE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Negotiations are known to be under way here with a view of settling the dispute between Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Phipps, which resulted last Friday in the carrying-off to Denver by Phipps of the two children who had been in the custody of their mother at a hotel here. Protracted conference with this end in view has been held at the home of Henry Phipps.

MRS. PHIPPS'S STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Mrs. Lawrence Phipps, through her attorney, today gave out a statement concerning the recent removal by her husband of their children without her knowledge from a hotel in this city. Mrs. Phipps says that she was about to undergo a surgical operation and desired the presence of her children in what might prove to be the last hour of her life, and that it was not her purpose to take the children from Phipps. She says that it is due to Phipps to say that the statement that she was bound and gagged in her room at the hotel when the children were taken is untrue. She declines to state the cause of the differences which she says have existed between her husband and herself for several years.

TOMBS FOR NAN.

Suspected Slayer of Bookmaker Young Up on Habeas Corpus and Then Back to Cell.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Mrs. Nan Patterson, held in the Tombs Prison in connection with the mysterious death of "Caesar" Young, the bookmaker, was today taken before Justice Clarke of the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus. Coroner Brown produced a copy of the affidavit on which the woman is held by the Coroner. Attorney Unger demurred to the return. He said that a Coroner had no power to imprison a person accused of crime before the inquest unless the person were not in custody.

Assistant- Dist.-Atty. Sandford said it would be a great pleasure to the Coroner if he could discharge the woman, but he could not, under a pure question of law; the information had been laid before him that a crime had been committed. He said that the woman was the only one who was near the dead man. He asked the court to dismiss the writ.

Justice Clarke took the papers, and said he would give his decision at the earliest possible hour. The prisoner was then taken back to the Tombs.

Detectives at work on the shooting of Young, are slowly tracing the history of the revolver, which caused his death. It may have been purchased in San Francisco. It was manufactured in Springfield, Mass., bore the factory number 75,950, was purchased by a firm here, and sold by them in 1898 or 1899. The firm's records for those years have been destroyed, but the dealers express belief that the revolver was among a lot shipped to San Francisco. Four of the persons directly connected with the tragedy are well-known in San Francisco.

NEEDLE IN HAYSTACK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Although it is believed in New York that the revolver, which caused the death of "Caesar" Young was purchased in this city, the local police force has not yet been asked to assist in securing evidence regarding it. Capt. of Detectives Martin, however, has begun an investigation which he already convinced him that it will be almost impossible to discover from whom the pistol was bought.

Submarine Torpedo Boat Fulton Goes to Bottom of Ocean Off Newport.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) June 7.—The submarine torpedo boat Fulton, which was sunk to the bottom of the ocean last night for a test, remained there exactly twelve hours, coming up at 11:30 o'clock today. The men were on duty in watches of two hours each, the remainder of the time being spent in reading, playing games and sleeping. All the members of the crew were in good condition today and appeared to have rested well.

By order of the trial board, fresh air was pumped in every four hours. Naval Constructor Woodward said this afternoon that the test was in every way satisfactory. Hitherto only six men have gone below for a length of time, but on the Fulton there were nine men and they could have stayed in the boat under water ten days without coming to the surface.

TAKEN FROM COFFIN ALIVE.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Custer, S. D., says that after lying thirty-six hours in her coffin, Mabel Fearing, the seven-year-old daughter of C. M. Fearing has been revived. The child was saved through the intervention of Dr. E. Norton, a relative who was at the house to attend the funeral. Dr. Norton noticed the rosy cheeks and unchanged appearance of the child and refused to permit the coffin to be closed. He called other physicians and an effort was made to revive the child. At last signs of returning animation were noted. Half an hour later, the stethoscope indicated a return of the heart action. An hour later, the child was sleeping in the arms of its mother. With proper care, the child will soon be in an advanced convalescent stage.

Engineers Have Had Time of Their Lives.

Adjourned Last Night for Two Years.

Impressive Ceremony During Closing Hours.

With a mighty cheer, which shook the rafters of Turner Hall, the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers adjourned at 6:39 last evening to meet at Memphis, Tenn., on the second Wednesday in May, 1906. The largest number of delegates were present at this meeting in the history of the organization, more business was transacted and the engineers had "the time of their lives." They will now quietly slip away, bearing with them most pleasant recollections of Los Angeles and its hospitality.

It was a full day for the boys, and they worked steadily from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6:30 in the evening, the large number of reports and resolutions being swept aside in quick, decisive action. Most of the morning was devoted to the final report of the executive committee and a supplementary report on salaries and bills. A long report of the Committee on Thanks was read by Second Grand Engineer J. C. Curry, the report being in a measure a resume of all the courtesies which have been extended to the brotherhood during its stay in this city. No one was forgotten.

After the report of the committee on work which deals with the changes in the ritual, secret grips and passwords, the installation of officers took place. Delos Everett, T.G.E., the eloquent old veteran of the order, who has held his present office since 1887, and who, prior to that time, was Grand Chaplain for many years, performed the impressive ceremony of placing the yokes of honor about the necks of the grand officers. Each one was received with a storm of applause, and each made a short, serious speech, expressing gratitude and high-minded aspirations for the future of the brotherhood.

Grand Chaplain G. R. Dority then led the men in prayer, and made a fervent appeal which dimmed the eyes of more than one. The meeting was declared adjourned, and the happy engineers poured forth into the street with a shout of joy.

BENSON IN COURT.

California Millionaire Landowner Held on Warrant of Removal in New York.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—John A. Benson, the California millionaire landholder, was held today on a warrant of removal by United States Commissioner Shields. The indictment charges that Benson and Frederick A. Hyde, the latter also of California, conspired fraudulently to obtain title to certain reserve lands in California and Oregon.

At the hearing, the defense placed in evidence the deeds and patent issued by the States of California and Oregon to the land Benson and Hyde are accused of securing, showing that the property, many thousands of acres in extent, was acquired more than three years prior to the date of the indictment. Evidence was also introduced by the defence to show that the special agents of the Land Office were instructed to publish in California and Oregon newspapers the boundaries of the proposed forest land reserves. This evidence was put in to answer the charge in the indictment that the defendant had conspired to bribe the agents of the Interior Department to learn the location of these reserve lands.

Benson was surrendered by his bondsmen and a writ of habeas corpus was secured from Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court. The writ raises a new jurisdictional question and alleges that the statute of limitations prevents the United States from alleging fraud, after three years have elapsed from the date of filing title deeds. Benson was released on $10,000 bonds, pending argument on the writ of habeas corpus.

ELECT DIRECTORS.

Parrott Silver and Copper Company has no Injunction Against It. Statement Issued.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUTTE (Mont.) June 7.—The Parrott Silver and Copper Company held its regular meeting of the stockholders today. Out of the total of 230,000 shares capital stock, 182,725 shares were represented and the following board of directors was elected: Charles H. Dickey, Charles D. Burrage, Sydney Chase, Arthur W. Bemis, Richard D. Willard, Edward G. Storey and John D. Ryan.

This was the first meeting of the stockholders of the Parrott Company in which they had the power of electing directors since June 1900. At all previous meetings since that date they were compelled to pass the election of directors and adjourn by reason of injunctions against the company. Regarding a question propounded by certain stockholders regarding the suspension of dividends, Ryan, managing director of the Amalgamated properties in Montana, prepared a statement in which he says:

"As soon as it became evident that the high price of copper was not to continue it was necessary to suspend dividends entirely, but it is said that the company will, at an early date, be enabled to resume the payment of dividends."

Form Organization to Be Known as Music Trades Association of Los Angeles.

An organization to be known as the Music Trades Association of Los Angeles was formed last night at a meeting in the Blanchard building, and the following officers were elected: J. L. A. Brodersen, president; E. L. Doe, treasurer; Harry E. Dean, secretary. The board of directors includes R. W. Heffelfinger, C. L. Lindberg, E. L. Durrant and H. R. Parker.

The association is composed of proprietors, managers and salesmen of small goods and sheet music houses in the city, banded together for the purpose of furthering the interests of the trade.

Trade conditions, it is said, will be carefully analyzed and methods suggested that will tend to serve the best interests of the employer and the public.

The headquarters of the organization will be in the Blanchard building, and the secretary can be found at the Bartlett Music Company went to union headquarters and overturned everything in an effort to find the union records. Their efforts were unavailing.

All of the injured in the accident at Independence and the rioting in Victor are reported doing well. No definite clew, it is understood, has been obtained through the bloodhounds which were started on the trail of the persons who placed the infernal machine under the police station at Independence. While the tension is tightly drawn, and the whole district has taken sides in the bitter feeling existing between the Mine Owners Association and the unionists, it is thought that a clash will be averted, for the reason that most, if not all, of the union leaders are in durance. The streets of this city are constantly patrolled by citizens and soldiers.

GOV. PEABODY RETURNING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 7.—Gov. Peabody of Colorado left for Colorado today at 2:15 p.m. over the Burlington route. Up to the time of his departure, the Governor received various telegrams from the Colorado authorities, apprising him of the situation in the disturbed districts. Before his departure the Governor said: "Telegrams received today show that the situation at Victor is very much improved, and that comparative quiet is maintained. The Lieutenant-Governor has the situation well in hand, but I have deemed it best to return at once, in case other complications should arise."

CONDITIONS STILL VOLCANIC.

VIGILANTES IN TELLER COUNTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) June 7.—After a night of terror comparative peace prevails throughout this great gold camp today, but conditions are still of a volcanic nature, and nobody believes that the trouble is yet ended. Fifteen deaths have resulted from the dynamite outrage at Independence, and several of the injured are in a critical condition. Two men were killed and eight wounded in the subsequent rioting in Victor. The following is a list of the casualties in the rioting:

Killed:
ROXY M'GEE.
JOHN DAVIS.
Wounded:
J. A. REED.
JOE FINDLEY.
FIRE CHIEF MURPHY.
PETER CHRISMAN.
FRED STUDEBAUGH.
PETER CALDERWOOD.
ARTHUR PARKER.
JAMES M'KELVEY.

A thoroughly-organized Vigilance Committee, composed of mine owners and their employés and sympathizers, has taken charge of the government of Teller county, and large squads of armed men are patrolling the district. These men are ostensibly acting under orders of Edward Bell, the new Sheriff, who is a large property owner and an outspoken opponent of the miners' union.

Sheriff Henry M. Robertson resigned under compulsion. He was forcibly taken to the headquarters of the Mine Owners' Association, and his resignation demanded. At first he refused to resign, but when finally a coil of rope was thrown at his feet he weakened and signed the resignation, which had been prepared for him.

The first act of Sheriff Bell was to take away the star of Under Sheriff J. K. Burton. Then he appointed twenty-five deputies, to which force large additions have since been made, and later he disarmed the union officers who had been appointed by City Marshal Michael O'Connell of Victor. Meantime O'Connell had visited the mine owners' headquarters, in which about thirty armed men were assembled, and demanded that they surrender their arms to him. He was forcibly ejected, and after being deposed from office by Mayor French he was placed under arrest. Many of the other regularly-chosen peace officers of the various towns in the district have also been deposed, and some of them locked up with about two hundred union miners, who were arrested after the rioting in Victor.

PURGE THE DISTRICT.

The sentiment of the mine owners, as voiced by C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association, is that all union miners must be driven out of the camp. His declaration that the time had come to "purge the district," started the rioting at the mass meeting in Victor, which was called to discuss the dynamite outrage at Independence.

"It's up to you to drive these scoundrels out," Hamlin had declared, whereupon William F. Miller, a union man, who had been sworn in as a deputy sheriff, raised his rifle and inquired: "Whom are you referring to?" Miller's rifle was seized, and the shooting began, which resulted in the killing of Roxy McGee, a non-union miner, and the wounding of six other persons, one of whom, John Davis, a union miner, died a few hours later.

The first shot was fired by someone in the crowd. This was followed immediately by two rifle shots from windows of the Miners' Union Hall. A man standing on the roof of a store, it is said, also fired into the crowd with a repeating shotgun.

UNION QUARTERS RAIDED.

Sheriff Bell called on the local company of the State Guard, commanded by Capt. Harry G. Moore, to assist in preserving order, and in arresting the men in the Union Hall. Soldiers were stationed on the roofs of buildings opposite the hall, and from this point of vantage fired into the door and windows of the hall. A scattering fire was kept up by both sides for twenty minutes, at the end of which time the miners surrendered. Only three were wounded, Calderwood, Parker and McKelvey, who were found in the hall, and there were no casualities in the attacking party. The uninjured men in the hall, sixty in number, were placed under arrest, and all books and documents of the union were seized.

During the night further arrests were made in Victor, Goldfield and Independence. The union stores in Victor and Goldfield were wrecked and the stocks scattered in the streets by a mob. This was not countenanced by Sheriff Bell or others in authority. Among those taken prisoner was Editor George Kyner of the Victor Record, but he was subsequently released.

TRAILING DYNAMITE FIEND.

A bloodhound brought from Trinidad took the trail of the fiend who exploded the dynamite at Independence and followed it from Bull Hill to the Colorado Springs wagon road. Detective Robert Sterling of the Mine Owners' Association declared that he was convinced that he knew who caused the deadly explosion.

Virgil King, a union leader, and fifteen others arrested in Cripple Creek today, have been taken to Victor for deportation. A well-grounded rumor is to the effect that a large number of union miners working on the Portland will be arrested. The building owned and occupied by Miners' Union No. 40, in Cripple Creek, is in charge of the militia. The large front windows have been demolished and the big sign of the Western Federation of Miners torn down.

City Marshal W. J. Graham was forced to resign by a citizens' committee headed by E. C. Newcomb, cashier of the First National Bank. Charles N. Crowder was appointed by the City Council, which convened at once to confirm him. Justice of the Peace C. E. Harrington, said to be a union sympathizer, heard that the committee was to wait on him, and tendered his resignation before the committee could see him. County Judge Albert S. Frost is out of the city, but it is said he will be asked to resign as soon as he arrives here, and so will Frank P. Mannix, County Clerk and Recorder. Both are attending the Democratic convention in Pueblo. It is further reported that Assistant District Attorney J. C. Cole, who is very much disliked by mine owners and members of the Citizens' Alliance, will be compelled to relinquish his office. All office holders whose resignations have been demanded have furnished them when threatened with hanging.

ONE THOUSAND DEPUTIES.

It was estimated at 4 o'clock this afternoon that 1000 deputies had been sworn in by Sheriff Bell. The Victor Record was censored by a special committee appointed by the Sheriff before publication was permitted today.

Several boys, playing in the neighborhood of the hole made by the explosion at Independence, today, found a portion of a cheaply-made British bulldog revolver. The weapon contained only one shell, and when taken to the office of the Citizens' Alliance it was regarded as conclusive proof that the dynamite was set off in the fashion similar to the giant powder in the Vindicator mine.

The bloodhounds in charge of Hugo Pfalmer of Trinidad today traced the assassin who killed the miners to a mile beyond Clyde station, a distance of twelve miles. There the scent was completely lost. It is believed by the detectives working on the case that the assassin took a buggy at the place where the scent was lost, and proceeded along the old stage road to Colorado Springs. The Coroner's jury visited the scene of the explosion this morning, after which an adjournment was taken until 2 p.m., tomorrow, at which time the taking of evidence will begin.

TWO INJURED DIE.

Two more names were added today to the list of those killed by the Independence dynamiting. They are George S. Henderson and Fred Buckley. It is believed that the bodies of several others were blown to atoms, and that the remains are in the mass of flesh and bones at the bottom of the hole made by the tremendous charge of dynamite.

At 11 o'clock a detachment of twenty-five deputy sheriffs arrived at Elkton, and rounded up about a dozen union miners. A little later another detachment of twenty-five visited Independence, and at about the same time a detachment of fifty was going through the town of Anaconda.

INTERVIEW WITH WILLIAMS.

UNION LEADER MAKES EXCUSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—The News today prints the following interview with Vice-President Williams of the Western Federation of Miners, who is acting in the capacity of president during Moyer's imprisonment in the military "bull pen" at Telluride:

"The troubles at Cripple Creek—the riot and disturbances there are simply an attempt to disrupt the union and bring the strike to a close.

"It is my candid opinion that the Citizens' Alliance, an organization that is and always has been bitterly hostile to the unions, is at the bottom of this attempt to break the strike by a display of violence.

"The opinion among the miners is that the Citizens' Alliance is afraid that the committee that has just returned from Cripple Creek may have produced good results by its visit. It is to break the strike and discredit the unions that the disturbances of yesterday were started.

"News dispatches contain references to the mass-meeting that was in progress when the trouble originated. My own opinion is that this meeting was called by Mr. Hamlin of the Mine Owners' Association, ostensibly to give an opportunity for free and fair consideration for matters involved in the strike, but that, as a matter of fact, the 'scabs' employed in the mines were to play the part of miners. Then, when a union man attempted to speak, he was to be shot down.

"As for the Citizens' Alliance, its members are absolutely unfair, and pay no attention to law and order. This was brought out in the Telluride strikes, when miners were driven out and many forms of violence put into effect to defeat the strike. This whole matter came up in a manner that appears very peculiar. Just after the visit of our committee, when the strike was progressing satisfactorily, and during the Governor's absence, the trouble springs up. There are few soldiers in the district. The Citizens' Alliance, absolutely unfair, will resort to anything. Such outrages do not occur during the presence of the military, who are responsible to someone besides themselves.

"Our organization is founded on the principles of truth, and its members are as much interested as other persons in suppressing lawlessness. Whoever committed the dastardly crime at Independence must be found and punished, and we want to put ourselves on record as helping to bring that about."

THE TWO BELLS.

Adjt.-Gen. Bell remained in his office at the Capitol here until a late hour last night, expecting a call for troops from Cripple Creek, but none came. The fact that Sheriff Bell, the successor of the deposed Teller county official, has expressed a determination to handle the situation without the aid of the troops other than the local companies, gives assurance to many that the citizens of the camp have offered him all the assistance necessary to meet the conditions, and that the trouble will be brought to an end by sheer force of pluck. Sheriff Bell is known as a man of nerve, and this was demonstrated when he compelled the deputies appointed by the deposed City Marshal of Victor to surrender their commissions and guns to him personally. No attempt is being made by the so-called vigilantes and the new police officers to interfere with the crowds, who congregate on the streets, and although nearly everyone is carrying arms unconcealed, Sheriff Bell and his deputies and the soldiers mingle freely among them, searching for persons upon whose arrest they are bent.

All citizens of the district, union and non-union sympathizers alike, unite in condemning the atrocity which caused such appalling loss of life and property and precipitated a condition in the district a little short of anarchy.

MAINE UNIONS ORGANIZE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

AUGUSTA (Me.) June 7.—Delegates from Maine unions, assembled in this city for the purpose of organizing a State Federation of Labor, adopted a constitution and passed resolutions bearing upon the Colorado miners' troubles and other subjects. The resolutions condemned violence in times of strikes and the use of dynamite, and urged that the conditions in Colorado should be given the utmost publicity. It was set forth that the present condition of lawlessness in Colorado was due to the Mine Owners' Association and capitalists causing a reign of military despotism. The delegates pledged themselves to purchase only union-label clothing.

Unexpected Happens.

"The coffee that my mother used to make," began the young husband, as he slowly sipped the steaming beverage, "was——"

"Oh, of course," interrupted the bride of a week, who had not read comic journals in vain, "it was the best ever."

"No, my dear," continued hubby, "it was on the bum. I never drank any equal to this."

Whereupon her wifelets promptly fainted.—[Chicago News.

BOB BURDETTE'S PASS.

He Forgot He had It and West Pointers at St. Louis Missed a Serious Speech.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Post Dispatch this evening says:

"Rev. 'Bob' Burdette played a clever joke on himself Sunday afternoon, and did not tell about it until today. Sunday afternoon, after the banquet to the press humorists Saturday night, Burdette had an engagement to give a serious speech before the West Point cadets at Le Hall of Congresses of the fair. He left his easy chair at the Inside Inn and started confidently for the gate. The guard stopped him.

"'No admittance without a special pass,' said the guard.

"'But I have an engagement to make a speech,' replied Burdette.

"'Engagement don't go without a pass.'

"Burdette argued and pleaded vainly, finally returning to the hotel. A short while afterward, a delegation of West Point cadets came to learn why he had not appeared. He explained, and the cadets took the matter up with the guard. The result was the same again. Burdette went back to the easy chair, while the cadets marched back to the Hall of Congresses to explain why there would be no speech. About 6 o'clock, Burdette found the pass in his pocket.

On Old Lines.

"Arrah, you're lookin' very sad!" said Pat O'Hallihan, addressing his friend Denis the other day.

"Oi feel sad!" responded Denis. "Oi've lost my mother-in-law. I tell you it's hard to lost your mother-in-law!"

"Hard!" exclaimed Pat. "B'gorrah, its almost impossible!"—[Chicago News.

Missed a Chance.

The commercial traveler turned in his expense account for the trip. There was this item in it:

"One day at St. Louis, $15."

"Is that all it cost you?" asked the head of the firm, in surprise.

Then the commercial traveler went out and kicked himself.—[Chicago Tribune.

World's Fair

Are you going to the World's Fair dressed in a fashion that will do credit to California, or are you going like ordinary mortals from ordinary places?

Remember you're sure to meet Bill Jones who used to live at the Cross Roads, and he is going to tell the folks back home what you wear from neck-tie to shoes, and Sam Pumpkin that courted Hiram Johnson's sister, he will be there, and so will Tommy Smith, the druggist who sold you fishing hooks and toothache drops, long years ago.

They'll all be there so you'd better watch out.

Don't you know how old Mrs. Perkins used to say that you were cut out for a black sheep and would never have a five cent piece of your own? And are you going to let the boys go back and tell her that your hat was rusty, your shirt out-of-date, and your suit simply unspeakable?

Dress up! Do the high step act for the old folks. Be the man that can't be passed in the crowd.

World's Fair wearables are supplied at Silverwood's even to your trunk and hand bag. Comfort and style and right prices.

The consistency and worth of this custom has been well shown in the influence wielded by the little State of Maine's famous delegation in Congress.

J. E. McComas: I am decidedly a Bard man, first, last and all the time. He's an old-time Californian and I honor him. He stands well, has many friends in the State and has proved himself a good United States Senator.

P. J. Dreher: You can't emphasize too strongly my approval of Senator Bard and admiration for him. I am emphatically and unequivocally for him and think he is working great good f r us. Hope for his reelectio , it will mean much to the best interests of Southern California.

George B. Phillips: I warmly indorse Senator Bard's record and would like to see him returned.

E. S. Gerling: I think Bard is O. K. and has rendered us good service. Let's return him.

Charles E. Walker: I am thoroughly satisfied with Senator Bard's administration. Believe him to be a conscientious, capable man.

F. A. Molyneaux: I am for Senator Bard strong, and so are all fruit growers, so far as I know them in this county. People in this district will stand by the men who do as they want them to do, and Bard has certainly served us well. Let's reward him with reelection.

Sidney M. Haskell: Senator Bard is a man of unimpeachable character, and has made an enviable record during his term in the Senate, where he is already recognized as one of the most influential members. He was not a machine candidate, he was the people's choice. The machine does not want him today, but I believe he is the people's choice and that the people will stand for Bard as solidly as they will stand for Roosevelt.

GOES WITHOUT SAYING.
THE VETERANS FOR BARD.

SOLDIERS' HOME, June 7.—That the current of opinion among the veterans favors the return of Mr. Bard to the United States Senate goes without saying.

Maj. T. J. Cochrane, treasurer of the branch, says: "My association with him for a number of years were close, and of a nature to justify my belief that Mr. Bard, both as to capacity and manhood, is the first citizen of the State of California. There is no doubt in my mind that Senator Bard is the proper man to succeed himself."

Capt. J. Howard Young, late inspector of the home, says: "I heartily indorse the proposition to return Thomas R. Bard to the United States Senate. The splendid work he has done guarantees the fulfillment of future interests of the people, and entitles him to the first consideration of his constituency. Besides which, having served the past term, he is better equipped by experience to carry to a conclusion matters that are pending, than would be a new man. He should certainly be returned."

Capt. Francis McCourt, Second National Precinct: By all means send Bard back to the Senate. In addition to his faithful labors for constituents at large, he has been especially helpful in measures pertaining to the home. For honest, upright and efficient service give me Thomas R. Bard.

Capt. L. M. Lambert, Fourth National Precinct: Bard should unquestionably be returned to the Senate. His competent conduct of matters pertaining to this section of the State during the session just closed established his ability as a legislator and proved his fidelity to the people whom he represented.

E. J. Moore, chief clerk in treasurer's office: I am certainly in favor of the return of Mr. Bard to the United States Senate. The good work he has already done inspires every one with confidence in his ability to further public affairs when placed in his hands. Upright and efficient—there can be no better representative than Thomas R. Bard.

Maj. E. L. French, Sixth National Precinct: Of course Mr. Bard must be returned to the Senate. When a man has shown, as has Mr. Bard, his ability to represent the great State of California in the Senate, I not only see no reason for change, but believe the only proper thing to do is to return him.

IN HOLLYWOOD.
RECORD THAT COUNTS.

HOLLYWOOD, June 7.—Seldom is a name other than Bard heard mentioned here for United States Senator.

C. P. Rischell says: "Senator Bard is the man who should be returned to the United States Senate."

City Clerk E. R. Walker: Senator Bard is my choice for Senator.

F. M. Chaffee: Senator Bard is a staunch Republican and should be returned to the United States Senate.

George H. Dunlop, City Trustee: Our next Senator should be a man who is selected because of his services to the State and his demonstrated fitness, not because he is willing to pay for a personal honor.

Philo J. Beveridge: Thomas R. Bard has made a splendid Senator, a credit to the State. He ought to be reelected.

Joseph F. Gross: Thomas R. Bard is a Senator for the people. We cannot do better than to reflect him.

J. Eugene Law, cashier Bank of Hollywood: I am for the man with a record, one we know will work for the best interests of the people.

Paul de Longpré: I think we cannot make a better choice than Senator Bard.

H. K. Vickroy: I am in favor of Senator Bard. Keep the good men in office as long as we can.

SAFE MAN TO TRUST.
POINTERS FROM ALHAMBRA.

ALHAMBRA, June 7.—The following expressions concerning the United States Senatorship and Senator Bard are by representative Republicans of Alhambra and vicinity:

J. A. Green, banker and broker: I am for Bard because I consider him a clean, honest and able man, about whom there is no criticism, except, perhaps, that he does not give "the glad hand" to grafters. He makes no fuss, but can be depended upon by his constituents. He has done much work in Congress that others have been given credit for. Senator Bard is a safe man, and we can trust him.

T. J. Stuart, manager Associated Charities: Senator Bard is a man of unblemished private and public character, something very rare in men who reach high public position. He is also a living example of a principle in politics that should be encouraged. He is an able, clean cut, model man, and one that can be trusted. I think it would be very unwise to exchange him for an uncertainty.

R. F. Bishop, Alhambra Water Company, and orange grower: Senator Bard stands for a principle in politics that should be promoted. He is able, above criticism and true to the core. He is recognized at Washington as a man of sound ideas and has the interests of his constituents at heart. He should bereturned to the Senate by all means.

E. E. Bailey, orange grower and shipper: I see no reason why Senator Bard is not a good man to "tie to." He has made a good record, and, I think that the policy of the office seeking the man is an innovation that should be encouraged. Put me down for Bard every time.

A. C. Weeks, orange grower: I admire Senator Bard for the course he takes regarding political office. It cannot but have a good effect upon the party and the public generally. He is also a faithful public servant and should be called to serve another term at least in the United States Senate. He is a good man; a safe man.

S. D. Crow, merchant: We have tried Bard and found that he is not wanting. He can be depended upon to look out for California's interests without fear or favor. He is a good, safe, business Senator, and it would be poor policy to make a change at this time.

S. W. Champion, retired mine owner, orange grower: I have heard no criticism of Senator Bard's first term as United States Senator, and many compliments. In such cases I always believe in giving public officers a second term, believing that they are not only worthy of the same personally, but that they can do better service for the public by having had the previous experience.

M. U. Butterbaugh, liveryman: I have for some years thought that there was too much political machinery used for getting men into public office and that the "engineers" in charge asked too much for their services. I have felt that we might get along with less machinery and without the "engineers" at all. As Senator Bard seems to embody this principle, and is a good, safe man, I certainly favor his return to the United States Senate.

Dr. D. E. Lane, physician: I think Senator Bard is the right man in the right place and should be kept there. He is a capable and a clean man, and I am heartily in favor of the policy pursued by him in regard to office. Such a principle is worthy of public commendation and support.

SANTA ANA INDORSES
CONFIDENCE IN THE SENATOR.

SANTA ANA, June 7.—Sentiment in Santa Ana and vicinity in regard to the United States Senatorship, so far as crystallized and expressed, is unqualifiedly in indorsement of Senator Thomas R. Bard, and almost without a dissenting voice in favor of his return for a second term. This expression comes alike from politicians and business and professional men, who find in Bard's record as a man and Senator, the qualities that lead them to place confidence in him as their representative. Following are expressions on the subject:

M. M. Crookshank, president First National Bank: I am favorable to Senator Bard's reelection and think him the only logical candidate in the field for the office. His past record entitles him to another term.

Hon. E. T. Langley: Senator Bard by all means should be returned to the Senate. He is a man of wide experience, of mature years, emphatically a Californian with all his interests centered here, and therefore with the best interests of the State at heart. He has served the people for one term in a most acceptable manner, and we owe it to him to return him; and likewise owe it to ourselves as a protection to our own welfare.

Dr. J. L. Dryer: Senator Bard represents the best and cleanest element in politics, and I am heartily in favor of his reelection for a second term.

John Beatty, Jr., secretary City Board of Education: As between Oxnard and Bard there is no question but that Bard is the man to be sent to the Senate, for the reason, if no other, that Oxnard is a Southern Pacific man, and Bard is independent.

W. M. Scott, president Abstract and Title Guaranty Company: Personally I feel very favorable to Senator Bard and think he should be accorded a second term. The office sought him in the first place, and he is in every way worthy of it.

Capt. J. H. Hall, County Auditor: Senator Bard is a safe, honest and conservative man, a thorough gentleman. I like his manner of letting the people choose for themselves, and, in my opinion, he is the only logical candidate thus far announced.

Rev. B. C. Cory, pastor First Methodist Episcopal Church: I have known Mr. Bard personally for many years and think he is the proper man for the place. I was glad when he was first selected, and think he should by all means be rejurned. He is a good, honest man, and a fearless, able Senator.

H. McPhee, editor Evening Blade: The way Senator Bard stood by Southern California in the face of the wonderfully strong influence brought to bear upon him, reflects credit upon him as a man and as a Republican. His record in the Senate as the advocate of the greatest interest of Southern California, the citrus fruit industry, cannot be too highly commended by any man who has at heart the development and progress of Southern California. His record has been such that under no circumstances would I oppose his return.

W. H. Spurgeon: Altough a Democrat, I can say that Senator Bard's record has been a first-class one, and without disparagement to any of the other candidates in the field I think he is the best man yet announced for the place.

Col. J. A. Booty: I am a Democrat, and of course, think that the best man for Senator is a Democrat, but in my judgment, Senator Bard is the best Republican you can send, and, of course, a Republican will be elected.

Dr. R. A. Cushman: I think the Bard sentiment in Orange county is in the ascendancy.

C. D. Lester, County Clerk: Bard is a safe and honest man and ought to be returned for a second term.

U. C. Holderman, Tustin, Supervisor Fifth District: Senator Bard's business abilities as displayed in his first term should without question be enough to warrant sending him back for a second time. The added prestige of a second term should deter us from making a new man to the Senate when Senator Bard has proven himself so capable in office.

Dr. F. M. Bruner: I am very much in favor of Senator Bard's reelection. He is a man politically nearly my ideal. He has taken the attitude that the office must seek the man, and, although this is not good policy, according to the catechism of the machine, it is upright politics, and is more approved by the best people than to get an office by force. Besides that, Bard has been absolutely unapproachable by corruptionists and machine men, and for that reason has brought upon himself the hatred of these same machine men, who want to elect the man they have put in the field because he will be subservient to their wishes.

George L. Wright, City Trustee, Second Ward: Senator Bard is my choice. He has accomplished much for Southern California, and with his experience already gained, should accomplish much more in a second term.

Dr. C. D. Ball: Senator Bard is entled to a second term from past faithful service.

W. G. Potter, County Treasurer: I am in favor of Bard, and always have been The advantage he has of having been already one term in the Senate is too great to be overlooked, and the experience gained in his first term will be of direct benefit to his constituency if he is reelected.

F. P. Nickey, president of Chamber of Commerce: Senator Bard is my sort of a man. I like the way he is letting the office seek him. It is undoubtedly the better plan to let the people have a chance to express their preference for a candidate than to let the "sack" do its work. I think he should be returned for a second term.

DUTY TO STATE.
TROPICO CITIZENS' IDEA.

TROPICO, June 7.—Prominent Republicans and others of this vicinity heartily indorse the reelection of Hon. Thomas R. Bard.

Hon. W. C. B. Richardson: As true and loyal citizens we owe it to our grand State to return Senator Thomas Bard to Washington.

A. W. Collins: I strongly favor the return of Senator Bard to the United States Senate.

D. H. Imler: Senator Bard has been a faithful representative of California's interests—why not return him?

John Hobbs: Senator Thomas R. Bard by all means. Think the State would be the loser were he not elected.

B. L. West: Senator Thomas R. Bard is my choice; none better.

Otto P. Snyder, Lfelong Democrat: Senator Bard has done much for the West and served California faithfully and well, and I favor his reelection.

J. Arthur Logan: Am not a Republican, but intend voting the Republican ticket this fall for a clean administration, and trust to see Senator Bard returned to the Senate.

R. Z. Imler: Bard's record has been a clean one, his interest in California unswerving and his reelection would please me.

W. A. Thompson: I want to see Senator Bard returned to the Senate. He is the kind of man that California needs.

FRUIT GROWERS' FRIEND.
WHY THEY FAVOR BARD.

SAN DIMAS, June 7.—Assemblyman W. A. Johnstone said today: "I am very favorably disposed toward Senator Bard. His sturdy stand for what he believed to be the interest of the orange and lemon growers of California on the reciprocity treaty should not be forgotten. He is essentially a representative of the people. So far as I understand it, at this time, the people of the Sixty-eighth District desire his reelection. If I am elected to represent it, I shall, of course, act according to the will of the distdict in this matter."

D. C. Teague president San Dimas Citrus Union: I am strongly in favor of Senator Baid and the people throughout this district want Bard. He has proved to be an honest statesman, having the interests of his constituents at heart; it would be folly to send an untried man in his place.

S. F. Owen, lending La Verne orchardist: I am heartily for Senator Bard. He has been alert to the best interests of the State and should be returned for another term.

L. C. Meredith, La Verne fruit grower, treasurer San Dimas Lemon Association: I think we have been well served by Senator Bard, his record is clean and honorable, and he should be returned; he is better qualified to represent the people than Oxnard is.

J. F. Cumberland, La Verne farmer: I would support Senator Bard. He is a man of character and ability, a man who has served his people faithfully and well. It is safe to continue in office a man who is not politically wire pulling. Bard's action shows that he is a safer man than one who is seeking the office.

AT CORONA.
BARD SENTIMENT.

CORONA, June 7.—Among representative Corona citizens, the trend of sentiment is unanimously in favor of Senator Thomas R. Bard.

W. H. Jameson: I feel and think people in Corona and Riverside county generally feel that Senator Bard has made a most successful Senator, attentive to business and fearless, one that will do everything he can for the interests of his constituents. We cannot afford to change.

T. P. Drinkwater: I think the State Legislature will make no mistake in selecting Thomas Bard as United States Senator Bard has shown himself to be a man of rare ability and true to the interests of the State of California.

I. N. Seares: I am in favor of Bard. He is the best man for the place.

M. Terpening, cashier Citizens' Bank: Senator Bard is my choice, and in my opinion should receive the undivided support of the Republican party.

D. M. Browning: I believe Senator Bard has served the people fairly and wisely, and has the indorsement of the masses. He is regarded as a perfectly safe and thoroughly reliable representative and should be elected to succeed himself.

FIRST FOR BARD.
RIVERSIDE COUNTY'S STAND.

RIVERSIDE, June 7.—The sentiment in Riverside, among both politicians and business men, is strongly in favor of Senator Bard. Riverside county was the pioneer in declaring for Bard's second term, instructing the nominee for the Assembly to "support Senator Bard as long as he is in the field." This expresses the almost unanimous sentiment of the county, and makes the position and desires of Riverside county Republicans clear. Following are individual expressions:

I. A. Witherspoon, City Treasurer: I am a Bard man. Of course Oxnard is backed by barrels of money, but it is not always money that wins. I think Bard is the candidate who will win the race, and he deserves it.

H. W. Hammond: Bard's all right. He is the man we want.

W. A. Purrington, City Attorney: My preference is for Mr. Bard, if he will accept the office. I do not think anything the less of Mr. Bard that he doesn't use the usual political methods to gain the office.

Capt. W. B. Johnson, ex-Sheriff: For what I have seen of his work and what I don't know about the other candidates, I am for Bard. I believe he is an honest man in the place, and I think his interest is for Southern California.

Stanley J. Castleman, cashier First National Bank: I admire Senator Bard because I think he is a man of his convictions, and I think he will do what is right, irrespective of party interests and politics. I think a man who will do that can't go far wrong in the performance of his public duties.

G. A. Skinner, Esq.: My sentiments are for Bard from top to bottom. We've too few such men as Bard—we can't afford to lose him.

D. W. Lewis, Riverside Title & Trust Co.: Senator Bard is a good, safe man who has opinions of his own. My idea of a representative is a man who has opinions of his own rather than one who takes them all from his constituents, and who will give expression to them independent of what people think.

Dr. C. S. Dickson, County Coroner: I am satisfied with Senator Bard. I think it is the thing to do, when we have a man whom we know is right, to keep him. I like the attitude he took on the Statehood proposition, and his position with regard to the canal and many other public questions of importance. He is a man who has made a success of his own business affairs, and is therefore a good man to do other people's business.

H. C. Hibbard, Justice of the Peace: I am unqualifiedly for Mr. Bard, first, last and always. I think he has been straightforward and business-like, and deserves a return.

Dr. E. B. Howe: I am very much in favor of Bard, very much indeed. We know that he has been a first class Senator and has done good work for the State, and I say, let us return him.

W. F. Montague, County Assessor: I have always favored Bard, and do now.

W. M. Peck, Esq: I am a great admirer of Senator Bard and feel that he has made a splendid record in the Senate. California can do no better than return him again.

Dan V. Noland, Esq: I am for Bard heartily and sincerely. His public record is enough to recommend him for his return.

William Collier, Esq.: In performing my duties as special attorney for the Mission Indians of Southern California, I have had opportunity to know personally of the patient industry and conscientious efforts of Senator Bard as a member of the Committee on Indian Affairs. I admire the high plane upon which he stands as a candidate. If all men who are willing and capable of entering the public service, would adopt for themselves his high standard, the public service in all its departments would be greatly improved.

NO OPPOSITION.
SAN BERNARDINO INDIRSES.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 7.—The people of San Bernardino generally are strong in their sentiments for the return of Bard to the United States Senate. It is difficult to find those who oppose him, either among the Republican ranks or in the Democracy. Among the Republicans his indorsement appears unanimous.

R. C. Harbison, editor of the Sun, says: Now and then the Republican party has a plain duty to perform, and it seems to me that the reelection of Senator Bards falls within that limit. The strength of a Senator in Washington is, first of all, based on his acquaintance and experience, and the sooner California learns the lesson of returning Senators and Congressmen, rather than sending a substitute every time there is an election, the sooner will our delegation there take rank for what it ought to be worth. We cannot afford to make a change, when there is nothing to be gained, and a good deal to be lost.

Earl F. Van Leuven, manager San Bernardino County Fruit Exchange: I believe Mr. Bard should be returned to the Senate. His record has been one of hard work and self-denial in the interests of his constituents. The welfare of the State, and especially of Southern California, has been his watchword, and I, with thousands of other citizens, Democrat and Republican alike, heartily believe he should receive the nomination.

Joseph Israel, dry goods merchant, southern Democrat and McKinley Republican: I would advocate Bard's return to the Senate if only for the reason that I do not approve of changing our representatives at Washington every six years. But aside from this, Senator Bard has done a giant's work for Southern California, and the experience he has gained in the council chambers of the nation makes him a most valuable man. The best interests of the State, not alone of Southern California, make his return necessary, and the people owe it to him as a mark of appreciation for his valiant efforts in their behalf.

G. A. Atwood: Senator Bard is a man of lofty principles, a gentleman in the best sense of the term, and coupled with his acknowledged ability, he has worked faithfully for the advancement of the interests of the State, winning an enviable record. I believe he should be renominated and sent back to the Capitol with such a rousing majority as to fitly express the appreciation that we as a State should feel for his good work and marked success.

A. G. Kendall, cashier San Bernardino Savings Bank: I hardly believe the people of the State fully realize and appreciate the amount of work Senator Bard has done, especially for Southern California. It will take years for them to fully realize the scope of his success and his capability. I believe he should be returned to the Senate. He is now in touch with all our interests, and recognized as one of the leaders in the Senate. Bard has proven a strong man, and should receive the indorsement of the whole people.

T. B. Duckworth, Esq., leading Democrat: While I am a Democrat, nevertheless I believe when it comes to indorsing a faithful public servant who has shown that he holds the public welfare at heart, and is found capable, we should indorse him. This is my position with respect to Senator Bard. He has fought for Southern California first, last and all the time, and has accomplished much for this State. He should be returned to the Senate, and he will go back with a riper acquaintance with the work than any other man the people might select.

W. L. Vestal: I favor the reelection of Senator Bard because I believe him to be capable, honest and thoroughly devoted to the interests of all California, and especially those of Southern California. I further believe his position and influence in the Senate now commands the respect and confidence of his fellow members, and that this will be increased by his reelection and further experience.

W. C. Wagner, County Treasurer: I indorse Mr. Bard, and believe the best interests of his constituency will be served by his nomination and election. No new man can hope to serve the State as he can do. Senator Bard has won a good record, and has served the State well. His experience will stand the people of Southern California, and the whole State, in good stead during the next six years, when it will be found that our interests will need an experienced representative, perhaps, as never before.

Notice of Meeting of Stockholders.

Office of LOS ANGELES GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY, No. 345 South Hill Street, Los Angeles, California, April 8th, 1904.

Notice is hereby given, that, pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors of LOS ANGELES GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY, a corporation, adopted on the 8th day of April, 1904, at a meeting of said Board, duly held at the office of said Company, in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, on the 8th day April, 1904, all the members of said Board being present, a meeting of the stockholders of said Corporation will be held at the office and principal place of business of said Corporation, to wit: in the building on the west side of South Hill Street, between Third and Seventh Streets, in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, known as No. 345 South Hill Street, said building being the building where the Board of Directors of said Corporation usually meet, and in the room in said building where the stockholders of said Corporation usually meet, on Wednesday, the 18th day of June, 1904, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the object and purpose of there and then considering and voting upon a proposal to execute a bonded indebtedness of said Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, in the sum of Four Million Dollars, payable in United States gold coin, and to secure the payment of said indebtedness as proposed to be created by a mortgage upon or deed of trust of all the property of said Corporation now owned or hereafter to be acquired by it, and during the life or term of said mortgage or deed of trust.

By Order of the Board of Directors.
LOS ANGELES GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY,
By R. M. ADAMS, Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., May 26, 1904. Sealed proposals, in duplicate, will be received at the office of the United States Reclamation Service, at Reno, Nevada, until 2 o'clock p.m., July 25, 1904, for the construction of about 27 miles of main distributing canals, involving about 1,500,000 cubic yards of earthwork, with diverting dam, regulating gates, spillways, falls, weirs and bridges, for the diversion and conveyance of about 1000 cubic feet of water per second from Carson River at a point about 4 miles west of Lovelville, Nevada, to irrigable lands in Carson Sink Valley. Bids will be received (A) Excavation and embankment for one or more divisions or all the work. (B) Headworks. (C) Falls, spillways, weirs, lateral headgates, and pipe drains. (D) Highway bridges. Specifications, forms of proposal and particulars may be obtained after May 25, 1904, by application to L. H. Taylor, Reno, Nevada, and to the Chief Engineer of the Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., at whose offices the plans may be inspected. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1000, payable to the Secretary of the Interior, as a guaranty that the bidders will, if awarded the work, execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bond in the sum of 25 per cent. for the faithful performance of the work. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, to waive technical defects, or to accept one part of a bid and reject the other, as the interest of the service may require. Proposals must be marked "Proposals for Distributing Canals at Truckee-Carson Project, Nevada." Bidders are invited to be present. THOS. RYAN, Acting [illegible]

SHAKE-UP AT THE NORMAL.

Two More Changes in Faculty are Announced.

Seniors now Sorry That They Sent Out Petition.

Uneasiness Pervading Whole Institution.

Just as the Normal School people were beginning to breathe easily again, thinking that the shake-up was over, it broke loose afresh yesterday.

More heads went off in the faculty; some new people were put in.

Miss Kate Brousseau, who is now traveling in Europe, was replaced as teacher of physchology and pedagogy by Miss Jessie Allen, who has a doctor's degree from the University of Chicago and is highly recommended by Prof. John Dewey, one of the most talented men in the educational world.

The chair of biology, which has been held by Prof. B. M. Davis, resigned, has been filled by the appointment of Dr. Robson Miller, who has done special research at the University of California. Both of these announcements were made yesterday.

It is rumored among the uneasy Normal school faculty that the end is not yet.

Those who protested against the action of Prof. Small have accepted the last changes in dumb silence. The truth is the senior class is now about to graduate, and that it made a mistake in signing and publishing a petition for Small's reinstatement, addressed to the Normal board.

Some of the members of the class said yesterday: "I don't say it was a mistake, but I say it may have been. We never intended to get in such a position. We simply wished to show Prof. Small that we liked him and that we appreciated what he had done for us while he was here. We never intended to try to dictate to him in any things. We felt hurt when the faculty said that we were trying to dictate to the board. We never were. We never say we wish we hadn't done it. We only say that maybe if we had it to do over again, we wouldn't do it."

Mr. Melville Dozier writes a letter to the Times in behalf of the members of the senior class, and their evident intentions. He says that, in his letter the word "mutiny" was unwarrantably applied by The Times to the action of the class.

No language could be further from the truth than that which imputes such motive to the class," he says, adding: "The spirit of the student body is and has ever been one of true devotion to the highest interests of the school, of loyalty for and obedience to the constituted authorities, and of a dignified self-respect and propriety of deportment in all that pertains to student life. In the exercise of the unquestioned right of petition, the class should have made the mistake of publishing their petition before submitting it to the body to whom it was addressed, or of seeking advice from older heads, the reason why their motives have been impugned.

The pride of their zeal for one whom they hold as a scholarly man and a wise instructor is a spirit to be encouraged in student life, not condemned.

If this manifestation of that zeal appears to be unwisely directed, as in the case among more mature minds, but certainly the proper course is not by harsh and unjust publication, and I trust you will do me and the school a simple act in publishing this brief vindication.

"We have intended disrespect to no one, which the phraseology of the petition is sufficient evidence.

"Prof. E. J. Louis said that in the address to members of the class complaints will be tolerated.

"Meantime the senior class, I trust, will mix in no more, is preparing for exercises.

"Exercises will begin Friday, June 17, with a reception at the Women's Club house to the Senior A Class by the Senior B Class.

"The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at St. Paul's Church by Rev. Dr. Gray.

"On June 21, the class-day exercises will take place at the Normal School, which there will be a reception to families and friends.

"There will be commencement day, June 22, taking place at the Normal School assembly hall, with an address by Judge W. A. Cheney. There will be no essays. After the exercises will be a reception.

MRS. STULL LOSES CASE AND DAUGHTER.

FOLLOWING a sensational scene in a lawyer's office where she went into hysterics, Mrs. Gertrude Stull lost her lawsuit yesterday, and her daughter in the bargain.

Mrs. Gertrude Stull is the mother of the young lady, Celeste Schiedt, who, Mrs. Stull told the papers, was stolen by a bogus Spanish count and a gang of criminals.

Although Mrs. Stull claimed finally, that, if it wasn't a gang of bogus counts, but it was a gang of lawyers trying to keep her daughter from testifying in her lawsuit, she did not call the girl to the stand yesterday.

She gave her own testimony in the office of Harris & Harris in a preliminary deposition.

While they were cross-examining her pretty sharply, she suddenly gave a whoop and went off into hysterics. The lawyers looked appealingly at the young lady stenographer, but she only sat and gently smiled and did not go to Mrs. Stull, so they decided to enjoy Mrs. Stull's hysterics in quietude.

"This is worse than the sixteenth century," she screamed. "In the Middle Ages, all they did was to tear girls limb from limb; now they lure them away from home to their ruin."

Mrs. Stull was on the witness stand yesterday in the Superior Court. She was hard pressed again and asked meaningly, "Do you want me to have another fainting fit?"

"Certainly not," said the lawyer in alarm.

Mrs. Stull came into court with two lawyers, Messrs. Wellman and Moot. When the court asked her if they were to represent her, she replied: "No, sir. I represent myself. They will advise me."

Fancy the torture of the lawyers later when they saw the case going against them, and the court would not let them say a word. Moot got up and went out in disgust. Finally Mrs. Stull said that Wellman might do a little talking and he argued her case.

Judge Conrey gave judgment in favor of A. S. Koyer, the plaintiff. He ruled that Mrs. Stull is entitled to $1150 out of the mortgaged property of which she claims the whole. This is what has been offered to her many times. The court ruled that her claim is second lien on the property. She claimed the whole property because she had been given a deed to secure her mortgage and gave back an agreement that was she was holding the property forher interest.

She has been hanging around the court for months over this suit, acting as her own lawyer. During the taking of the deposition, she sprung a legal technicality that a deposition can't be taken before a notary and witnesses be compelled to testify unless they want to.

"We are sorry, Mrs. Stull," replied one of the lawyers gallantly, "but the Supreme Court has decided the other way and we feel compelled to follow the Supreme Court in this matter."

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Concert.

Well done more for local music than Le Behymer, and last night a number of local artists made their appearance at the Mason Opera House before a good-sized audience at a testimonial concert.

The program has such an array of talent been gathered as in the past has segregated upon the Main street of them were those who had hard during the past season entertainments, and have made many a perpleasant and profitable. Much derived after the box-office had been squared up, in addition of a booklet advertising Los Angeles. This was two destinations, one at the other at the Millwhere it is hoped sufficiently strong local secure the next Saengerfest for Angeles.

The list of numbers was offered with attention last night. Few were of encores, and none of applause. Most especially commended is the work of Mr. Tanner, soprano; Forrest Isham, and Peje Storck. The three artists won immense of musical knowledge have delighted any of those who have visited the past winter.

Mr. Tanner of course be classed since she hails from Denver possessed of a soprano voice of exquisite clearness and with almost crystalline in its owner wished to display some passages, it does with in robust phrase, or the bowels of tender sentiSinger is a singer of rare seems to have thorough attention in her interpre-

Richard Wolfram's "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser," the Prologue to "Pagliacci," responded to several encores, followed by his splendid use of a rich voice, powerful and vibrating with dramatic feeling.

Peje Storck again demonstrated that he is a master of the pianoforte. His technique, while not sensational nor full of hand-throwing and hair-raising effects, seems to grow between appearances in its quiet strength. Harry Clifford Lott, baritone, whose fine rendition of the role of Arminius, won him hosts of friends, was included on the programme, as was Roland Paul, tenor, and others.

The full programme follows: Max's Aria from "Der Freischutz" (Weber,) Johan Haae-Zinck; "Variations" (Beethoven,) Peje Storck; "Millom Rosor" (Grieg,) Marthine M. Dietrichson; "Early One Morning" (Old English,) "My Love, Nell" (Old Irish,) "Shepherd See Thy Horse's Foaming Mane" (Oley Speaks,) Harry Clifford Lott; "Mignon" (Thomas,) Mrs. Otis Spencer; "Onaway, Awake, Beloved" (Coleridge Taylor,) Roland Paul; "O Thou Sublime, Sweet Evening Star" ("Tannhauser") (Wagner,) Forrest Dabney Carr; "Variations," E Flat, Minor, for two pianos (Christian Sliding,) Miss Alice Coleman, Julius Albert Jahn; "Eit Syn" (Grieg,) Marthine M. Dietrichson; Prologue, "Il Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo,) Forrest Dabney Carr; group of songs, "Si Mes Vers Avaint des Ailes" (Hahn,) "Si J'etais Jardinier" (Chaminade,) "Thy Name" (Mary Knight Wood,) Mrs. Otis Spencer; "Etude De Concert" (Neupert,) "Tausend Und Eine Nacht" (Strauss-Goldstein,) Peje Storck; "A Woodland Serenade" (Mascheront,) Roland Paul; "Fantasia" from "Ernani" (Verdi,) Ethel Lucretia Olcott; (a) "Romance, G Major" (Beethoven,) (b) "Danse Espagnole" (Sarasate,) Oscar Werner.

CRUEL JOKE ON JEALOUS LOVER.

SENT FIFTY MILES ON A WILD GOOSE CHASE.

Threatens to Kill His Inamorata Rather than See Her the Bride of Another—Instead He is Arrested for Killing a Horse—Town of Bisbee Has Narrow Escape.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) June 5.—Jealousy, aggravated by a practical joke, has brought trouble in large quantity upon the shoulders of Thomas Lovin, a Clifton barkeeper. He was generally known to be smitten with the charms of a maid who lived near Solomonville, over the mountains, about fifty miles distant. So one of Lovin's supposititious friends considered it a bit of pleasantry to tell him that the young woman was to be married at her home the following day. The girl's sister, who happened to be in Clifton, was induced to repeat the statement to Lovin, who thereupon swore an oath to kill his inamorata rather than allow her to marry another man. He hired a livery team forthwith and started for Solomonville. Telephone messages from along the road told that Lovin had passed, standing in the buggy and lashing the horses at a gallop. A point thirty-five miles from Clifton was made in two and a quarter hours. The owners of the team telephoned Sheriff Parks at Solomonville to arrest the madman. The Sheriff met Lovin ten miles out from Solomonville. One of the horses was dead and the other had dropped from exhaustion. What Lovin said when told it was all a "joke" has not been transmitted. He was taken back to Clifton and charged with felony in his abuse of the team.

A Great Council for Arizona of the Independent Order of Red Men has been organized in Tucson, with representation from twenty-five tribes, with a membership of 1000. The chief officers elected were: Great Sachem, John W. Mullen, Bisbee; Great Sagamores, Wiley E. Jones, Safford, and John A. Waters, McCabe; Great Chief of Records, P. J. Farley, Prescott. Thomas G. Harrison of Indianapolis, Great Incohonee of the order, was installing officer. Pima Tribe of Tucson acted as host and provided many features of social interest and diversion for the delegates and visitors.

A DISLOCATED NECK.

Thursday James W. Fleenor fell twenty-five feet to the ground from the top of the new gallows frame of the Gardner shaft below Bisbee. His neck was dislocated by the fall, and recovery is believed impossible.

Philip Jordan died at Douglas yesterday from injuries received while trying to board a moving train on the Southwestern road. He came to his death while on his way to Paradise Camp in the Chiricahue Mountains.

Bisbee is built upon irregular terraces, in many cases the front yard of one residence continuing as the earthen roof of the house next in front. The six-year-old son of Alos Balcolm yesterday tumbled down an embankment from the front of his own home into a path and sustained fatal injuries.

Willis Wood and "Kid" Fluker have been captured by Capt. Rynning of the Arizona Rangers and placed in jail at Nogales, charged with burglary and horse stealing. Wood was a near associate of Bert Alvord's. The two men have been chased by the rangers all over Northern Sonora. They were finally run down in eastern Cochise county.

George Ralls, owner of valuable mining property near Bisbee, left that place a few days ago, stating that he was going to Los Angeles. Two days later he was found by some miners insane and naked, in the hills near Pearce. He was captured only after a long pursuit and fierce fight. He was brought to Tucson, for commitment to the Territorial Asylum for the Insane.

BISBEE'S JEOPARDY.

The upsetting of a gasoline stove put the town of Bisbee in jeopardy last Tuesday, only a combination of the most fortunate circumstances saving a large part of the flimsily-built camp from being destroyed. An ample supply of water, with extra pressure on the mains supplied by the Copper Queen Company, and the sharpest of work by the local fire department, served to keep the flames from the great frame Kinsey house, and confined them to a small lodging-house, owned by Boston & Brown. The loss will not exceed $5000.

At the annual competitive drill of the University of Arizona cadets, Albert Buehman was awarded a medal as the best drilled cadet.

Clifton is to have a union high-school district.

The general merchandise house of A. S. Pierce at Douglas has gone into voluntary liquidation. The assets are scheduled at $17,000, and the liabilities at $12,000. There are no secured creditors.

Thomas J. Berkeley of Los Angeles president of the Southwestern Commercial Company, is in Bisbee, preparing to close up his company's mercantile business at Lowell.

A single veteran, "Dick" Hartman, decorated the graves of the old soldiers at Bisbee Monday, the flowers coming from Gov. Brodie at Phoenix. Hartman is the old soldier who presented a young bear to President Roosevelt on his visit to the Grand Canon last year.

TALKERS ARE BUSY.

Boomers of New Telephone System Invade Phoenix—Tonto Damsite Inspection.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 6.—Without warning, a scheme for an independent telephone system has been broken to the people of Phoenix. Solicitors are calling upon the business men, in an endeavor to get up a list of 500 telephones, at rates about three-fourths those now charged. The active manager of the new Phoenix Independent Telephone Company is H. M. Joy of Los Angeles. It is proposed to utilize a franchise held in the name of Jerry Millay, a local attorney. The system is to have nothing but full metallic circuits and the initial expenditure for installation is to be about $50,000. The promoters have entered into a combination with two independent telephone systems of the Territory, that of Frank Wright, with headquarters at Prescott, and of the Gila Valley Telephone Company, whose lines extend from Roosevelt, at the Tonto damsite, by way of Globe and the Gila Valley towns, to Clifton and Morenci.

F. H. Newell, chief engineer of the government reclamation service, is now at the Tonto Basin damsite, accompanied by Field Engineer L. C. Hill and President Fowler of the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association. They will return to Phoenix Friday. On Friday evening it is proposed to tender Mr. Newell a public reception.

Dr. F. C. Dolley has filed a claim for a flow of 5000 inches of the water of the Gila River, to be diverted by means of a submerged dam at The Buttes, twelve miles above Florence.

Judge Kent has set aside the jury verdict in the case of Newsbolme against the Salt River Valley Canal Company, fixing the price of water at $3.25 an inch per annum, when paid by a farmer not a canal shareholder. In the judgment of the court, the award was not a reasonable one. For present emergencies, the court fixed a price of $1.25 an inch for summer water.

Insurance statistics develop the fact that Arizona last year drew $439,387 in death claims. Of this sum, $144,500 went to Phoenix beneficiaries, Tucson coming next, with benefits of $39,750. The largest payment was one of $29,456 to the heirs of Ernest W. Young of Phoenix.

Zach Booth, charged with the murder of a young sheepman named Berry in Tonto Basin last spring, has been taken to Globe for trial. He has been held in jail in Phoenix for fear of lynching if kept in Globe. It is believed that the case will be returned to this county for trial, on account of the bitterness existing around Globe between the cattlemen and sheepmen.

John Manning of Dudleyville, one of the most important witnesses in the prosecution of the Armstrong cattle-stealing cases at Florence, left his hotel in Florence Sunday night, on foot, and has not been seen since. It is feared that he became deranged and started across the desert plain for his ranch, sixty miles distant. His horse was left in the stable at Florence. Searching parties have been sent out.

Several months ago, George Stillman disappeared from Martinez, just before his marriage was to have occurred. Since that time several bodies picked up in the Colorado have been recognized as his, and several stories have come of his insanity and death at several points. The latest story, from apparently reliable sources, is that Stillman is in Los Angeles, very much alive and apparently in his right mind.

Policemen raided the banks of the town ditch last night for violators of the law prohibiting bathing in the canal. No less than forty-two offenders were rounded up.

Large timber fires are plainly to be seen of nights from Phoenix on the western slopes of the Four Peaks range, sixty miles east of this city. The underbrush on the mountains is about all dead, owing to the drought, and burns like tinder.

In the latest reclassification of postoffices, Phoenix, Tucson, Bisbee, Yuma, Clifton, Mesa, Globe and Winslow have each been raised one grade. Naco has dropped a grade, while Douglas has been advanced to the second class, with an increase of salary from $1700 to $2200.

Chaplain Winfield Scott, chancellor of the University of Arizona, has been advanced to the grade of major, retired, under the terms of a late act of Congress, providing that raise for army chaplains who served in the Civil War.

PRESENT LOVING CUP.

J. A. Brown was last night presented with a loving cup by the board of the Westlake Methodist Church in appreciation of the services rendered by him during the recent General Conference. The formal presentation was made by A. J. Wallace at the home of Dr. W. W. Beckett, No. 748 Ottawa street.

Keep the Body in Good Health

If the body is in good health, and the instincts of Nature are not suppressed, there is a proper proportion between the amount received and the amount passed out of the system. The very moment that such proportion is altered disease begins in all constitutions. Food daily eaten should furnish the nutriment for the support of the body and give aid to the bowels, enabling them to eliminate the useless material.

BOWEN & CHAMBERLIN'S
BOWEN & CHAMBERLIN'S
GO DOWN TODAY.
GO DOWN TODAY.

And take a look at Bowen & Chamberlin's Main and Figueroa-street tract. Take Redondo electric car to Figueroa st., walk one short block south to 42d st. Office and conveyance there to show the tract. Our guarantee goes with each lot that the tract will be put in A-1 condition as fast as teams can do it. They are working now on the street grading; you will see for yourself the way things are being done. The street will be graded, oiled, cement curbs and 5-foot sidewalks, which will be one foot wider than the majority of sidewalks. But, we are out to make our tract as attractive as possible; we will have ornamental pillars, with electric globes at each street corner, and we will allow no objectionable features to be placed on the tract; each lot has a 12-foot alley. No key lots and no cutting or backing up allowed. All houses to be restricted to be built on chart line and to cost not less than $1500. We have sold about 12 or 15 lots, which we consider a very good showing, owing to the fact that it has only been on the market one week. The tract looks very roads, owing to the work going forth, etc. But we feel sure you will make no mistake in selecting a lot of lots now, for we are quite sure of having the double tract down Figueroa st. to the city limits in the near future, and also the Main st. line (now called Moneta ave.) which will give us three electric lines past our tract, with only 12 or 15 minutes' run to business center and for driving, automobiles or bicycles, you cannot find better thoroughfares. Main st., paved to within 2 blocks of our tract, and Figueroa, the famous driving street, pass the tract on the west.

Our prices and terms we consider very reasonable, owing to the fact we are west of Main, and those owning tracts east of Main not so desirable are asking more for lots than in our tract, which we consider will advance much faster, as there is and always has been a better feeling for residence lots in the S.W. than the ones east of Main st. We would be pleased to have you call at our main office, 449 Douglas Bldg., where we have plats, diagrams, etc., of tract to show you, and a carriage, automobile or electric car is at your disposal, at our expense, to convey you to the tract.

TEXAS RICE CROP. Jonathan Lane of Houston, Tex., speaking before the Bankers' Association of Texas recently said:

"Three years ago there was but little rice grown in this State, and until the fall of 1902 there were only five rice mills in Texas.

"Last year from 175,000 to 200,000 acres were planted in rice, from which was harvested 1,750,000 to 2,000,000 barrels or say 8,000,000 bushels of grain, and we now have in the State seventeen rice mills and two more are being constructed. Under the proper conditions a crop like that of last year would yield to the farmer $6,000,000, to the mills $1,500,000, to the railroads $500,000, and to the banks $250,000. It would cost the farmers $4,000,000 to produce such a crop, the mills $750,000 to mill and dispose of it, the banks $25,000 to handle the business, the railroads $300,000 to transport it, thus leaving a net profit to the State of approximately $3,000,000.

"The crop for 1904, in my opinion, will be about what it was in 1903. It increased from nothing, practically, to $5,500,000 gross in three years, i.e. from 1901 to 1903, but from 1903 to 1904 it stands full or may even decrease."—[American Banker.

ZINC PRODUCTION. The production of zinc in 1902 was 525,000,000 pounds, the largest amount on record. For the twenty-one weeks ending Saturday the production was 216,361,420 pounds, or on an average of what it was in 1902. If the production keeps pace with what it has been in recent weeks, there is no doubt that this year's output will surpass the production of 1902, but this will depend upon how long before the reaction sets in. The United Zinc Company, one of the largest concerns in this line of business, is getting most satisfactory results from its output. The company's output last week was 644,560 pounds of zinc and 42,300 pounds of lead, setting it over $3500, the average amount it has been receiving per week for some weeks past. This company's earnings for the first quarter of 1904 were $30,000, but the earnings for the second quarter, namely that period ending June 30, are expected to be still greater than the first quarter.—[United States Investor.

Safe and Profitable

The most safe and the most profitable method of loaning or investing money is through the agency of the Trust Company. It is the most safe because the security taken in all cases is passed upon by the skilled officers of the Trust Company and is held subject to the order of the owner; the most profitable because the highest market rate of interest is obtained. Your funds are loaned direct to the borrower. You obtain the benefit of the interest rate paid by him.

A NEEDED REFORM. If the fruit growers of Ventura county, California, succeed in their projected organization, told of in our news dispatches this week, in doing something to make the price of fruit to consumers more equable with wholesale prices, they will set on foot a revolution that will have the greatest possible results. It is quite true, just as the Ventura dispatch says, that consumers are paying just as much today for products as they paid years ago, when these products were scare in the country. Indeed, one may go further, and say that, while wholesale prices have been falling for several years, on account of production increasing in greater ratio than population, the city grocers are constantly advancing their prices. Every season one can hear housekeepers complain that such and such a fruit or vegetable is higher than ever before.—[Fruit Trade Journal.

WALNUTS AND FRUITS. The walnut crop will be close to seven hundred cars this season, provided nothing occurs from this time forward to blight the crop. Everything points to a big crop now.

The dried-fruit crop looks promising at this time except in Northern California, where apricots are short. Peaches are going to be short. Apricots and peaches are cleaned up on spot stock now.

Prunes to the extent of about six hundred cars will be marketed against 1500 last year. The crop is about fair. Orange county is the banner producer of apricots this season, the crop going far ahead of previous years.

TEAS. Colones, Japans and standard Congous are running higher than a year ago. Standard Congou being quoted at 11c c.f. in Formosa. Local dealers are not buying heavily, awaiting a reaction.

OILS. All of the coal oil producers in this city are closed down except the British-Californian, Southern and Union Consolidated, owing to the demoralized markets in these products. The Puente and Standard being at war in the territory, oils are selling below profit-taking basis and most of the small fellows would prefer to see the war from a safe distance than enter the fray. Bakersfield having had their freight rate reduced 13 cents per barrel is now enabled to sell crude oil here so low that local well people are trying for business. The price is about 65 cents per barrel.

CITRUS MOVEMENT. Eighty-three cars of oranges went East on Sunday and Monday and twelve cars of lemons, making the grand total to date 23,645.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Eggs are firmer, local ranch being flat at 22c, with case count 18-19c. Eastern fresh 21c. Storage is receiving great quantities of these easterns daily.

Local red onions are being offered at 1.60@1.75 per hundred. Old onions are passing away very rapidly.

Bananas are getting somewhat firmer and hardly any dealer will sell good stock at less than 5%.

Twelve hundred odd boxes of all grades deciduous fruits made the dealers hustle yesterday. Apricots sold as low as 3½. Cherrie went to pieces on the morning market but stiffened up after noon when sales cleaned the receipts out.

Some beautiful Royal Ann cherries came in during the day and sold at 50@65 in the afternoon.

Berries are coming in quite as freely as before.

Chickens of all sizes, while not as plentiful as desired, are improving daily.

Valencias coming in quite freely are putting navels out of business. All of the dealers are going to quit navels this week. Valencias are bringing about 1.50 on the trees, which dealers seem to think exorbitant.

Young onions and lettuce are getting scarce and improving in price. Other vegetables plentiful.

Currants are being freely offered as low as 65c the box.

The new market building on Third and Central avenue will be open to the public on the 15th. There is some talk of having a gala time, with music and festivities. There is nothing to approach this market west of Kansas City.

On Thursday, June 9, at 3 p.m., will occur the annual meeting of the Produce Exchange to induct into office the newly elected directors, at which time new officers will be chosen for the year. Reports will be made and a fiscal report from the secretary will close the year's business. A full attendance is desired.

NEW YORK MARKETS.
SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—The professional contingent in the stock market started today with very discouraging views of the hopes of any activity in the market, or of any movement of prices. But the market turned out better in tone and distribution of business than was the case under the stimulating influence of yesterday's rise in Ontario and it would be difficult to fix a specific cause for this development, as no current news seemed to have little influence on the market. The weekly bulletin of the Weather Bureau proved rather more favorable than was expected on wheat, both the winter and spring crops, and the favorable progress of the cotton crop went to accentuate the effect of the government report of the June condition of that crop. The bulletin was less hopeful as to the corn crop, but the maturity of that crop is still so far distant as to detract from the importance attached to its present condition. Favorable progress for the crops is better calculated than any other development to settle the fluctuating opinions over the prospects of the country. Hope seemed to have superseded that the present lower plane of business and industry may be nevertheless on a firm basis, with reasonable assurance against a progressive decline to a target of panicky conditions. The rather constant ratio of the decline in railroad earnings goes to establish this feeling. A late recovery in Ontario and Western today produced more effect than others in the market than did Chesapeake & Ohio's more sensational advance, and the hindred coalers were especially affected. The market was still far from being a broad one, and was almost wholly in professional hands, so far as could be perceived. The personality of the brokers employed in the late buying conveyed an impression that some of the largest floating stocks were taking part. The sensational effect of the buying was thus enhanced. The money market was almost stagnant, and rates were inclined to droop though with little manner of offering at the present unattractive rates. Prices eased off in the final dealings, but the close was steady. The bond market was irregular, with weak spots in Pennsylvania and Reading issues. Total sales, par value, $1,715,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

University Club.

At the June dinner of the University Club Thursday evening, E. W. Camp will deliver an address upon the far eastern question, and after the close of the address the subject will be open for general discussion.

Afro-American State League.

It has been decided to hold the annual meeting of the Afro-American State League in Los Angeles. It will convene here about August 15, and continue four days. At least 100 delegates will be in attendance from all sections of the State.

Builders' Picnic.

The annual outing of the Builders' Exchange will take place June 16, in the form of a picnic at Santa Monica. Special electric cars will be boarded at 9 a.m., and a big lunch will be spread at the beach for the pleasure takers. Fully 300 persons are expected to turn out.

Count Bozenta Will Read.

At the next meeting of the Newman Club, which will be held on the 30th inst., Count Bozenta, husband of Mme. Modjeska, will read a paper on "The Outlook of the Russo-Japanese War." The relative attitudes of the Russians and the Japanese towards the Catholic church will be a phase of the subject discussed.

Cruelty to Horses.

Charles DeBois, a Canadian trader, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Humane Officer Zimmer on a charge of cruelty to animals. DuBois was found on Santa Fé avenue driving a pair of decrepit old horses attached to a wagon of the Daniel Boone type. The trader deposited $50 cash bail for his appearance in the Police Court.

Strikes Broken.

The strike of the gas and electric fixture workers, directed against the W. G. Hutchison Company and the Porve, Pettebone Company, is completely broken, and these employers have secured all the workmen they need on the open-shop basis. The places of the union carpenters who struck because of the presence of non-union workmen while constructing an additional building for the Los Angeles Stoneware Company, on the East Side, have been filled by non-union carpenters entirely.

Burning on Spring.

The ranting, leaping, religious zealots of the "Burning Bush" brand have removed their spiritual conflagration to the vacant corner of the old Van Nuys place, at Spring and Seventh streets, where they fan the flames in a big round tent. Their ghost dances and beatings about the bush became so objectionable to residents near their former location on Olive street, that the fanatics were forced to transplant their fiery plant to a less particular neighborhood.

Stable Rioter.

Leslie Dickerson, who was shot by Officer Sam MacKenzie during the riot at the Nevada stables May 26, was removed from the County Hospital to the Receiving Hospital last night, where he will be kept until his case is called in court. Dickerson is charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and it is alleged that he instigated and incited the trouble which culminated in the assault on Sergt. Harris, which was followed by an attack on MacKenzie, and the shooting. Although emaciated on account of his long confinement in the hospital, Dickerson is rapidly improving from the effects of his wound, and he will probably be out in a few days. No date for a hearing has been set.

Colored Mason's Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of the colored Masons is in session in this city. It convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Scott's Hall on Central avenue, and has an attendance of 120 delegates and officers. There are eleven lodges in this jurisdiction. Last night a reception to the delegates and a banquet was given by the local lodges in the hall. The address of welcome was given by W. H. Young, Worshipful Master of St. John's Lodge of this city, and the response was by C. A. Griffith, Deputy Grand Master of San Francisco. Tonight an entertainment will be given the visitors in Odd Fellows' Hall, at Eighth and Wall streets. The Grand Lodge will close its session on Thursday evening.

Cemetery Affra.

Some person in passing through the old city cemetery Monday afternoon, threw a lighted cigarette into a pile of branches trimmed from the pepper trees, and in a few moments there was a lively fire that threatened serious damage. The wind was blowing a stiff breeze, and the fire swept along the heavy dried grass until it caught in the fences along the north side of the cemetery. Just the other side was stored about thirty tons of hay, and this, with the closely built sheds and stables gave opportunity for a nasty fire. Jerry Remsen, the park watchman, found the water supply cut off, and he had to secure wet sacks, etc., from outside the grounds, with which to fight the fire. Several of the women in the houses adjoining turned in and beat the fire valiantly, among them being Mrs. Smith, mother of Solly Smith of athletic fame. A large section of the cemetery grounds was burned over before the fire was extinguished.

At Cumnock Hall.

Last evening at Cumnock Hall witnessed the second senior recital, which went off with great success, and was altogether a delightful entertainment, attesting the progress made by the young ladies during the past year. The first number was the laughable "Bardell and Pickwick," which Miss Livingston invested with a truly Pickwickian flavor. Miss Praeger's "A Lover of Music" was a treat, and then came that highly dramatic "Paolo and Francesca," of which four scenes were given. The first "The Malatesta Castle at Rimini; Blind Angela's Vision," was beautifully pictured by Miss Johnson. The second scene, "Youth goes toward youth," was well given by Miss Maxon. Scene 3: "The stillest time of night or day." Paolo returns to Francesca, was told by Miss Reed in realistic fashion, while the tragic climax of the last scene was finely treated by Miss Brigden. Miss Emma Bates concluded the programme, with a sparkling cutting from Seven Oaks, "Jim Fenton's Wedding."

On the theory of the dealer who, during an extremely cold snap last winter, closed his store and placed a sign in front reading, "Closed on Account of the Heat", one would wear a Homespun Suit "On Account of the Coolness."
Certainly no other fabric is so porous—as stylishly cool and withal as wonderfully wearful.
The imported Homespun requires extra care in tailoring—requires the kind of care that characterizes Brauer-Krohn clothing.

FREE PIANO LESSONS

You Must Decide Today.

Only nine more names needed to complete the class of fifty—and then the "Free Lesson" offer will be over. Are you going to be one of the nine to obtain free instruction by a competent teacher—in your own home—free for a whole year? Then you've no time to lose, as we fully expect to enroll the last name not later than tomorrow morning—maybe today.

The conditions are that you buy a piano—a popular Brinkerhoff, a well-known Haddorff, a celebrated Richmond or famous Starr—from $275 up, according to make and quality—including stool, scarf and instruction book without extra charge. The instrument will be delivered to you upon the payment of a small amount down, balance two or two-fifty a week. Well, what do you say.

AN EXCITED BAND OF MEN.

Penniless and Mystified in a Strange Country

Raid on Santa Fe Offices by Desperate Fellows.

Ejected from Building by the Force of Clerks.

A band of twenty-one Russian and Polish Jews is stranded in Los Angeles in a wretched condition, having been brought from the East to San Bernardino to take the places of striking boiler makers and later having thrown up their jobs through ignorance and laziness.

Having spent his last nickel for drink and frenzied with anger over what he considered unfairness of the company, one of the number, by name Louis, went to the Santa Fé headquarters, in the Conservative Life building, night before last and raised a disturbance by attempting to force his way into the office of General Manager Wells. He was intoxicated, loud-mouthed and threatened violence, going from one department to another, until it was necessary for the office clerks, with the assistance of an officer, to eject him bodily from the building.

The Santa Fé officials state that the men have no claim on the company, as they broke their contracts; that they were not discharged, but simply refused to work, and in addition to this that they had misrepresented themselves, proving absolutely incompetent. On the other hand, the refugees say that they were discharged, notwithstanding that they were brought out here on a sixty-day contract, and that they were refused transportation back to the city them came from.

In their abject poverty the mechanics appealed to the Associated Charities, and the Hebrew Benevolent Society, both organizations making inquiries into their case yesterday, and offering them assistance.

A committee, composed of H. W. Frank, Ben Kingsbaker, E. Federman and T. J. Stuart waited on General Manager Wells of the Santa Fé Monday afternoon, and a court of inquiry was held, with three of the alleged boiler makers to state the case for the stranded band. Master Mechanic A. B. Todd of San Bernardino was called up on the telephone and told the Santa Fé's version of the trouble, the report being taken down in shorthand read to the committee from the charitable societies. The master mechanic was kept on the wire for some time and answered many questions, and it was found that the stories of the boss and the men radically disagreed. In this event the question resolved itself into what should be done with the penniless men. The Hebrew Benevolent Society has been supplying them with beds and meal tickets, and it is probable that thirteen of them will be shipped back East on special rates made by the Santa Fé, passes being refused by the company, because of the alleged breach of faith on the part of the workers.

CONFLICTING STORIES.

Of the twenty-one men there are but five who speak English well enough to be understood when in search of work. Louis is the only one native born, and was one of the committee of three which attended the court of inquiry. The spokesman for the band is one Schwartz, who claims that the men were discharged without cause. "We were working in the shops at San Bernardino," he said, "when a machinist struck one of our men in the face so hard that he was forced on to his knees, remarking as he struck, 'that is the kind of treatment you may expect around these shops.' Another man was hit in the side with a staybolt tap. When we went to headquarters about the matter we were all told to get our time and go."

Master Mechanic Todd's version is that a Pole was hit in the side by a staybolt tap, which accidentally flew out of a boiler, something which is very liable to happen, and that the man in his anger picked up a hammer and attempted to brain the nearest workman. There was a scuffle to subdue him, and take the hammer away. The importation was a lazy lot, and after they had been working for a day or two, they refused to work any longer and asked for transportation home. "I tried to get them to go to work again, telling them that I needed them, and could not spare anybody at that time," said Todd, "but they flatly refused. Seeing that they could not be persuaded, I told them that we could not feed and house them if they remained idle, and that they would have to be paid off, which was done. They were not good workmen, being less than boiler-maker helpers in their ability, and their habits were filthy. At table it was not uncommon to see one of them with five or six pieces of steak on his plate at once, it being the method to take all the food within reach. The meat was not eaten up, but most of it was simply wasted and others were deprived of food by the hoggishness of these men."

At San Bernardino the discharged foreigners besieged the merchants for food and money with which to rent a bed for the night, and then by twos and threes they migrated to Los Angeles, most of them walking all the way. They were told to come here and register a kick at headquarters. They have been staying at the Hotel Windsor on East First street. Four of the number were able to work their way to San Francisco as stokers in the coast line boats.

TODD BACKED UP.

"It stands to reason that we would not go to the expense of shipping men all the way across the continent and furnish them with board and lodging and then dismiss them for any trivial reason," said John R. Hitchcock, assistant to General Manager Wells. "We believe Master Mechanic Todd's version of the case, and if the men refused to work we could not afford to keep them any longer. In refusing to work they have broken their contract, and are not entitled to any further privileges from the company, and will have to get back the best way they can."

WHAT FRANK THINKS.

"It is a sad predicament which these men find themselves in," said H. W. Frank last night, "and no matter whether they are to blame or not, the Hebrew Benevolent Society recognizes their destitute condition, and must help them. It would be almost impossible for a big railroad like the Santa Fé to employ several hundred men on short notice to take the places of strikers without getting some incompetents among the number, and it is very probable that this band was incapable of the work set before them. They claim that they were tested in the East, and subjected to a thorough examination before being sent out here, and that they were guaranteed sixty days' work at least. They further maintain that they were not told that they were to take the places of strikers, but that they were to go to work in a new shop about twenty miles this side of Kansas City, and that finally when they got out here they were discharged without explanation. This, of course, is simply their side of the story; but there is no question that they are strapped to their last shekel, and as they do not speak English they are poorly fitted to get work, and something must be done with them. I believe that Manager Wells is as square a man as the world knows, and that he will always treat a man fairly."

COURTIERS, MONKS, SOLDIERS, NUNS.

SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS IN UNWONTED ROLES.

Tricks of the Supernumeraries on the Mason Operahouse Stage—The Big Arm Gets into the Little Part and the Little Voice into the Big One.

The argus-eyed play soldier from the High School, and the nervous girl with an unbreakable tendency to butt in, may do things to Sothern, when that eminent actor comes to play "The Proud Prince" at the Mason Operahouse.

Sothern's production calls for more than one hundred supernumeraries, and the drilling of these began yesterday on the Mason stage, under the direction of William Parke, the advance stage manager. The motley band of new-created courtiers, soldiers, monks and nuns, and the ever-clamorous "populace," is mostly taken from the ranks of the ambitious amateur Thespians in the big brick institution up the hill.

There was one youth, principally covered with a spread-eagle four-in-hand and a rambling Panama, who was completely overcome with the weight of responsibility thrust his way. E. H. Sothern is going to fall upon him in the second act! If this theatrical support acts in realization as he did in anticipation, both star and super will likely go tumbling clear through the wings.

One of the hardest places is where eight girls declaim very loudly, "Woe to the wicked King!"

Now, of the eight girls gathered for the rehearsal of this dramatic phrase yesterday afternoon, seven had very evidently never been "behind" before, or vice-versa, whichever way you wish to put it.

"Woe, woe to the wicked King!" shouted Parke, in tones of tragic thunder. Parke has a voice almost like Sothern's, anyway, and it sounded very impressive.

The end girl smoothed out her skirts where she knelt, and remarked softly to her nearest neighbor: "Woe, woe to the wicked King!" "Woe, woe to the wicked King!" chanted six more, in a cute little catechism accent. The eighth young woman, who had apparently been in a trance or thinking of coming examinations, revived suddenly and said in surprised tones, "W-w-woe to the wicked King!"

Mr. Parke, who assumed the characters of Sothern, Miss Loftus, Mr. Buckstone or any of the rest with great facility, had the stage laid according to plot, with scene braces and chairs for walls or fixtures. At the call for soldiery the imitation Sicilian yeomen responded valiantly—especially an ex-fireman, who rushed across the boards as though charging down Spring street on a second alarm.

"Go back, my friend," wearily commented Parke, in the constrained silence that followed this impetuous arrival.

"Why?" asked he of the leather helmet, in an injured tone.

"Why?" responded the stage manager. "Oh, no especial reason, except that you've knocked down the massive wall of a great cathedral, overturned the high altar and gone clean through a master painting!"

The factotum sent forth the summons for a band of monks to appear in their cloister, and when they came stepping in solemn pace and slow—lo, there appeared with them a young woman, clad neither in haircloth nor sandals, but in a white shirt waist, a brown skirt and a big hat with a veil like a summer cloud. She also wore thing-doodles in her belt—a very unbecoming habit for any ascetic. She blushed very hard when it was explained that the procession was strictly for men only, felt anxiously for the junction of her garments at the back, and sat down.

Yet this invader of monastic quiet did very well, later. You can't always tell by the look of a made-to-order soldier just how much of the real fire he's got in his veins—sometimes promising appearances produce ridiculous results. For instance, a huge man selected to lead the "army" on account of presumably strong lungs, announced the military's arrival in a squeaky little falsetto that would have shamed the clerk at a ladies' hosiery counter. Also a pale youth, chosen for a beggar's role because of seeming weakness, amused himself by lifting monumental curtain weights in the intervals, wrestled two of the sturdy guardsmen at once, and talked like Pierre, robust, ear-ringed villain of "The Two Orphans."

Said Mr. Parke: "This raw material properly worked up will give the best results in time. Get a lot of semi-professionals and they've got so many ideas of their own as to how things ought to be done that tuition is almost valueless. Young people with good memories and a real desire to do it right get on well in three or four rehearsals, anyway. This group represents High School students, clerks, young women merely anxious to be doing something, and a few to whom the small wage is a real lift in the bread-and-butter problem."

SAN DIEGO.

LUMBER SCHOONER IN PERIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, June 7.—The schooner Oceana Vance, which arrived from Everett, Wash., lumber laden, this afternoon had a narrow escape from destruction.

While in the stream sparks from the donkey engine set fire to the vessel's rigging. A tug promptly towed her to the Spreckels wharf, where a stream of water was turned on.

The damage was confined to sails and rigging and is not large.

MUSIC BOOKS NOT CHANGED.

Proposed Deal Squelched by School Board.

Result of Airing Schemes of Book Agents.

No Chance fo "Gaft" Now. Foshay All Solid

"That was a truthful article in The Times—in every respect."

Ker-thump of School Director Cates-by Thom's fist on the table, as he said this.

A howling circus was being performed on the prostrate music-book scandal in the school board rooms at the time of that remark last night. It came to a most painful pause.

Everybody looked at his neighbor and then at Brother Thom.

"And furthermore," added Thom, "if you fellows want to do anything tonight you had better get together, because I am going to the Orpheum."

And how they got together! Some of them were pulled out of secret consultation in rooms across the hall. Others were found whispering in excitement in a committee room.

They all explained to each other how they had been misrepresented and then parted, muttering over each other's words and commenting thereon with backward looks, "Well that fellow's got a great nerve to tell me that to my face."

The net result of the meeting was to call the whole music-book business off.

By laying the proposition to change music books on the table, the whole tribe of book agents was defeated.

The pupils of the public schools will not have to spend any money to change music books.

There is no chance for a job now. There is no chance for graft. An end is put to the whisperings of "Whispering" Smith, and the scandal is squelched.

Evidently the airing it got did it good.

They all hastened at once to straighten the whole affair and give the real true, clear version of each of the details of the music-book scandal. This is the evidence as collected—it suggests the aged rhyme, "Be damned if you do; be damned if you don't; be damned if you will; be damned if you won't."

MR. FOSHAY'S SCALP.

Mr. Bullfinch to the stand. Mr. Bullfinch was not exactly angry. Mr. Bullfinch was more pained. It caused Mr. Bullfinch sorrow to reflect that The Times said he sought Mr. Foshay's scalp.

"My no," said Mr. Bullfinch with the far-away light of real sorrow in his eyes. "Why I always felt real friendly toward Mr. Foshay. Why, didn't I help to elect Mr. Foshay?"

"But," objected The Times reporter, "it is said that in these secret sessions you have opposed Mr. Foshay on every proposition that comes up and that you have actually lurked for his scalp."

Mr. Bullfinch looked gently reproachful. "Why who could have said that? But," he added, "now that you mention it, I will say that I have been opposed to the office in a certain way.

"You see it is this way; I do not believe with Mr. Foshay on what you may say—well it's this way: I, as a school man, believe that Mr. Foshay—I say that I think the city is fortunate to have Mr. Foshay so far as the school—"

Huh!

After the meeting, two members who will not consent to the use of their names, but might be guessed without anybody taking it any buttons, said: "Oh, rot! We talked this thing over only today and ye know all about it. Bullfinch and Jessup are hot after Foshay's scalp. Bullfinch said not long ago, 'I don't like Foshay and I don't like his methods.'"

"Why?" asked Smith in anguish, "I tell you just how that was. When I heard they were going to take my friend, Miss Stone—that is I mean not my friend, but I mean—well Miss Stone off the Selection Committee, I just went to Mr. Foshay and told him that Miss Stone might be working in our summer school at the publishing-house, but she wasn't any more tied up with the Ginn Company than he was with the American Book Company, on account of Seamans."

"And," added Smith with a gleam of satisfaction, "You bet they decided that after all it might be bettre to take her written opinion on the books instead of entirety throwing her out."

REGARDING PEACE.

Mr. Monroe: Now I am sorry you have given the impression that we are not peaceful. We are you know. We have little differences of opinion, but there is not the slightest inharmony, really—all friends. No feeling.

Mr. Bullfinch: All right. I am not indulging in personalities. It don't do any good to talk. But I can just tell you right now that the members of this board who say that I am after Foshay's scalp have a motive all right. I see through it, there's more that I don't care to say.

Mr. Jessup: They say we are really trying to crawl onto dry ground and are secretly after Fishay's scalp? Well you know me? You know them. Then why don't you compare the credibility of the witnesses.

Another member of the board: These stories have been spread simply because Bullfinch wouldn't stand in on a certain proposition. I can see that all right.

Isn't it nice that sweet peace hovers with outspread wings over the school board?

After the tumult and the shouting died, the board convened. Mr Thom moved that the music book matter be laid on the table. It was seconded and carried without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Monroe moved the present music book system be continued in the schools for the next year. Carried.

"And now," said Smith, "I want to know if I look disgruntled? No sir. I am a game loser!"

THE CRESCENT AND THE ANGELS.

CONSTANTINOPLE BANKER RENEWS AN ACQUAINTANCE.

Meeting of Resident of Sultan's City and Local Citizen in the Van Nuys—Last Saw Each Other on the Bosphorus—A Turkish Beauty. Oriental Criticism.

From Constantinople to Los Angeles is a far distance, but not so far that calls are not interchanged between acquaintances of the two famous cities, the one lifting its Mohammedan mosques on the Bosphorus, the other upraising its Christian spires beside the Pacific.

In the meeting of M. Cyopian, a wealthy resident of the Sultan's city, and Col. J. B. Lankershim in the Van Nuys yesterday, was the renewal of an acquaintance formed when the Angeleno was himself a stranger in a strange land, among the minarets of Constantinople.

When Col. Lankershim was on a recent European tour, he became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Cyopian and before parting from their company, insisted that they partake of his hospitality in no less way than by calling on him in Los Angeles. So effectively did he "boom" Los Angeles that—well, his friends from Turkey are here.

The traveler from Constantinople is accompanied by his wife, a young and exceptionally charming woman, of a brilliant type of beauty.

"Los Angeles is a beautiful city, indeed," said Mr. Cyopian last night, "and there are a great many splendid things to be seen in America. But there is such a sameness about every community—such monotony in your cities. One large city looks just like another you might say, irrespective of radically different natural surroundings. They are all built on just the same lines—there is not the individuality about the life in this country that we are accustomed to."

JERUSALEM SOUVENIR.

The State Sunday-School Convention Opened With Gavel from Holy Land.

Sunday-school workers of Southern California gathered at the First Congregational Church last night for the opening service of their fourteenth annual State convention. A large audience was present and they had the pleasure of listening to an eloquent sermon by Rev. W. F. Harper of Redlands, president of the association.

Before Mr. Harper began his address W. C. Weld, one of the delegates to the world's Sunday-school convention, presented to the State convention a gavel made of olive wood, which he had purchased in the city of Jerusalem.

The subject of Mr. Harper was "Forward Movement," upon which he spoke with deep feeling. He possesses a musical voice and an engaging manner, and held the closest attention of his audience. His entire talk was a plea for a more thorough teaching of the scriptures in the Sunday-schools by teachers who are themselves intelligent and skillful.

He made some comparisons between 100 students of the Northwestern University and 100 tenement-house girls of Chicago, the latter having received their Bible knowledge entirely in the Sunday-schools. They outclassed the university students by about 50 per cent. In the entire competitive examination upon the most familiar features of the scriptures. He pleaded that the Sunday-school should be a school where something is taught and something learned. Speaking of the importance of the future, Mr. Harper said:

"What is tomorrow? Tomorrow is yesterday, plus today, with the responsibility increased a thousand-fold. Sunday-school workers, thank God for the victories of the past and forget not; but turn your faces to the East and cry out: 'O glorious future, I salute thee!'"

The first business session will be held at 9 o'clock this morning, and will be devoted to reports and appointment of committees.

The afternoon will be devoted to a superintendent's hour, led by F. B. Crosier; pastor's hour, led by Rev. F. M. Dowling; teachers' training department, led by Mr. J. D. Moody.

The evening session will be devoted to reports from the delegates to Jerusalem, with Dr. Hugh K. Walker as the principal speaker.

At 5 o'clock this evening the alumni of the educational department will hold a banquet at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The convention will continue until Thursday evening.

BRUTE WOULD BE LYNCHED.

Angry Father on Man-hunt Near Norwalk.

Little Boy Cruelly Beaten With a Club.

Excitement in Neighborhood of Ugly Crime.

A criminal assault upon little Pearl O'Connell, seven-year-old daughter of V. A. O'Connell, a prosperous rancheman of Norwalk, was committed yesterday afternoon while the child was returning from school with her brother, Varney, a boy of 9 years. The lad was beaten with a club by the fiend and forced to run for his life, after which the little girl was assaulted.

The affair created intense excitement in the neighborhood of the O'Connell home, and last night the father, accompanied by two brothers and a number of friends, were scouring the region between Norwalk and this city in search of the assailant.

Threats of lynching were freely made by members of the searching party, and if caught by them there is scarcely a doubt that the miscreant will be strung up to the nearest tree.

The scene of the assault was about a quarter of a mile from the O'Connell ranch, which is located a mile and a half from Norwalk. The children were walking home, when a stranger accosted them and tried to tear the little girl from her brother's side. The boy resisted and was brutally beaten, after which his sister was dragged away and outraged. The child ran screaming down the road in the direction of her home and attracted the attention of the father, who immediately started a search.

Meantime, George O'Connell, an uncle of the children, came upon the boy in the road and hearing the story from his lips, started after the brute and succeeded in getting a glimpse of him as he dodged through the willows near a lake.

Friends joined the father and brother in the search, which was continued for a distance of nine miles and only given up when darkness came on. The man was seen between 5 and 6 o'clock at Montabello by E. O. O'Connell, another brother of the father, but at that time this brother did not know that the assault had been committed.

The child's father called on the police last night, having walked nearly the entire distance from his home, and reported the case to the Chief, who immediately gave instructions to have all officers furnished with a description of the rapist.

The man was seen at several places in the vicinity of the O'Connell ranch yesterday, and during the morning he stopped at the ranch-house and asked about work, but said he did not care for employment just then. It is thought he came from Los Nietos.

A good description is given by those who saw the bastard, as follows: Height, 5 feet 3 inches; weight, 140 pounds; 25 to 30 years of age; dark complexion, with very small brown mustache; dark coat and blue overalls; carried a small bundle and wore light-colored soft hat and tennis shoes.

The father stated last night that he does not think the injuries to the children will prove serious. He has offered a reward for the assailant's apprehension.

LOCAL RAILROAD RECORD.

THAT TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT.

SCHINDLER SAYS IT WILL BE DEVELOPED NATURALLY.

In the Meantime the Pacific Electric has Ordered a Large Number of Passenger Coaches, of Which the Company is Very Much in Need for Summer Travel.

"Our passenger business has grown so rapidly that we need one man at the head of that department, and Mr. McMillan is to be that man," said General Manager Schindler to a Times reporter yesterday. "In connection with the passenger business we are handling some freight which is turned over to us by the steam roads and we will probably eventually have a traffic department, but it is simply a natural development. We are not firing off any guns or opening any champagne over the event, but are simply preparing ourselves to take care of all the business that comes our way."

It has been reported that the Pacific electric has a large order placed for freight cars to be used on the electric lines between Los Angeles and Whittier, Long Beach and Glendale and that a regular freight business is to be instituted. This Manager Schindler denied. "We have not ordered any freight cars and are not blocking out a big freight business. We have ordered thirty-two passenger coaches and need them very badly to accommodate the heavy summer travel," he said. "Besides," chimed in McMillan, "if we were going to use any freight cars we would make them ourselves in our own shops."

It is said that extensive changes are to be made by the Interurban company on the former Traction system. The old cars, once green, yellow and white and the pride of Los Angeles, are to be replaced by rolling stock similar to that used on the lines of the Los Angeles Railway Company. The welding of the entire Traction system is about completed and the service is to be bettered in every way.

RAILROAD PERSONALS.

General Manager A. G. Wells of the Santa Fé left in his private car on the overland last night for Needles. He will go as far east as Albuquerque and make a careful inspection of all shops of this division. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wells and Col. Freeman of Colegrove.

Theron L. Rice, who has for some time been a passenger agent of the Gould system at the local office on Spring street, has taken the position of assistant ticket agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's Los Angeles office.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Committees from the Civic Federation are seeking to interest Councilmen in securing a childrens' playground in the Seventh or Eighth Ward.

Meat Inspector Hughes has been accused by the proprietors of the Linwood dairy of confiscating hides of condemned cattle and afterwards selling them and pocketing the proceeds. The charges will be investigated by the Health Board.

The Police Commission yesterday restored George Rosso to the position of bailiff of the Police Court.

For twelve years the estate of Jesus Yorba has been in the courts, but now there is a hope that it may be wound up. It is so small, however, that it is a hard proposition to deal with.

Annie Pollitte and Katie F. McQuillen have won their suit against their brother-in-law, C. Forrester, in Judge York's court, and are undisputed owners of the property involved.

In the Police Court yesterday the street railways asked for a trial by jury to determine the "sprinkling case."

AT THE CITY HALL.

FOR CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND.

CIVIC FEDERATION HAS NEW PARK SCHEME.

Seeks Location in Seventh or Eighth Wards—Plan Favored by a Few Councilmen, but Others Fear it Would Prove to Be an Expensive Luxury.

Led by the Art and Outdoor section of the Civic Federation, a campaign has been inaugurated in municipal circles to secure for Los Angeles a "Childrens' Playground."

Mr. Willoughby Rodman, president of the local branch of the Art and Outdoor section, Mrs. Bessie Stoddard, one of the section workers, Park Secretary H. L. Hopkins and Councilmen Todd and Kern, spent yesterday afternoon inspecting prospective sites in the Seventh and Eighth wards.

The "Childrens' Playground" is immensely popular just now with the Civic federationists all over the country. They come high, but the federations say we cannot afford to be without them.

San Francisco has just secured one at an expense of $750,000. Los Angeles is not expected to go in so deep, but the location most favored will cost $100,000 for the land alone. This site is near the corner of Eighth and San Pedro streets; it extends through to Gladys street, and is, in the opinion of the Civic federationists, an ideal location.

There are no parks in the Seventh Ward, and the property-owners have long clamored for one. Councilman Kern said last night that the San Pedro street site was large enough to answer for both a playground and a city park. Mr. Kern said that the Seventh and Eighth wards have a combined population of about 30,000, and that they were practically without park facilities. He thought that they had a right to ask the city for recognition.

When asked where the money would come from to purchase the property, Mr. Kern said that details had not yet been worked out. Kern is a member of the Finance Committee of the Council, and has been looked upon by his colleagues rather in the light of the watchdog on the treasury. "You can say this for the Seventh Ward," he finally managed to say, "we have hundreds of poor children who need a breathing place and playground and it does not behoove the city to reckon too closely on the cost to secure it for them."

Councilman Todd thinks the playground should be located in the Eighth Ward. Yesterday afternoon the Location Committee inspected a number of sites in Todd's bailiwick. Those most favored were on Macy and Aliso streets.

Formal application has not been made for the purchase of the childrens' playground. The promotors have not yet agreed among themselves as to just what they want. An attempt will be made to have an appropriation made for the new park and pleasure ground in next year's park budget.

KEEPS THE HIDES.

INSPECTOR MUST EXPLAIN.

Meat Inspector Fred Hughes has been accused by George Barron, proprietor of a Compton dairy, with carrying off the hides of condemned cattle. Hughes says that it is all a job on the part of certain dairymen to get rid of a too active inspector.

Now its for the Board of Health to determine the enormity of Hughes's offense.

Barron had made complaint to Health Officer Powers that Hughes was "grafting." The specific charge was that when Hughes killed diseased stock on the Linwood Farm, he confiscated the hides. Dr. Powers yesterday told the health commissioners, at an executive session of the Health Board, the unkind things that were being said about their Meat Inspector and the commissioners set June 16, next, as the date for trial.

The case is the outgrowth of the condemnation of about 200 head of cows, the property of the Linwood dairy, by Inspector Hughes. The cows all had tuberculosis.

Mr. Hughes last night admitted that he had taken hides from cows killed by him on the Linwood dairy, but he insisted that in each case the hide was given to him by Manager Barron. He said that during the last year and a half he had condemned and killed over $5000 worth of tuberculosis stock belonging to the dairy, and he felt certain that this was an attempt at retaliation on the part of the owners.

Complaint was made against Hughes by Manager Sessions of the Linwood dairy about two weeks ago. Last week Health Officer Powers and a number of the Health Board went to the dairy to make an investigation.

Hughes says that he had not received more than ten hides from the proprietors of the dairy, and that the gross value was less than $25. He defies his accusers to show that he has taken hides of condemned cattle in any other instance and says that he took them for the reason that the owners of the stock did not remove the hides, and otherwise they would have been left to rot with the carcasses.

Rosso Reinstated.

Deeming that Officer George W. Rosso had been sufficiently punished for "pernicious activity" in the last municipal campaign, the Police Commission yesterday ordered his reinstatement as bailiff of the Police Court. Rosso was derated along with Ex-Capt. Hensley, Ex-Clerk Cottle and Ex-Desk Clerk Edwards for the part they took in the last Mayoralty fight. Yesterday the Mayor was inclined to be forgiving. "It was at my request that Rosso was derated," said the Mayor, "but he speaks a number of languages and has other qualifications that peculiarly fit him for the position of bailiff. I am ready to vote for his reinstatement."

Chief Hammel reported that he had investigated the charges of violation of city ordinances by the Independent Messenger Company, and that he found the offenses to be of a trivial nature. He said the company had bought a franchise and that he had been assured that, as soon as conduits could be dug, the overhead wires would be taken down. This report was made at the request of the City Council.

M. J. Holland's application for a billiard hall license at 1209 South Main street, was referred to Chief Hammel for investigation, as was the application of A. D. Pala for a restaurant liquor license at 613 San Fernando street.

J. E. Haines was appointed janitor at the City Jail. This position has been vacant for several months, the office being abolished, and the work left to trustees to perform.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

JESUS YORBA'S LITTLE ESTATE.

SO SMALL A MICROSCOPE IS NEEDED TO FIND IT.

For Twelve Years It Has Blocked the Way—Now Senora Piedad Wants It Disposed of as She Really Needs the Money in Her Business.

There is a probability that the estate of Jesus Yorba will be wound up in the near future. It is only a probability, however, for so many things have interposed to prevent such a thing during the last twelve years that no one is speaking with certainty about the matter.

Jesus Yorba was a scion of the old Spanish family of the same name, but when he died in 1902 he left only a small piece of land as the sum total of his estate. But all the same the estate had to be administered upon, though the family of the deceased did not liven to the fact for several years. Then, in 1897, Angel Yorba, a brother of the dead man, was appointed by the court, and things drifted along for several more years. As there was no income worth speaking about from the estate the administrator received no fees, and finally Angel Yorba was appointed a guard at San Quentin, and he then resigned from the onerous office.

It was absolutely necessary for the peace and well being of the "people of the State of California" that somebody should administer upon the less than an acre estate, so Señora Piedad Yorba de Arguello, sister of the deceased, was appointed administratrix. That was in 1902, and since then matters have again drifted along. Attorneys have come and gone as advisors to the administrator and administratrix, but as there was nothing in it for them they dropped out. Now A. Q. Hinckley is the attorney.

This important remnant of a family's large holdings consists of one-forty-eighth of 42.88 acres, equalling ninety-three-one-hundreds of an acre in the Rancho San Antonio, and is located somewhere near the Santa Fé crossing on the Whittier road, just outside the city limits. Unlike other real estate close to the city, it has declined in value—at least the appraisements that have been made show that. At first it was supposed to be worth $200, and when the next appraisement was made it dropped to $50. The most recent estimate is that it is worth $150, but so far no one has appeared as a purchaser, though it is rich agricultural land, and is said to particularly suitable for residence lots for a humbler class of citizens.

The Señora Piedad has had all she could do to look out for herself without bothering too much over this miniature estate. She is a woman of some education and is especially skilled as a Spanish cook. In her fallen estate she has tried to turn to account her knowledge of cooking the toothsome dainties of the old-time régime, but she had such a small capital to begin with that her creditors have foreclosed upon her before she even got well started. She opened the El Famoso at the corner of Broadway and Franklin street, but had to move when the old house there was torn down. Then she moved into the rooms of the "silver" wing of the Republican party on Second street, after the silverites and their cause fell into "inocuous desuetude." Later she opened up on Main street, but in every instance her creditors were after her, and she had to stand by and see a plaster of attachments pile up against her small store of belongings without being able to do anything. But the señora is full of grit, and has not been soured by adversity. When President Harriman of the Southern Pacific was last in California it was the Señora Piedad Yorba who was selected to prepare an old-time Spanish dinner for the delectation of the railroad magnate and his friends, and now she is again running El Famoso on Estrella avenue, where the converging car lines make the place easy of access, though sufficiently removed to insure her against the high rentals of the downtown district.

Attorney Hinckley opines that this week an order will be asked for from the probate court for leave to sell the real estate, but he confesses that the possibility of finding a purchaser at a reasonable price is an unknown quantity. In the long years that the estate has been in the probate court no one knows just who has paid the fees, for though the estate is small, there have been fees. The acre of land is still there, there are no liens against it, and what little work has been done at long intervals has been done gratuitously.

SISTERS-IN-LAW WIN.

FORRESTER SCORED IN COURT.

Annie R. Pollitte and her sister, Katie F. McQuillen have won their suit against their sister, Marie Forrester, and her husband C. Forrester, and Judge York took the opportunity to score Forrester very severely for the fraudulent part he had played in dealing with his young sisters-in-law.

The intricate story of the manner in which Forrester obtained from the girls the $2000 which they had received from their father's estate, and its dissipation in business schemes; of his taking over to them finally an improved lot on Savoy street in order to keep them quiet, and his visit to the girls at Vacy Steer's hairdressing establishment, where they were engaged at the tin, when he persuaded them to sign another deed making over the property to Mrs. Forrester, has already been told at length.

The present suit was brought by the girls through their attorneys, Earle & Creede, to have the court declare the last deed, the one obtained by trick, making the property over to Mrs. Forrester—invalid and have it canceled. This has now been done, and the deed made by Forrester to keep them quiet and reassure them after he had taken from them all the money they had in the world stands of record, vesting the title to the $2500 house and lot in them.

In rendering judgment Judge York summarized the evidence in the case, and said that to his mind there was no question that Forrester had tried to defraud the girls; and, furthermore, in keeping the last deed hidden for nearly three years he had also tried to defraud his creditors.

UNSAVORY TRIAL.

HELD BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

The corridor of the upper floor in the Courthouse was well filled with a lot of frolicsome girls and boys yesterday. They were witnesses required in the trial of W. W. Beach, the merry-go-round man, who was arrested and charged with having indulged in improper behavior with certain young girls.

The case was of a particularly objectionable character, and Judge Smith ordered the doors closed. Witnesses, too, were excluded, and the children as they were called in had to testify without knowing exactly just what their predecessors had said.

The case is still on trial, and so far probably the most noticeable thing in connection with the case has been the familiarity of very young children with questions that are supposed to be taboo to them. With matter of fact composure some of them entered into details that betokened a very unhealthy knowledge.

FOR POSTOFFICE.

PART OF SITE CONVEYED.

Yesterday morning sixty-five feet of the Downey Block frontage on Main street was conveyed over to the committee representing the property owners who interested themselves in the matter of the postoffice. This frontage belonged to the Winifred Martin estate, and consequently the sale had to be ratified in the Probate Court.

The frontage sold was appraised last August at $35,000, and is the northeast portion of the Downey Block, at the corner of Temple and Main streets. The price for which it sold was only $25,000, but, as stated to Judge Wilbur yesterday, was on the same basis as received for the remainder of the block. There being no bidder in court who would raise the price the court approved the sale, and the property will be made over to Joseph Mesmer, Frank Flint and A. C. Harper, the committee representing the property interests involved.

FLOURISHING ORGANIZATION.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BAR ASSOCIATION.

Officers Elected and Constitution and Bylaws Adopted—Treasurer Makes Good Financial Showing. Much Done to Elevate the Tone of the Profession in This City.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Bar Association of Los Angeles was held yesterday afternoon in the probate department of the Superior Court. The attendance of members was not large, but quite a number forwarded their ballots for new officers. James A. Gibson was called to the chair, and Russ Avery was appointed secretary of the meeting.

The report of the treasurer was, perhaps, in a certain sense, the most satisfactory matter presented to the meeting. In condensed form it was as follows:

Balance on hand at beginning of fiscal year, $304.64; dues collected, $228; admission fees, $305; money from other sources, $2; total, $1364.43; total disbursements, $297.43; balance on hand, $1067.10.

With this amount of money on hand the association is in a better financial condition than ever before, and the finances serve as an index to the general standing of the local Bar Association.

The ballots having been cast the secretary was instructed to count them with the result that the ticket reported by the Nominating Committee was declared elected, as follows:

W. J. Hunsaker, president; James A. Gibson, senior vice-president; John D. Pope, junior vice-president; Curtis D. Wilbur, Russ Avery, J. H. Shankland, J. Wiseman MacDonald and Oscar Mueller, trustees; T. W. Robinson, treasurer; W. R. Hervey, secretary; E. F. Wehrle, N. P. Conrey, Charles Cassatt Davis, Rusk Harris, James D. S. Scarborough, Ward Chapman and Herbert J. Goudge, members of Committee on Admission.

A special committee reported on the constitution and bylaws that had been drafted, and with one amendment the report was adopted. On motion it was determined that the new bylaws should go into effect at adjournment, and consequently henceforward the annual election will take place at the meeting in February.

The gathering yesterday was merely of a formal nature and nothing appeared to show what work the association is doing. Since it was rejuvenated a year or two ago it has become much more than an empty shell. Not only are all attorneys of repute members, and newcomers are proud to be admitted, all being bound together in the bond of good camaraderie, but a good deal has been and is being done to elevate the tone of the profession in this city. While the Grievance Committee did not report an interesting story might have been told of the efforts made to purge the profession of several hangers-on who are of the leech variety of attorneys. One case is now pending in the courts against such a lawyer who adopted disgraceful methods in dealing with his clients, and now has to answer for it through steps taken by the Bar Association.

GAS ORDINANCE VOID.

E. H. BROUSE DISCHARGED.

E. H. Brouse, superintendent of the Lowe Gas Company, was before Judge Smith yesterday on a writ of habeas-corpus issued by the Supreme Court. Brouse was arrested and charged with a violation of the gas ordinance, and the application to the Supreme Court followed.

About half an hour after the writ was issued the Supreme Court handed down an opinion in the identical case wherein the then superintendent of the Lowe Gas Company, F. A. Smith, was charged with a similar violation of the ordinance. In this opinion the court held the ordinance to be unconstitutional, and upon these facts being set out yesterday, Judge Smith asked Dist.-Atty. Fredericks what he was going to do about it.

"Retreat and retire as gracefully as possible," was the answer of the county's law officers, and thereupon the court ordered the defendant discharged.

The gas ordinance that has been pronounced by the Supreme Court to be unconstitutional was brought into being only after a very bitter fight before the Board of Supervisors, and the ordinance was passed late one Saturday afternoon. It was considered at the time that the ordinance had been rushed through somewhat, and that the Los Angeles Gas Company, was almost entirely responsible. Since then, however, the people in the vicinity of the Arroyo, where the Lowe gas works are erected, and who were favorably disposed toward the new company, appear to have in large measure experienced a change of heart. The Lowe people represented that by a new method of gas manufacture there would be no smoke, dust, or odor emanating from the gas plant, and believing that representation the idea of competition in the field of heat and light was very grateful to these residents. But it is stated that they have discovered since then that smoke, soot, and an unpleasant vibratory noise comes from the gas works that makes living in the neighborhood far from pleasant.

It is said to be assured that when the attempt is next made to frame an ordinance there will be a good deal less opposition than there was before.

RUN TO EARTH.

GLEN DUNNAWAY ARRESTED.

About two months ago a young man named Glen Dunnaway became involved in a quarrel with a youth named Pearl Parker on Bellevue avenue, and in the fight that ensued Parker was cut. Realizing that he had played the coward's part, Dunnaway skipped out of the city at once, and all trace of his whereabouts was lost.

While Sheriff White was in San Francisco two days ago he learned Dunnaway was at Port Richmond, and upon going there found him plying his trade as a painter. He was arrested and accompanied the Sheriff back to the city, where he will have to answer for assault with a deadly weapon upon Parker.

THE GAMBLING EVIL.

SUPERVISORS CONSIDER IT.

The matter of framing an ordinance against slot-machines was again before the Board of Supervisors yesterday. Petitions had been received from Burbank and Sawtelle, but while some of the petitioners asked for an ordinance against the slot-machines, others wanted the poolrooms closed, and in the speeches that were made a dead set was made against gambling in its broadest sense.

Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, State superintendent of the anti-gambling section of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. G. T. Stickney, county president; E. D. Chapin and D. A. Kughen, the latter of Burbank, all spoke against the evils resulting from slot-machine playing and other kinds of gambling devices. On motion of Graham, the matter was taken under advisement, Alexander being the only member of the board to vote the other way. The idea that the board should need time to discuss the manner and mode of dealing with such a big subject was eminently distasteful to one old gentleman present. Because Supervisor Patterson seconded Graham's motion he reminded him that there was to be an election soon, and he wagged his head very knowingly.

That an ordinance can be framed to suppress gambling is believed to be an impossibility, but certain forms that may be limited or prohibited are dealt with by the State law, and any ordinance drafted must conform to that. Just exactly what should be done, however, requires consideration, and this the board proposes to give the question.

BESSIE DRISCOLL IS LIKELY TO BE HELD.

THE fate of Bessie Driscoll, the alleged extortionist, is still in doubt, but will, in all probability, be decided today, for Mr. Davis, her attorney, has promised to bring out but one more witness, when argument will follow.

Bessie has sat, a lonely figure, apart from even her attorney, and without a sustaining or encouraging word from any friendly lip, since the examination began last Saturday morning. When court adjourned yesterday afternoon, however, some of the women who have occupied the reserved section, rushed within the railing to her side and poured sympathetic words into willing ears. They were evidently strangers to the silent defendant, for she did not receive them at first with any sign of recognition, but her moist eager eyes looked up at them gratefully and she murmured words of thanks.

Then Mrs. Green, the motherly matron of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, sat down beside her speaking kindly and almost affectionately to the young woman who had spent nearly seven months under the roof of the institution at Broadway and Temple street, surrounded by the good influences of the members of the union.

John A. Coleman, the doctor's Butte attorney, occupied the witness chair during the greater portion of yesterday's proceedings, and sustained his reputation for sagacity.

Although he was called by the defense, Mr. Davis handled him mercilessly, and after bringing out a recital of what took place on each occasion of three different interviews he admitted having held with May Driscoll, sister of the defendant, when propositions for a settlement were discussed. Davis failed to shake the young attorney's declaration that all proposals to bring about an amicable adjustment of the matter came from the elder Driscoll sister, who made the proposals for meetings and who most desired a settlement.

The wise seers who have closely followed the case are prophesying that Miss Driscoll will be held for trial in the Superior Court. These conclusions are deduced partly from the nature of the justice's rulings and from the fact that Mr. Davis has said he will not put the defendant on the witness stand.

He even stated after yesterday's proceedings that he might possibly not call May.

That the attorney himself was looking forward to a trial in the higher court is predicted from his frequent references yesterday to what might be done in the Superior Court.

SAW NO BABY.

Mrs. Amelia Green, matron at the Women's Christian Temperance Union, No. 301 Broadway, where Bessie Driscoll lodged from October 12, 1903, until the day of her arrest, two weeks since, was the first witness called in the morning.

Mrs. Green's face was wreathed in a continuous smile while she was replying to questions of counsel.

The defendant, she stated, had lived in the institution under the name of Bessie Driscoll and was to all appearances a young woman of exemplary habits, spending much of her time in retirement and receiving very little company.

Replying to the question, "Did Miss Driscoll have a baby there with her," witness said: "I never saw one."

She said that Miss Driscoll took occasional trips from home during the day, but she had not been employed in the capacity of detective and had not dogged Bessie's footsteps around during her absence.

J. ROSS CLARK A WITNESS.

J. Ross Clerk, vice-president of the Salt Lake Railroad and a brother of Senator Clark of Montana, was called.

Witness said he had known Dr. Whitford since the summer of 1876, but he was not allowed to testify regarding the doctor's reputation for truth and veracity.

Attorney Davis was also side-tracked by the court in an effort to get witness to swear that Dr. Whitford is a millionaire, and Mr. Clark was excused.

COLEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

Attorney Davis drew from Attorney Coleman the statement that he was sitting in the lobby of the Westminster with two newspaper men when May Driscoll made her visit to the doctor, and that he had subsequently denied to the reporters that he had conversed with or seen her on that occasion.

Mr. Coleman told also of a visit by May which took place on Wednesday following the doctor's arrival. On this occasion May was pictured as wringing her hands frantically before the young attorney and with many protestations begged that the matter be settled while declaring that she had known nothing of Bessie's relations with the doctor until the day of the arrest, and that she would never have permitted her sister to act in the manner which had brought about her trouble and disgrace had she known it. May also said she would give to him the bail money ($1000) when it was returned to her in case the action was dismissed. That amount would probably be given to the lawyers and she was ready, to give it back to the doctor. This offer being refused, she asked Mr. Coleman to name any amount and it would be given him.

"No, I told her," said Mr. Coleman, "you are guilty of blackmailing the doctor and we shall not be satisfied until you are punished by being put in the penitentiary."

After this May was asked if she wanted to see the doctor, whereupon she became startled and wanted to leave the room, but subsequently decided to meet him.

Mr. Coleman was then asked what the doctor had said to her, but could not remember except that he delivered himself to May of "an awful roast." Mr. Davis insisted on having the roast as best it could be remembered by the witness, and he said:

"The doctor was very angry when he saw May and said to her: 'Your sister has dogged me for the last two or three years. Now she must stop. She has extorted $10,000 from me already, ruined my reputation and I shall make her pay for it.' Then the doctor left the room.

GOT TOO PATRIOTIC.

OLIVAS WANTS DAMAGES.

Fernando Olivas, who follows the occupation of a barber, is in Judge Trask's court trying to show that Police Officers Allen and Horton were too brash when they arrested him at the Chutes Park, on the night September 15, last. He wants to have his anguish—caused by false arrest—assuaged with an award of $2000 as damages.

The night of September 15, was the opening of the Mexican celebration, and last year—as, indeed, in most years—there were two factions celebrating. There was the Junta Juarez and the Junta Patriotica, and of this latter organization Olivas said yesterday he was the honored vice-president. He didn't get away from his barbering until 10:15, and then he made a bee-line for the scene of festivities at the Chutes. He said he danced once with Mrs. Stark, and then they heard the "Independence yell" from the theater and he and his friends went in there. After participating in the "yell" they returned to the dancing and beer drinking, and at this stage the officers are alleged to have butted in to the litle party without any cause or provocation. Olivas swore that the officers shoved him out of the gate, and then told him to take the first car, meantime taking Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Henderson toward the front end of the car. Then when Olivas got on the car he said the officers yanked him off and after cuffing him about took him for a jaunt in the patrol wagon and charged him at the Police Station with resisting an officer. His father put up bail, and he was turned loose and next day appeared in the Police Court, with his attorney. Then the charge was changed to drunkeness and his bail jumped from $20 to $100, but when it came to trial he was acquitted.

As opposed to this the officers, as well as other witnesses, are testifying that Olivas was laboring on the celebration night under an excess of patriotism and beer, and that the combination wasn't good. The foreman at the Chutes said that he wouldn't say that Olivas was intoxicated, but he made the greatest kind of a row for a sober man.

THE MUIR ESTATE.

FAMILY ALLOWANCE GRANTED.

Mrs. Mary A. Muir Sepulveda was in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday to claim the family allowance, which the law allows her, from the estate of her first husband, the late John A. Muir. She was dressed in a costume of pongee silk, and had a turquoise blue bead collar that livened it up very considerably; a hat trimmed with white silk and slashed with black baby velvet completed the attire of the recent bride.

Judge Bicknell prepared the petition, as executor under the will, but though seated in court he took no part in the proceedings. In the petition the age of the widow-bride was set out as 30 years, and she asked for $150 a month family allowance to maintain herself and two minor children in the manner to which she had been accustomed. It was also asked that the household furniture and certain personal property exempt from execution, should be turned over to her.

In glancing over the petition Judge Wilbur said that he noticed that the petitioner had married again on April 7, and that the allowance could only be made up to that date. He thereupon ordered that Mrs. Muir receive from the estate at the rate of $150 a month up to April 7, and at the rate of $100 a month from that date for one year. This latter sum was fixed upon after Mrs. Muir had gone upon the witness stand and explained to the court the expenses attendant upon the education of the two minor children of her deceased husband. The eldest boy is seventeen and attends college, and the other one is only five years of age. She said that she thought that the expenses aggregated from $50 to $75 a month. The court went her one better and made it $100.

The estate of the late Mr. Muir has been appraised at over $61,000.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

FAMILY JARS. John Crum and his wife were before Justice Young yesterday to have their private quarrels straightened out. But the justice refused to undertake the job and "fired" the tribe. They live at Melrose junction, and are colored people. The husband works for a family where there is a good looking colored nursemaid, and Mrs. Crum fell into the playful habit of laying for the nursemaid and her hubby with a shotgun. He swore yesterday that he worked at the place for the money there was in it, and never wandered from the paths of rectitude and virtue with the nursemaid or anyone else, but that he had "a crazy devil for a wife" that was eaten up with jealousy. Case dismissed.

SENT TO HIGHLAND. David Fowle was ordered committed to Highland yesterday by Judge Wilbur. Recently he got up in the night, seized a razor and wanted to kill the people he saw pursuing him—of which his wife was one. In trying to get the razor away, Mrs. Fowle was cut on the hand and wrist. Fowle said that he acted as he did because he thought his wife "was a little too fresh" with people in the same house. He then went on to make rambling remarks that showed he didn't know what he was talking about.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

STEWART'S CAN DONNATIN'S GOAD.

LITTLE JOKE THAT MADE MUCH BAD BLOOD.

Dunaway Brought Back Charged with Assault — Street-Railways Want Trial by Jury—Coe First Fined, Then Locked up in Insane Ward in County Jail.

A somewhat unique case, growing out of personal bitterness between James Stewart and C. E. Donnatin, was disposed of in Justice Chambers's court yesterday. The only action was in clearing from the docket a charge against Stewart for disturbing the peace, Donnatin having failed to appear to prosecute the case.

Some time since the latter resigned a responsible position as superintendent of the Pacific Electric railway, and Stewart, who lived on an opposite corner on Buena Vista street, took advantage of the circumstance to annoy Donnatin. On the corner of his own lawn Stewart set up an empty oil can, which he had previously lettered thus: "He has been," and then followed a space; below this the signature "C. E. D."

Of course this created no end of gossip as to what the thing meant and Stewart was only too glad to explain. With eagerness he waited not a second opportunity, but read it to all who would hear: "C. E. D., he has been canned." Stewart further explained for fear he might not be clearly understood, that "canned" meant discharged from the employment of the Pacific Electric Company.

When Mr. Donnatin got tired of the can, which made the trouble between himself and Stewart the talk of the neighborhood, he requested Stewart to remove it, but as he declined to do so Donnatin had him arrested for disturbing the peace. After the suit had been brought Stewart relented, removed the can and the suit was dropped.

PLEADS SELF-DEFENSE.

KNIFE WIELDER ARRAIGNED.

Glenn Dunaway, the young man who several months ago got into a altercation with Pearl Parker on Bellevue avenue, in which Parker was cut with a knife, was yesterday brought down from San Francisco by Sheriff White and turned over to the police.

The injury to Parker was not serious, but Dunaway skipped out and was found working at Point Richmond. He was arraigned before Justice Austin on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and his case set for Thursday, George McKenzie, Deputy United States Attorney, appearing for the defendant.

The plea will be self-defense, and Dunaway will make no effort to prove that he did not wield the knife.

IS LAW AGAINST THEM?

RAILROADS DEMAND JURY.

Yesterday all the defendant street railways appeared in Justice Chambers's court and entered pleas of not guilty to the charge of violating the provisions of their franchises in failing to sprinkle the streets. Each asked for a jury trial and the time was set for June 28 at 10 o'clock a.m. The entire proceeding was of a formal character and without incident.

BOTH DRUNK AND CRAZY.

GEORGE COE IN INSANE WARD.

Under the name of Frank Smith, a man named George R. Coe of Colton was yesterday fined $5 by Justice Austin, on a charge of having appeared on the streets in a state of intoxication. Beyond imposing the fine nothing more serious fell to the lot of Coe in the Police Court, for Deputy Sheriff Hutchinson appeared and took him away to the County Jail, where he will be charged with insanity.

Coe evidently has wheels, not only indicated by his attempt to cut himself with a knife while drunk prior to his arrest on Monday, but by his actions while in Police Court yesterday, which, while not demonstrative, indicated that his mind was upset.

BRIEF NOTES.

BOGIO'S WILD RIDE.

Jean Bogio, the Italian who was arrested on Aliso street for driving a horse almost to death, was charged with drunkenness in the Police Court yesterday, when the story was told of his wild ride, and of the horse afterwards lying in the street bleeding at the nostrils. Justice Austin fined him $10, and in consideration of this fact Bogio was not arrested for cruelty to animals, as had been contemplated.

R. W. Becker and H. J. Foulk, convicted of having stolen three gold rings from a woman's room, were each sentenced to sixty days on the chain gang.

Harry Elgin, a chunk of a pickaninny, stole a bundle of gunny sacks from a shed, down on Maple avenue, and will hear his fate from the lips of Justice Austin this morning.

WATER, NOT OIL.

Backers of the Pinal Paraffine Company Meet with Bitter Disappointment.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 7.—Bitter disappointment has come to the plucky backers of the Pinal Paraffine Oil Company, which has been sinking a well near the Gila, east of Florence. At the depth of 1335 feet the drill passed through hard, oil-soaked rock, and penetrated the oil zone, only to encounter a body of water, which later rose in the well to within 200 feet of the surface. Mingled with the water is oil in considerable quantities. According to the driller, the oil appears to have been flushed out by the water. The stockholders, all of them Arizonans, are not wholly discouraged, however, though they have put $30,000 into the hole. Their company is not in debt, and they propose its shall be in the same condition. They have stopped the work, and will raise additional funds, with the expectation of continuing down to a depth of 2500 feet, if necessary, to strike the oil that undoubtedly lies within the basin. The water will be cased out, and the drill sand passed through in the hope of striking the real article below.

The Tonto Basin damsite in the northwest of Riverside, has many of the same geological characteristics. A seepage is reported to have been found near the dam and J. B. Newman and others have located claims, and have announced their intention of drilling. Discovery of oil at that point would be providential, as one of the largest items of the erection of the dam will be the oil.

The Lacey Manufacturing Company of Los Angeles has a contract for building a number of oil tanks along the lines of the Santa Fé, Prescott & Phoenix and Phoenix and Eastern railroads. All the engines of the roads named are to be changed to oil burners.

JEFF ROUNDS INTO SHAPE.

Says He'll Be Ready on the Seventeenth Inst.

Postponement Story Ascribed to Dick Adams.

Outcome and Memories Get the Oaks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARBIN SPRINGS (Cal.) June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When today's paper arrived here, the whole camp was thunderstruck to read that Jeffries had requested the postponement of the fight. When interviewed, Billy Delaney said: "Two weeks ago, I was afraid that we might be compelled to ask a postponement because Jeffries trembled into shape very slowly. Since then, he has satisfied me that he will be to the post in fine condition. He may not win in a hurry, as he never was a hurricane fighter, but the shortenders who have been reaping a harvest lately will fail to cash this time. If Adams or anyone else went to Coffroth and make this request, it was entirely without my knowledge or consent.

When Jeffries was questioned, he refused to discuss it, but simply said: 'I'll be ready to fight on the 17th, and I'll be in good condition.'

To those who have been here and seen the champion work, the idea of making a postponement seems absurd. He is in good condition, and has had hard work for the past week. Yesterday morning when he got through his work in the gymnasium, the champion said: 'I have to work very hard in order to perspire, which shows that I worked all the fat off. I will have to do a little easy training from now on, or I will overdo my training. I'm fine now, and am very strong.'

DICK ADAMS DID IT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News from Harbin Springs seems to show that Dick Adams made the proposal for a postponement of the fight without any special authorization by Jeffries. When Adams left, Jeffries remarked that he wished he had two weeks more to get into perfect form, and Adams thought it would do no harm to see whether Coffroth and Munroe would agree to this. Advices from Harbin today say Jeffries is working hard. One of his stunts was skipping the rope 1100 times. His wind is fine, but he has not indulged in as much boxing as he would like, because his sparring partners are both sore from blows.

Munroe is working like a Trojan at Ocean Beach. He takes on two or three husky amateurs and professionals every afternoon, and he is improving greatly in speed and science. Munroe's friends think the proposal from Jeffries' camp was intended to effect the betting and reduce the present long odds.

BUTTLING'S RUN.

CALIFORNIAN A COMER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. L. McGinnis started his Star Pointer-Palemara colt, Buttling, bred at the del Paso, in the last race at Belmont this afternoon, and missed a mile to win a great fortune. Buttling opened at 20, went to 40, and at one many books had 100 to 1 up. As far as known, not a dollar was bet on the half-brother of Africander in the maiden start. Buttling got off third, ran a couple of lengths behind to the stretch, there ran over his field, winning by three lengths, pulled up. McGinnis was offered $10,000 for Buttling after the race, but refused it. The colt ran like a "comer."

Newton Bennington gathered in the handicap with his grand-looking Watercress colt, Waterside, also a California product. Like Buttling, Waterside ran like a top-notcher.

The California horse Africander again had his measure taken by Maj. Daingerfield, being beaten half a length in a fierce drive for the rich Standard Stakes. Africander is getting back to his best form, and will surely prove a mighty factor in the Suburban.

MAJ. DAINGERFIELD'S DRIVE.

WINS THE STANDARD STAKES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Major Daingerfield, at 6 to 1 in the betting, won the Standard Stakes of $5000, one mile and a quarter, at Gravesend today. Three-quarters of a length back came Afrikander, the favorite, with Hermis third, fifteen lengths behind and very tired.

At the lifting of the barrier, Hermis went to the front, followed by Montreson and Major Daingerfield. This order was maintained around the paddock turn and into the back stretch. At the three-quarters pole, Fuller sent Afrikander up to the leader, Hermis, and in a few strides Afrikander was leading. Rounding into the stretch, Major Daingerfield moved up, and in a hot drive in the last eighth he gained the decision. The track was muddy. Summary:

Handicap, about six furlongs: John F. won, Ormonde Right second, Collector Jessup third; time 1:11 4-5.

Selling, mile and a sixteenth: Flammula won, Coppellia second, Ella Snyder third; time 1:51 3-5.

Five furlongs, handicap: Waterside won, Gamara second, Amber Jack third; time 1:02 4-5.

The Standard Stakes, mile and a quarter: Major Daingerfield, 128 (Martin,) 6 to 1, won; Afrikander, 126 (Fuller,) 7 to 5, second; Hermis, 128 (Phillips,) 3 to 2, third; time 2:10. Montreson, Ostrich and Broomstick also ran.

Selling, mile and a sixteenth: Cincinnatus won, The Rymer second, Dapple Gold third; time 1:54.

Five furlongs: Butteling won, Niblick second, Confessor third; time 1:02 3-5.

LATONIA OAKS.

CLAY BROS.' STABLE LUCKY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CINCINNATI (O.) June 7.—The historic Latonia Oaks was decided at Latonia today, and resulted in a victory for Clay brothers' entry, Outcome and Memories. Outcome won first money, and Memories took the place easily. Variora, the only other starter, was third all the way. The net value to the winner was $3750. The track was lightning fast. Summary:

Six furlongs: Icicle won, Ether second, Haidee third; time 1:14¾.

Five furlongs: Handsaera won, Dixelle second, Falsetto third; time 1:02.

Seven and a half furlongs: Montpelier won, Dutiful second, Two Penny third; time 1:34¾.

Latonia Oaks, one mile and a quarter: Outcome, 112 (Monroe,) 1 to 5 won; Memories, 107 (Davis,) 1 to 5, second; Variora, 117 (Fisher,) 4 to 5, third; time 2:06¾. Three starters, Outcome and Memories, coupled in betting.

Five and a half furlongs: Dr. Leggo won, Retor second, McClellan third; time 1:08¾.

One mile: Jake won, Jigger second, Christiana third; time 1:40.

S. V. C. HIRES CRACK COACH.

Catholic Collegians to Go In for Athletics.

Fathers Create New Chair for the Newcomer.

Joseph Haggerty is the Man. Plans for Future.

St. Vincent's College is to have a profesional coach, who will fill the chair of physical education, a new branch of the Catholic institution's work, decided upon this week by the fathers who compose the faculty.

Feeling more than satisfied with the really excellent showing made by the St. Vincent baseball team, Father Glass, head of the college, after conferring with his associates, and investigating the sentiment of the young athletes there attending, determined upon this rather expensive step, and about September 1, a splendidly-recommended coach will arrive from North Dakota, where he is now handling the State Normal School baseball, track and football teams.

"We decided to get a man with a good old Irish name, in addition to his manifold other qualifications," said Father Glass in humorous vein, "and I think all will agree with me that in Joseph Haggerty we have maintained all the traditions. Mr. Haggerty comes high, but we decided we must have him, and he will, immediately on his arrival, take hold of the boys in earnest."

Haggerty two years ago was one of the crack Dartmouth College football team, an aggregation of 'way down easters that made a good record in the season's play. Since his graduation from that university, he has been in charge of the football and track work of the Normal School of North Dakota. He comes highly recommended by leading Chicago educators who are familiar with his work of last season, which culminated in his school winning all the loose championships in its State. He will be responsible for nothing but physical education at St. Vincent's, and will be given all the authority necessary to get good results from the abundance of raw material now in St. Vincent's College. In addition to his football and track ability, Haggerty is heralded as a first-class baseball man, though the Catholic collegians do not need much further tutelage in that line if results be criterion.

It is understood that Coach Haggerty is to receive something like $1200 a year salary, and it was only after carefully investigating his qualifications that the fathers decided upon so expensive an experiment as hiring him, but the feeling of satisfaction, and the enthusiasm manifested by the St. Vincent's student body since the announcement have given full assurance that the move will be a successful one.

It is the intention of Father Glass to have a good working organization in operation by the time the new coach arrives to begin his labors, and yesterday morning at a meeting of the student body an athletic board of control was perfected. Fathers Glass and McDonnell of the faculty, Maurice Moriarty of the baseball team, and J. P. Hogan of the student body were agreed upon as four of its members, and the new coach will be the fifth, taking office on his arrival.

Considerable gymnasium work is contemplated for next summer, and this will be under the direction of Coach Haggerty. Extensive improvements to the gymnasium facilities are planned.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association of St. Vincent's College Monday the election of baseball officers for the coming season was in order. Wells Lane, the promising young pitcher, was chosen captain to succeed Robert Fitswilliam, whose faithful and able services of the last three years were fittingly recognised by the presentation of a handsome gold-headed cane appropriately inscribed, it being a gift from the student body. To Henry Murrietta, the retiring baseball manager, a handsome pennant was presented. The new manager will be Will Quinn, whose vociferous rooting in time of baseball battle is one of his qualifications for the office. Father Glass declared a holiday in honor of the event, a manifestation of favor that made an immense hit with the youngsters.

The beginning of football practice has not been dated as yet, and it is not likely much can be done in this line until Coach Haggerty arrives, though the work of tearing up St. Vincent's field and changing it from basegall grounds to football gridiron will be started at once. The baseball days are now over, and practice will be intermittent only, though the second team will hold forth as ever on its own ballwick.

Just what the prospects are for St. Vincent's College in track athletics and football is a hard question to answer at the present time. Baseball is about the only thing the collegians have gone in for as yet, though S.V.C. has had some fair football teams. When it is considered that these were self-developed, it may not seem unreasonable to predict for the Catholic collegians a tight little football eleven under skilled and scientific coaching. The school certainly has the raw material, and plenty of it; while there are not many big fellows a wearin' o' the brown of S.V.C., they will probably make up for size in grit, strength and speed when once taught the tricks.

In athletics proper, the school has an excellent chance if the lads show the right amount of enthusiasm. Coach Haggerty will have plenty of time to get lines on his best men before the track season opens next spring, and it will be up to him to make good for the school.

Los Angeles, 6; Portland, 3.

Dugdale, Baby Impresario of the Pacific Coast League, made his first visit to Los Angeles' last Tuesday, and while he doubtless likes the town, you can never make him believe that they don't use horseshoes in the foundations of all the houses for miles around.

He is evidently a good fellow that ought to make a hit in any man's country, for he is large, good looking and has a front porch big enough for a strictly modern house. These fellows don't get mad very easily, but it's about a ten-to-one bet that he had a lot of sore spots all over him yesterday after that game out at the Chutes grounds, for he outhit and outfielded us, and yet couldn't win. The baseball luck seemed to be "wid us," however, and if he had cried his eyes out it wouldn't have made much difference.

It might be mentioned that "Dug" had troubles, and it seemed that all of them came in one inning. This is not as bad as it seems under ordinary circumstances, for fat men can bear up under a great load of anguish. Still it was bad for "Dug," for after beating Oakland twice on Sunday, he must have had an idea that somebody would be a little easy, but the score shows that it wasn't we, so to speak.

"Dug" put in a young fellow named Druhot to pitch and the Kid, as "Dug" calls him, pitched fairly good ball, except in the fifth inning. About that time the locals climbed on the young man for various swats, and with the assistance of the other things that ruffled the spasm with crimson trimmings, the Looloos dished out four runs, which proved to be all that was needed.

Hall pitched for the locals, and was pasted around the lot in rather easy fashion for eleven hits, but as luck would have it, he won. As a general thing when he pitches a tight-wad game he loses, as was instanced when he pitched four-hit games against both 'Frisco and Oakland and lost.

There really wasn't much in the game except that fifth inning, and then it was bing! bing! bing! bing! and Druhot was skinned. He has a lot of things all pitchers have, including arms and legs, but it sometimes needs more than these to win games. The fact was that the Looloos soaked the boy when he didn't expect it.

We got the first run in the very first on a pass to Toman, singles by Flood and Smith and Cravath's out at first. Then the Dugouts came back in the next with one on singles by Beck and Steelman and errors by Flood and Smith, and made one more in the third on Druhot's single, Drennan's sacrifice and McCreedie's smash to right field. This was all that occurred until the fifth, which in addition to four runs for us, was featured by Umpire McDonald putting Center Fielder Drennan out of the game for swearing. Just about the time that Smith hit a double to right field Drennan began to cuss Druhot for his poor work. McDonald told Drennan to dry up, and Drennan not only refused to, but talked back to the umpire, and for this he was put out of the game.

Spies opened the fifth by fouling to Francis, and then Druhot passed Hall. Toman advanced him with a single and Smith scored him with his double. Beck then juggled a ball, Toman scoring and Smith running to third. Smith scored on Bernard's single, and Bernie on Cravath's single, and all this lost the game for the Dugouts. In the next we scored another on Chase's double past third, and infield outs by Spies and Hall.

The victims scored their final in the seventh on singles by Shea and Thielman, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

There are plenty of errors sprinkled through the score, but there was more than enough brilliant work to make up for them. Toman was on the first end of a pretty double play, and Chase did great business in the fourth inning by dashing toward the plate, scooping Steelman's bunt with his left hand and forcing Francis out at third base.

AMERICAN WAS FAVORITE.

WALSH AND STANLEY DRAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—At the National Sporting Club there has been a well-fought boxing contest for $1500 between bantamweights, Jimmy Walsh of Boston and "Digger" Stanley of England, says an American dispatch from London. They boxed fourteen rounds, at 112 pounds, to a draw.

Despite the American's fight a month ago against his opponent, he was favorite, and much money was bet on him at 4 to 5. Walsh's weight was 111½ pounds, while Stanley tipped the beam at 110.

VERY LARGE SCORES.

The Van Nuys and the Levys played at Prager Park yesterday afternoon and it was certainly a large and exciting game, for it ended in the tie score of 24 to 24. It is not often these days that any team can make that many runs in an afternoon, but both performed the feat and as the score shows, all the players kept at it until they got black in the face. This tie game will be played off in a few days.

"Hallos, Old Boy!" Too Much.

An anecdote of the elder Sothern, the famous father of E. H. Sothern, recalled by "T. P.," concerns a practical joke which had serious consequences. He had made an appointment to dine at a restaurant with an actor friend named Toole, and was exasperated at having to wait long, and hungry, for his fellow guest. Seeing at a neighboring table an old gentleman who was evidently more cross and hungry than himself, Sothern went up behind him, and hitting him a pounding whack on the back greeted him familiarly, "Hallos, old boy!"

"What the devil do you mean, sir!" cried the old gentleman, starting to his feet, purple with fury.

"I—I really beg your pardon, sir," stammered Sothern. "I took you for an old friend of mine. Pray forgive me."

The old gentleman resumed his seat, growling. Toole appeared at last, and Sothern, after abusing him for his unpunctuality, arranged with him for the dinner. While they were waiting for it to be served Sothern said:

"Say, Toole, I'll bet you a sovereign you won't go up to that old boy, hit him on the back, and say, 'Hallos, old boy!'"

"Done!" cried Toole heartily; and he went behind the old gentleman, gave him a sounding smack on the back and shouted familiarly, "Hallos, old boy!"—and was promptly knocked down.—[Harper's Weekly.

EDITORIAL SECTION—PART II, MAIN SHEET.

BUSINESS.

Bull factors sent July Wheat up to 88@88½ at the close in the Chicago pit yesterday. Corn was active and oats firm, though quiet. The New York stock market is still in professional hands and displays no breadth. The impression prevails that some of the larger interests are taking stocks.

ORANGES, PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE.

No one product of Southern California soil has been so potential in the developing of this section as the orange crop. All other products together have not brought so many people here. No doubt there was some sentiment about this. There is a glamor of poetry about an orange grove which fascinates the mind of even staid business men. But it was not all glamor, not all poetry. The balance sheets of orange growers and their bank accounts have presented very attractive features, even to the minds of those in whose imagination sentiment plays the greatest part. The best orange groves have been held at $1000 per acre. They have brought the price. The returns have fully justified the price. This is all matter of history, and nearly all the story is too well known to call for extended discussion.

There is one phase of the industry which, perhaps, is not so generally understood. No doubt there have been and are many who are persuaded in their own minds that when any man or woman receives $1000 per acre for an orange grove the seller was guilty of extortion and the buyer was a dupe. Each side of this view is a grave mistake. The person who has taken a piece of good land in all respects suitable for orange culture, paid the governing price for it and the water right, which must go with such land to make it suitable for the purpose, planted it to good trees and taken proper care if it until it was ten to fifteen years old, knows that the grove cost $1000 per acre to bring the trees to perfection. The buyer who paid intelligent care to the grove and kept it up to a high standard of cultivation has learned that he never made an investment in the spheres of legitimate business devoid of the uncertainty of risky speculation which was sounder than the money he put in oranges. His yearly balance sheets would show that.

"But that is all past," did the discouraged—the too easily discouraged—say? No, it is not all past. Let no man entertain so erroneous a thought. The orange grower, three to five months ago, was certainly in a deplorable plight. Our orange crop was the largest ever grown here. It must be marketed at the East. Had conditions at the marketing point been normal every carload of this great crop would have been marketed at fair prices. Making all allowances for faulty methods in handling the crop, the weather throughout the East and Middle West, cold beyond all precedent in two generations, and continuedly cold beyond such precedent, has been the one great cause of most of the trouble. Now, if any sane man will just arise in public and say he knows any industry and form of investment for money where all times and seasons show uniform profits, that man will certainly have earned the right to wear the belt as the greatest prevaricator this poor world has seen since Ananias was carried out and buried.

But time has been on the wing and the good old summer time is with us. The great bulk of the orange crop has been marketed and general results are in sight. Now, when the pig is hit with a stone there is a great noise, but while the whole herd is feeding tranquilly, peace reigns supreme. During the bad spell there was no end of shouting by the growers, who saw so much "red ink" in their account sales. But the good returns coming in for two months only provoke a quiet smile of satisfaction.

The season is not going to be so bad. There are a good many people who will not get rich from this year's crop. But if the facts could be gathered in one view of the number of careful, capable business men who have made good money out of their orange groves this year, these facts would be most impressive. There are large growers who have shipped hundreds of carloads and received not less than $125 net for any one carload, and who have received up to $750 per car, gross. There are many twenty-acre groves whose net returns will run $1500 to $2500 per grove for the season now drawing to a close. And this is the worst year in the history of the industry—a period of over twenty years. There is not a good, well-cared for grove in Southern California which has not paid well on an estimate of $1000 per acre for all the time of its being in full bearing, including the present year.

As to the future. There will be a radical change next year in the marketing of the crop. There will be a greater effort made than ever to distribute the crop. There will be less contention and competition between the growers than for years. The disastrous policy of deliberately breaking the market at certain points to destroy non-exchange shippers with a view of driving them into the Exchange is pretty sure to have come to a timely end. The recent severe ripping up of local methods that so long prevailed, to the direct injury of the grower, did good; and those methods can never be reestablished.

Let no owner of a grove lose his courage or his head. Wait! Wait and see. It does not take a prophet, only a man with eyes in his mind to see that next season is likely to be an unusually good one in the orange business.

The California orange crop is not likely to be larger year by year to an indefinite measure. The whole district west of the San Gabriel River will, year by year, produce less and less oranges. The higher mesas will go for the homes of people who will not raise oranges to sell. The low lands there and elsewhere will go into alfalfa and pasture. The high, sunny exposures with light soil and plenty of water east of the San Gabriel are about all taken up now. Meantime the population of North America grows apace.

Every business man in Southern California should give earnest heed to these considerations. If the orange industry is to come to naught, what will be the fate of the other forms of investment? If the thousands of orange growers around Riverside, Redlands, Ontario, Pomona and all over this section who have enjoyed such handsome incomes from their groves are going down in ruin to beggary, then what will become of the handsome brick blocks, the fine hotels, the merchandise houses, the banks and all the allied forms of investment which have paid big revenues because the orange growers had plenty of money to spend? It will not do for the banker, the landlord or the merchant at these places to allow dismal forebodings to rob him of his senses. If his neighbor, the orange grower, goes to the wall, all the rest are "up against" the same fate.

But there is nothing new about this panic as to orange growers. It is coming into play all the time, now as to one industry, now as to another. Nine people who see no further than their nose or than tomorrow, are all the time rushing from one bad thing to a better at great loss, while the good thing of today is the bad thing of tomorrow, and then they rush back to the bad thing of yesterday, which has become the good thing of today. Like an old ferry boat they wear out crossing the stream, and only carry goods which they never keep or enjoy. The one fellow out of ten is often the wise fellow who never resorts to the booming business of the hour, which sells at abnormal prices. He prefers to take the depressed industry at a sacrifice figure and nurse it until the sun of prosperity shines on this spot again. That sun will shine again on the orange industry as sure as the sun in the sky will rise tomorrow.

Another word. It is not only the cities in the midst of the orange groves, their banks and mercantile houses which are so vitally interested in the great industry. Los Angeles has the same interest. Take the product of our petroleum wells. This brings in a large sum of money month by month. Who buys it? What is it used for? Largely by orange growers to pump water for irrigating their groves. So with most of the industries of this city. Cut off the business brought here by the orange growers and the business done in all lines will shrink materially. It is the interest of all that the interest of the orange grower be fostered. All it needs is fair play from outsiders and courage on the part of those directly concerned. With these, orange growing will flourish in the future as it has in the past, in spite of the temporary drawback of the present.

The failure of the Convention of Pert Paragraphers, held in St. Louis under the guise of American Humorists, to invite Col. Henry Watterson to address them, was no doubt an oversight.

DEMOCRATS AFTER THE HOUSE.

The Democratic Congressional Committee, headed by Chairman Cowherd, is about to "open a campaign for the election of a Democratic House in the Fifty-ninth Congress," according to a Washington dispatch. It is reported that the entire Democratic contingent at the headquarters of the committee in Washington "is enthusiastic over the prospects of overturning the Republican majority of twenty-four votes necessary to secure control of the next House."

This is a laudable enough ambition on the part of our esteemed opponents. To crystallize it into practical realization will be a more difficult matter, perhaps, than they imagine in the midst of their prevailing enthusiasm. If Republicans do their duty in the coming campaign, as they are expected to do it, the Republican majority in the House will be more likely to be increased than to be changed into a Democratic majority.

The House of Representatives is a somewhat uncertain political factor, however, and it is not altogether safe for any party to count with too much confidence upon controlling it. It has shown some remarkable and seemingly unaccountable fluctuations in the past, and these may be repeated. Political wisdom consists in putting up as strong a campaign as possible, and in carefully refraining from the folly and uncertainty of counting Congressional chickens before they are hatched.

So far as can be discerned from a superficial glance at the situation there is no very solid ground upon which to base the alleged enthusiasm of the Democratic contingent. For more than seven years, under a Republican administration, with Congress Republican in both branches, the nation has prospered as it never before prospered. There is no very manifest desire on the part of the people to exchange this prosperity for a period of inactivity and disaster such as the country experienced under the second administration of President Cleveland. The clamor for a "change," if any such clamor exists outside the ranks of prospective Democratic office holders, is not audible as yet in any section of the country. There is no very tangible evidence indicating that the people have so soon forgotten the free soup-house era of 1893-94. It would seem that until the unfortunate experiences of that period shall have been forgotten, the people will not be very anxious to elect another Democratic Congress nor another Democratic President.

But matters political are more or less uncertain, and the composition of the House of Representatives, as we have said, is not a very safe proposition upon which to lay a wager. Therefore it will not do for Republicans to assume that they have an easy victory in the coming campaign. The best way to assure the retention of Republican control in the House, so far as it can be assured, is to work for it as though it were only a remote possibility instead of a strong probability. If Republicans put up a rousing campaign in every Congress district in the country, they can probably increase their present majority in the House by a goodly number of votes. This should be their answer to the advance announcement that their opponents are planning to capture the House.

The disappointed Express, which has printed many absurd things in the course of its discussion of the city-printing case, reserved one of its most absurd delusions for the last. Yesterday the Afternoon Cry of Grief "gave it out cold" that the city printing was awarded to The Times in exchange for this paper's support of some visionary candidate for Mayor. The Express did not undertake to enlighten the public as to how the Council became a party to the alleged dire conspiracy and now six Councilmen, not all of the same political party, were harmonized and made to do the bidding of this mythical candidate for Mayor; but it merely made the unsupported and unwarranted statement that "in agreeing to support a certain candidate for Mayor next fall The Times exacted as its price the printing contract." Nothing could be more ridiculous, absurd and untrue, and the Express knows it. The Times secured the city printing contract on the merits, and the Express knows that, also.

The horror of the Colorado tragedy grows as the details are made known. The story of the assassination is sickening, almost unthinkable. And perhaps the end is not yet, for the mine owners and other law-abiding citizens are in deadly earnest in their determination to drive out of the Cripple Creek district the murderous gang of unionists who have brought about the present unspeakable condition of affairs. The unionists are armed, martial law has been declared, wholesale arrests are being made, and the situation is so binding that an encounter between the opposing forces may come at any moment and bring results far more serious than any which have yet come. If the Colorado tragedy does not sound the death-knell of lawless unionism, in that State and throughout the country, it will be nothing short of a miracle.

Los Angeles is not the only place that has its school troubles. A schoolteacher in the Philippines, writing in the Manila Times, protests strongly against the present methods in the islands, as he sees them. The writer quotes and approves a statement in a Times editorial to the effect that "there seems to be an abundance of theory and a noticeable absence of practical errangement in reference to the provincial schools." He accounts for this by charging that the general superintendent and many division superintendents had practically no public-school experience before taking their present positions. He has several alleged grievances, and school conditions appear to be arousing considerable interest in our new possessions.

Speaking of Mr. Folk, the Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "Four years hence, after two terms as Governor of Missouri," etc. The Constitution of Missouri gives to the Governor a single term of four years and prohibits his reelection. Hence, all the rest that the Plain Dealer said is "tommyrot," especially when it is quite plain now that a good Republican is liable to keep Mr. Folk out of even the one term the law allows.

It is now reported that the Sultan of Turkey is planning a final massacre that will wipe the Armenians from the earth and shock the world with its atrocities. What a bloodthirsty old codger he must be, and how impotent the governments of the earth appear in the presence of his eccentricities.

Some men appear to be gifted in the way of doing useless things. A man has just invented an apparatus to hear noises that are not now hearable to the unaided ear. And this at a time when there is a movement to lay rubber pavements! He should be suppressed. People hear too much already.

With Alabama and Alaska to start off the roll call at St. Louis, Judge Parker may consider himself very near the "logical candidate" nomination. Mr. Bryan is going to have the time of his life heading the judge off.

If it be true, as reported, that Mr. Cleveland was paid $2500 by the magazine that printed his two articles defending his own administration, he could profitably make a business of defending himself in the magazines.

If Uncle Sam should get angry enough to remove the lid from Morocco, there would be "something doing," sure enough.

MAY CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES.

The following is the sworn statement of circulation of The Times for May, 1904:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, ss.:

Harry Chandler, Assistant General Manager of the Los Angeles Times, does solemnly swear that the actual number of copies of that paper printed and sold for each day of May, 1904, as shown by the office records, was as follows:

MAY, 1904.

2	34,080	18	35,080
3	34,500	19	35,150
4	35,100	20	35,920
5	35,300	21	35,500

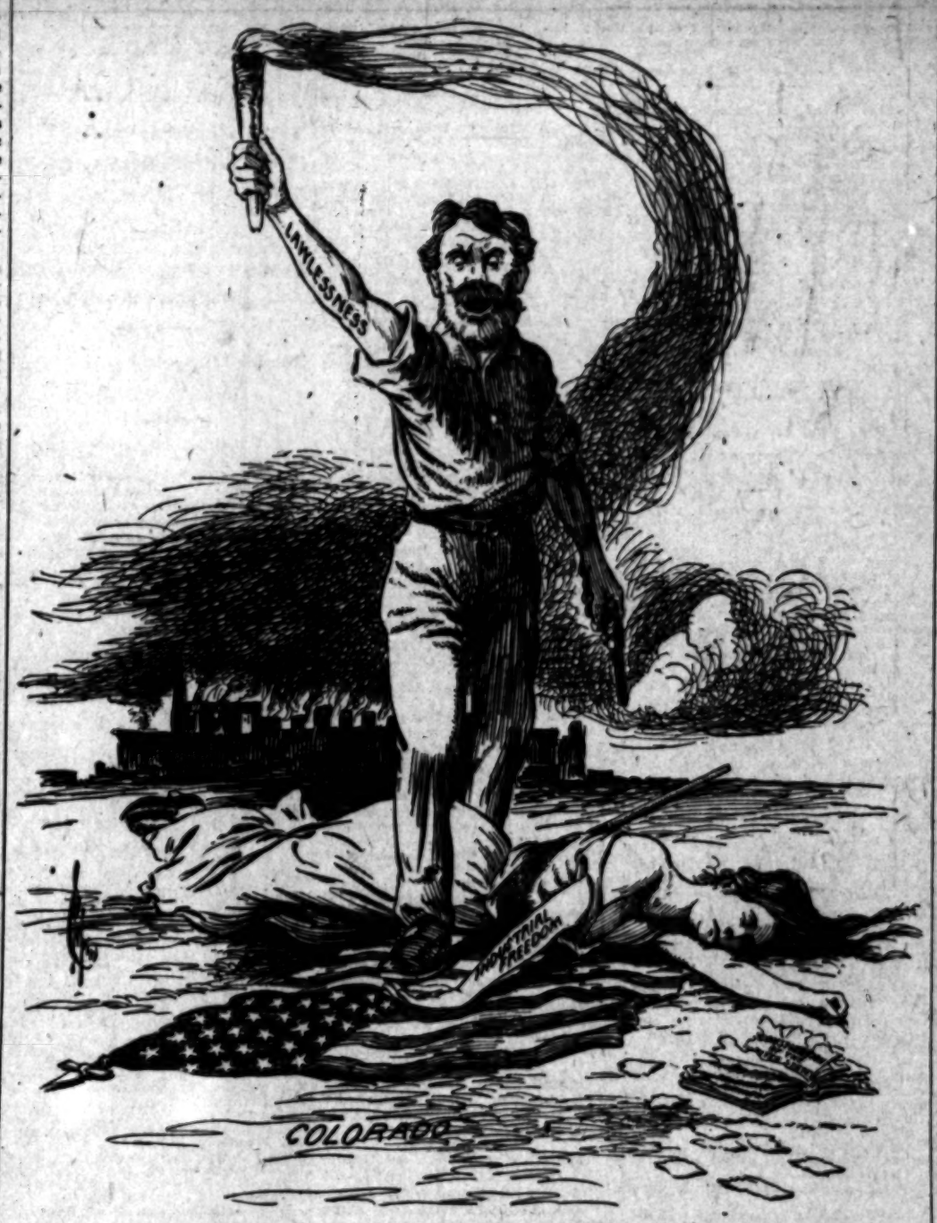
	Copies.
The average circulation for every day of May, 1904, was	37,863
The average circulation for every day of May, 1903, was	28,921
Showing an average daily loss for May, 1904, of	1,058

NOTE:—The large daily average for May, 1903, was due to the fact that The Times issued during that month a special Fiesta Number of over 100,000 copies; otherwise a substantial gain in the daily average for May, 1904, would have been shown.

MAY ADVERTISING.

During May, 1904, The Times printed a total of 66,751 inches of paid advertising, as against 65,124 inches for the same month of 1903, showing a gain of 1627 inches for the month. The average for each day of the month exceeded 100 columns.

The two other morning newspapers combined printed a total of 56,785 inches—one publishing 32,013 inches and the other 24,772 inches of paid advertising, the latter showing a loss of 12,889 inches in the single month named. It will be seen that The Times published sixty-eight pages more advertising during May than the other two morning Los Angeles papers combined.



And they call this a government of, by and for the people.

The Bishops Defended.

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I notice in your columns today a quotation from a letter of R. F. Bean of your city reading as follows:

HARD TO REACH.

"R. F. Bean of Los Angeles thinks famous preachers are not very 'get-at-able.'" in a letter to The Times he says in part:

"I have heard Bishops Maillalieu and Hamilton preach in Boston, but could not at any service get a chance to speak to either of them. A common bricklayer like me at that time had no business to speak with big preachers. Only those with nerve and push ever succeed in gaining an audience with the eminent divines. It is easier to see President Roosevelt or Secretary Shaw than many noted preachers."

I was born in Boston and lived there the larger part of my life. I have known Bishops Maillalieu and Hamilton for nearly forty years; knew them all through their ministerial life in Boston and Massachusetts, and I think every Methodist in that city and State will bear testimony that two more affable, democratic, approachable Methodist ministers never lived. W. F. Maillalieu, pastor of old Bunker Hill and Bromfield-street churches, was one of the most loving, approachable, Christian pastors I ever knew, and J. W. Hamilton at the People's Church, and old Temple street, in Boston, was loved by every man, woman and child who attended upon his worship.

Bricklayers or sewer builders, millionaires or mechanics would not make a feather's weight of difference in the hearty hand-shake and God bless you greeting of Bishops Maillalieu and Hamilton. I have had exceptional and unusual opportunities of observation, have been a Methodist all my life, and know whereof I speak. . . .

Neither nerve nor push were ever needed to secure a hearing with Bishop Maillalieu. I have met and known the prominent Methodist bishops and divines of the past forty years, and have entertained many of them at my home in Boston. Among them all I cannot recall one who possessed in larger degree the true spirit of open-handed, open-hearted, Christian sympathy and welcome than Bishop John W. Hamilton.

W. A. SIMMONS.

NEGROES TO CALIFORNIA.

[Houston (Tex.) Post:] San Antonio, Tex., May 25. One of the biggest exodus of negroes in the history of the South has been taking place from South Texas in the past week. Most of them have gone over the Southern Pacific to California, and those who did not go to that State have gone to other of the Western States, where practically racial equality is recognized.

This is, it is said, just the beginning of the movement, and intelligent negroes say that there will be thousands and thousands of the race go to other States.

This is due to the dissatisfaction of the negroes with what they claim is class legislation, such as the separate street car ordinance and other such laws. The negroes say that they are going to States where the color of their skin will be no bar to them.

One of the "Why Ma" Boys.

A small boy with an insatiable thirst for knowledge came over from Baltimore in the same car with me day before yesterday. He talked all the way over, and everything he said had a "why, ma," in it. Ma was worn to a frizzle when the train reached Washington.

"Come on," said she. "Thank goodness we're home. No, don't go that way. Come this way."

"I want to go out that end of the car," said the boy.

"You can't," snapped ma. "This is the end to go out of."

"Why, ma?" asked the boy. "Why ma? Don't the car stop at both ends?"—[Washington Post.

SINGLE SHOTS.

There will soon be enough water along the Kaw and the Missouri to float that Kansas City platform down to St. Louis.

It seems to have been almost as difficult a task in Illinois to get rid of a State convention as it usually is to adjourn the Legislature.

If the national Democratic party can't think of any one else, why not nominate that Mr. McAdoo, who has recently closed down the lid in New York?

The Tennessee judge who recently declared that a woman cannot be forced to tell her age, based his opinion upon precedent. Courts have tried it and failed.

"Now look out for June brides," says the Deseret News. Why? Our experience is that June brides are plenty able to look out for themselves. Is it different in Utah?

The fact that Panama has declared for the gold standard will be additional proof positive in Lincoln that the whole Panama Canal business was a political scheme.

"Now watch Memphis go up and New Orleans come down," says the Memphis Commercial-Appeal. Fortunately, this is not a quarrel between rival municipalities. It's just the baseball score.

A wealthy octogenarian in New York confessed that an octoroon blackmailed him out of $635,385. Old fools are nearly as bad as young ones, the only difference being that they are not so numerous.

A Pennsylvania court has decided that hanging for murder renders life insurance void. The insurance companies may now have to incorporate a new question into their present maze of interrogations: "Do you expect ever to be hanged for murder?"

The Pennsylvania State superintendent of education must be "awfully common." He recently told the High School girls that cooking leads all the fine arts, and that "the hand that bakes the best pies is the hand that rules the world." Now if he had said beans there might have been some hope for him.

A country boy in New Jersey sold "Lunar Oil stock" by mail and made loads of money before the government got him. And yet the rating of intelligence is supposed to be abnormally high in this country. It only goes to show the mad desire for lottery tickets that is only kept quiescent by the sheer force of law and law officers.

Tammany is lashing its striped tail these days, and giving other evidences of being "mad all over." But Tammany has always possessed a fatuity for falling outside the Democratic breastworks. It has opposed every Democratic nominee from 1876 down, and seems to be utterly incapable of determining which is the band wagon. But it doesn't make much difference. New York goes Republican, anyway.

"The people of Hartford," says the Courant, "may have their individual differences; they would be a dull lot if they didn't; but when it comes to Hartford herself, they are there altogether and all for Hartford." Now, that's the sort of sentiment that ought to prevail in every community. It is the sentiment that has made Los Angeles the metropolis it now is, and will continue to advance its interests. Local pride and local patriotism are the foundation stones of national pride and national patriotism. The man who loves his home city or town is qualifying himself to love all his country.

Boer Patriot to Become Kansas Farmer

Gen. William Fouche, Boer patriot, is now a Kansas farmer. He has purchased a quarter section of land near Genesco, in Ellsworth county, and took possession of the property one day last week. The purchase by Gen. Fouche is said to mean that a Boer colony will be located there. Gen. Fouche is in correspondence with former companions in arms who are still in South Africa, and who have been waiting for Gen. Fouche to find suitable location before they came to America with their families.—[Topeka Capital.

KNIGHT OF THE GOLDEN HAIR.

The world was fresh and fair,
When summoned loud from his truckled bed,
The Knight of the Golden Hair.
They garbed him stout in his [illegible] worn,
They laced his scarlet shoon,
And forth he strode in the [illegible] morn,
And called for his trusty spoon.

His trencher he scraped in minutes two ('Twas a bowl of mush, I wis,
But faith and forsooth, the bold [illegible] men
Have flourished on fare like this.
Then away, away, for he could not stay;
Good-by to the breakfast board;
A thousand ventures abroad by day
Were waiting his knightly sword.

He vanquished many a wily foe,
And hacked him limb from limb,
Ahittiger and lion he laid full low
In the depth of the woodshed grim.
In all the waste of the yard was naught
He did not bravely dare;
Dragons and giants and trolls he sought,
The Knight of the Golden Hair.

At last when the West with pink was soft,
And the sun rode high no more,
He captive fell to a spell he oft
Had battled in vain before.
Assailed by a host of drowsy charms
He yielded to magic deep;
And locked secure in his mother's arms
Was seized by the wizard Sleep.

FAREWELL TO THEIR VICAR.

CATHOLIC CLERGY'S DINNER TO CO-WORKER.

Words of Esteem and Appreciation for the Vicar-General of the Diocese Who is About to Leave on an Extended Trip Abroad—His Long Service Mentioned.

A farewell dinner was tendered yesterday afternoon to Very Rev. P. Harnett, V.G., by Right Rev. Thomas James Conaty, D.D., and the priests of the Catholic Diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles. The function took place in the red room of the Angelus. Good words for Father Harnett marked the speeches which followed the feast. Numerous wishes were expressed for a pleasant journey. He will leave tomorrow and spend about a year abroad. He expects to visit his birthplace in Ireland and do a part of the continent.

Leading the after-dinner speakers Bishop Conaty told of his relations with Father Harnett.

"I recall with pleasure the welcome of heart and of head voiced to me a stranger well nigh a year ago, by my vicar-general," the bishop said in part. "It has been a staff that I have leaned on carefully, constantly and securely ever since, for in that word, I recognized the loyalty of all the clergy of the diocese.

"Today we are gathered, not to praise, but to state the things that are true with regard to Father Harnett. For twenty-two years, dear father, you have nobly and unselfishly borne the burden of the day, and the heat in the cause of Catholicity in this diocese. When duty called you were ever at your post. We would not be men if we did not recognize in you one who was never found wanting. It has been a source of much satisfaction for me as bishop to feel that in the past year I could repose in your you supreme confidence. We labored not as two, but as one. You go to visit the home of your priestly ordination. In twenty-five years you have not been beyond the limits of the State of California.

"We bless you in your going, and pray that you will find many a pleasant hour in the land of your birth. And when you offer your obedience to His Holiness, Pius X, assure him of the love and the loyalty of the bishop and priests of this diocese. Tell him that no diocese in the world is more lovingly bound to the see of Peter than that in which you have worked. Tell him that the church's cause in California is in good keeping, and, when an account of stewardship is demanded, we shall not be ashamed to render it."

Rev. Joseph Nunan was called on by the bishop to voice the sentiments of the priests of the diocese. He said among other things:

"The fact that you enjoyed the confidence of our former bishops and that our present beloved bishop has made it manifest to all that you have in a special manner his confidence and affection so abundantly, testifies to your worth that we out of respect for your feelings omit to mention in this address your eminent qualities of head and heart. Such being our sincere feelings, we wish to make this address not a mere show of words, but a substantial demonstration of what we inwardly feel. We therefore take the liberty of presenting this check as a token of esteem, and we pray the god of the seas to temper the breezes to bear you along peacefully and bear you safely back to the shores of the Pacific, where greeting hosannas shall await you from many friends and admirers in this important diocese."

In responding to the speeches Father Harnett, in the course of his remarks, said:

"Words fail to express the sentiments of gratitude that animate me on this occasion. In the past twenty-five years I have occupied almost every position an ordinary priest could from the curacy to the vicar-generalship of this diocese. In all these years I cannot recall having said a word to cause pain to priest or laic. I have always tried to do my duty faithfully according to the reason that God gave me. I have been fortunate enough to have had the confidence of Bishop Mora, Montgomery and our present beloved Bishop Conaty. He came to us unknown personally, but his first remark to me was one to inspire confidence. Father, there shall be no secrets in the government of the diocese between you and me. He has always been kind and generous and for him I have had naught but the greatest love and respect and with my brothers in the priesthood I have felt that the lamented Leo XIII sent us a man of whom we are justly proud. I am grateful to my brother priests for their expressions of love and I will not forget them nor my friends of the laity during I visit the holy places."

Most Rev. Archbishop Bourgade of Santa Fé, N. M., expressed his appreciation of the vicar-general during the last twenty years and Father Victor voiced the good will of the Franciscans for Father Harnett. He declared him to be the same zealous priest in his chosen office that he knew eighteen years ago.

Father John Caballeria in the name of the Spanish priests and people expressed their confidence and esteem toward the vicar-general.

"In him the traditions of Junipero Serra are carried out," he said, "and his early training under Bishop Mora has been productive of much good, not only to the Spanish contingent of this diocese, which has always regarded him as a sound theologian and a zealous missionary, but to all the nationalities that recognize the obedience to Peter and his successor as the way to eternal life."

Besides the speakers there were present Rev. Fathers John Brady of San Bernardino, J. E. Sayers and John Caballeria of Plaza Church; R. Ferrer of Long Beach, O. Victor, O.S.F., of St. Joseph's, Very Rev. Joseph S. Glass, President of St. Vincent's College; E. Hill, C.M.; T. F. Fahey, Joseph Kaiser, William Quinlan and George Donnell of the Cathedral, P. Hawe of Santa Monica, H. S. O'Reilly of San Gabriel Mission, Joseph Nunan of Pomona, P. O'Reilly of St. Patrick's, Joseph Bleau of St. Mary's, John Reynolds of Santa Ana, Matthew Ternes of Needles, D. W. J. Murphy of Hollywood, J. Sheehy of Coronado, James Callahan of Santa Monica, M. Hennessey of Ocean Park, F. S. Beck of Anaheim, M. Scanlan of Shorb, Stephen Moore of Pasadena, M. Connealy of Redondo, P. G. Gay of Santa Paula, Joseph Dubbel of Anaheim, P. J. Ryan of San Pedro, Patrick Grogan of Ventura, M. McAuliffe of Sacred Heart, Clement Molony of St. Agnes's and John J. Clifford of Pico Heights.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Last night a farewell reception was tendered Father Harnett in the Y.M.I. rooms on Downey avenue by Montgomery Council, Young Men's Institute, Los Angelus Council, Young Ladies Institute.

A large company filled the handsomely decorated hall, and a pleasing programme was rendered. For many years Father Harnett was the rector of the parish of the Sacred Heart, and it was through his efforts that the handsome church edifice on South Sixth street was built. His former parishioners turned out en masse last night to honor their beloved former pastor.

MR. POST'S GOOD FIGHT.

Newspapers which a few years ago probably would have hesitated to publish Mr. Post's bold denunciation of unionism, now willingly give space to it and applaud his stand. This is only one of the straws which indicates the loss of unionism's influence.

Even union-ridden Missouri raises a voice of protest. The Marysville (Mo.) Tribune prints Mr. Post's circular, and says, in part:

"In business as in politics whenever a man makes a conspicuous success of his affairs he becomes the object of venomous attack inspired by envy and hatred.

"Labor unions are probably the most pernicious class of all the pack of hyenas who are continually trying to drag down those who get ahead in the world financially.

"An effort is now being made to ruin the business of C. W. Post, manufacturer of "Postum Cereal" and "Grape Nuts," because he advertises his products in the Los Angeles Times, one of the few newspapers in the country which has the nerve to refuse to allow the Typographical Union to dictate how its business shall be conducted.

"In a circular letter issued by Mr. Post a few brief sentences so strikingly depict the characteristics of the average labor union that they are worthy of preservation."

The Glendora (Cal.) Gleaner also takes up the matter and says, in part:

"The Gleaner has no desire to take up the fight of Mr. Post of the Postum Cereal products against the Typographical Union because he sees fit to advertise his goods in the Los Angeles Times, yet it does seem to us eminently unjust that any body of men should see fit to boycott and seek to destroy a man's business because he exercise what should be very American citizen's right, the right to manage his own business as he pleases, so long as he does not infringe on other peoples' rights and privileges. From the tone of Mr. Post's circular letter we conclude he knows how to run his business and has the courage and sand with which to do it."

FOR INSTITUTIONAL CHURCH.

A new and unique Shakespearean entertainment has been prepared by Rev. J. Frank Leland, the first presentation of which will be given in Blanchard Hall Friday afternoon and evening of this week to aid the fund for building the Men's Home, or hotel, now being erected by the Bethlehem Institutional Church, on Vignes street, under the supervision of Rev. Dana Barnett, the pastor. Mr. Leland said to a Times reporter that during twenty years' experience in the Christian ministry he had found a wide demand for some form of Shakespearean entertainment that could be used by churches, and educational organizations, where religious teaching keeps many from attending the theater, but who would gladly go to see and hear Shakespearean presentations freed entirely from that which they discountenance. Mr. Leland has endeavored to meet this demand. He tells the story of Hamlet and Ophelia, Romeo and Juliet, Othello and Desdemona, Macbeth, King Lear, Rosalind and Orlando, Portia and Bassanio, Viola and Sebastian, using from twenty-five to forty illustrations with each story, and seeking to bring out the great lessons intended in Shakespeare's noble writings. The illustrations were secured by having persons, in costume, to represent Shakespearean characters.

Surf Clothing for Women

An outing at the beach in sight? By all means take your own bathing suit, cap and shoes. Even if you could feel that the rented suits were clean it would be bad enough—but to feel uncertain about that, and then to be disgraced by their appearance, takes away half the pleasure of the bath. No economy in it, either—costs as much to rent a suit for a week or so as to buy a far better one.

Women's Bathing suits

Black twilled serge with sailor collar, trimmed with white braid.....$2.00
Same as above in either blue or black mohair.....$2.50
Of finer quality mohair, fancy braid trimmed and well made throughout.....$3.50
Suits of black or blue, Sicilian, trimmed with white soutache braid—fancy vest effect, sailor collar and reveres.....$4.85
Of fine blue Sicilian with double skirt, white braided.....$5.85
Others of fine Sicilian and silks in white, red, blue and black up to..$20

Caps and shoes

Women's bathing caps in all styles, including submarine, 10c to $1.25.
Some of them of rubber with tops of silk forming Bandanas.

REDLANDS JAIL NOT ABASTILE.

PRISONER REMOVES BRICKS AND WALKS OUT.

Lively Tussle with a Midnight Burglar—Business Men Decide to Form an Association—Closing of the Schools—Lacrosse Players Refuse to go Against Riverside.

REDLANDS, June 7.—The shack which Redlands calls its City Prison, this afternoon was the scene of a jail-break, Thomas Harris, digging his way through the brick wall of the prison inside of two hours after he had received a sixty-day sentence for disturbing the peace. Harris gained his liberty by removing the bricks with a piece of buggy spring which was passed to him from the outside by some friend. Elmer O'Brien, a fellow prisoner, was invited by Harris to join him in the escape, but refused to do so, and told the officers how Harris did the job when they discovered he had departed. Harris had been in Redlands but a short time but has not borne a creditable reputation.

TUSSLE WITH A BURGLAR.

Harry M. Morton, bookkeeper for Andrews Bros of Cherrycroft, in Yucaipe Valley, had a desperate fight about midnight last night with a supposed burglar. Morton was awakened by the fellow in his tent, when a hand-to-hand battle followed for several minutes, the intruder finally making his escape. The camp of cherry pickers was aroused and several gave chase but in vain.

BUSINESS MEN MEET.

A meeting of the city's business men was held last evening at the Board of Trade rooms to take steps toward the organization of the Redlands Merchants Association. The meeting was largely attended, nearly all the larger firms in the city being represented. J. J. Suess and R. C. Avery were named a Committee on Membership, and G. G. Kennard, C. W. Wade and C. E. Harper, a Committee on Constitution and By-laws. The merchants hope through this organization to better protect their mutual business interests as is done in many other cities.

SCHOOLS CLOSE.

The Lugonia Schools closed today for the year. During the day exercises were held in the lower grades at the several buildings. The regular graduation exercises for the grammar school will be held tomorrow evening at the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium.

The request of the Riverside lacross team for a game Saturday, has been refused by the Redlands team, but it is hoped to pull the game off July 4 at Riverside.

The Antlers' Café was damaged about $500 by fire Sunday night.

WOULD KEEP TIMBER UP.

SAN BERNARDINO VALLEY MEN WILL PROTEST.

Purposes to Ask the Government to Exercise Control Over Mountain Range so as to Stop the Cutting Away of the Forest—Mysterious Clubbing Affair.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 7.—Citizens of the valley about here propose to protect their water sources. They will urge on Uncle Sam that the needs of the agricultural lands below are greater than the necessities of the owners of the timber lands above. The tillers of the soil are looking with alarm on the cutting of the trees in the mountains whereby several millions of feet of lumber per year are produced.

The steady diminution of the volume of water running in the streams coming down the cañons is attributed to the denuding of the once well-wooded slopes.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last night a committee was instructed to investigate the situation and to draft resolutions calling the attention of the proper government officers at Washington to the matter. It is proposed to ask the government to exercise the right of eminent domain over the whole range and to put into effect stringent rules against the destruction of the forest.

The committee, composed of Col. W. L. Vestal as chairman, and others, went to work on the subject today and proposes to hasten the affair to its conclusion at an early date if possible.

The lumbermen's side of the case remains to be heard. If the fight against the cutting of timber proves successful, it will mean the throwing out of employment temporarily of hundreds of men, and the closing up of numerous mills, which have been installed at a large expense.

MYSTERIOUS CLUBBING.

A mysterious clubbing affair took place the other night at the home of Edward Cook. Late at night he was called to his door by a knock. On opening it he was dragged to the yard and while two men, one identified as Charles Paine, held him, a third beat him over the head with a revolver, lacerating the scalp and almost rendering him unconscious. His cries for help scared the assailants off. Cook refused to make complaint to the authorities, and declares he will not prosecute his assailants.

COE AGAIN.

George Coe, a prominent Colton man who attempted to kill his wife recently by stabbing her with a knife, is under arrest in Los Angeles, having made an attempt to commit suicide the other night, three relatives wresting a knife from him after a furious struggle. He threatened to kill his wife and son if liberated. His wife has stated her intention of bringing action for divorce, but she freely forgave him when he tried to murder her and likely will change her mind.

SCHEERER SEEKS DAMAGES.

C. Scheerer commenced suit today against T. J. Fleming for damages for injuries sustained by the explosion of a blast containing seventeen kegs of powder at the Oro Grande quarries several months ago. He wants $15,000. He appeared in court in a plaster cast. All his ribs were broken as a result of the explosion, which he alleges threw him 100 feet in a ditch.

LIGHT ON SANCHEZ.

Suit was filed this afternoon by Steven Peters against Jesus Sanchez, Mrs. Sadie Rooney and Mrs. B. Bliss of Redlands to quiet title to the Ruby mines in the Yucaipe Valley, made famous recently by the mysterious disappearance of Sanchez. His friends prosecuted a long search for him, presuming he had been murdered while guarding the mines. It develops he sold Mrs. Rooney and Mrs. Bliss the mines, but had no title to them, the property being owned by Steven Peters. His alleged crooked work is given as the explanation of his disappearance.

SAN BERDOO JOTS.

The Board of Supervisors this afternoon adopted a resolution rejecting all the bids for the general building and steel work on the County Jail, in this way disposing of the injunction proceedings brought unexpectedly yesterday by the Pauley Cell Company to prevent the board from signing a contract with the Riverside Foundry and Machine Company for the cells. New bids will be advertised for.

C. Shultz, one of the new men employed at the shops as a blacksmith helper, had his hand terribly crushed yesterday afternoon under the big steam hammer. He had rested his right hand on the anvil, while the hammer was idle, when another helper tripped it off unexpectedly, the heavy weight of several tons descending suddenly upon the man, crushing his four fingers to the thinness of paper.

Word was received today from the California Hospital that C. A. Jones, the Highland man who was crushed between two palm stumps recently, was in a critical condition, and all hope had been given up. In response to this news his family has gone to his bedside.

The Superior Court has decided the Jones kidnaping case by giving the three children into the custody of William Simpson, brother-in-law of their father, W. A. Jones.

THAT ROOF JOB LOOKS WORSE.

RIVERSIDE GRAND JURY FINDS IT VERY BAD.

Something Expected to Drop at Today's Meeting of the Supervisors When Question is Presented for Final Acceptance of the Work. Smith-Peter Marriage.

RIVERSIDE, June 7.—The grand jury was in session all day today. This morning it made a careful inspection of the new Courthouse, and especially of the roof and found many things to criticise. The roof was in particularly bad shape. The patching job spoken of last week in The Times was found to be even worse than then represented, and from expressions caught on the wing from various members of the jury, "things will be doing" with regard to this matter at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors tomorrow. It was the intention of the Supervisors to take final action in accepting the building, but from the grave appearance of things, it is more than probable that the grand jury will take action before that time to prevent this.

SMITH-PETER.

Harley Earl Smith and Miss Julia Peter were married this morning at the home of the bride's parents on South Ottawa avenue by Rev. B. S. Haywood. Only members of the family and a few friends were present. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peter. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for San Francisco and Lake Tahoe, after which they will locate at their new home, corner of Main and Thirteenth streets.

RIVERSIDE BRIEFS.

Licenses to wed have been granted to Jesse B. Lash and Ava Anderson, residents of Corona; and Hallet A. Guthridge and Ada E. Reynolds, both of Perris.

The M. E. Sunday-school has the following dedegates to the State convention in Los Angeles: M. M. Hearn, P. S. Spaulding, Mrs. Mary Fourth, Mrs. Z. T. Brown, Mrs. J. A. Clendennen, John A. Hunt, L. W. Irvine, W. H. Gribble, Ralph Avery, Miss Genevieve Elliott, Mrs P. M. Coburn, Miss Helen M. Potter Miss Grace Walter, Miss Lutie Moss, Burnie Morris, D. W. Lewis, Mrs. Carrie Charity, Mrs. Bettye Cree, Mrs. M. S. Bowman.

E. W. Holmes has taken the oath of office as a Supervisor and filed his bond for $3000 with S. H. Herrick and L. C. Waite as sureties. He will take his seat tomorrow with the board.

Nellie M. Beyer has begun suit for divorce against Henry L. Beyer. The marriage was contracted in Los Angeles county December 26, 1901. The wife alleges that Meyer was of unsound mind at the time of the marriage.

There are to be four teen graduates from the eighth grade this year at Sherman Institute. In the final examinations, the highest average was 98, made by a bright young Indian boy from Northern California. The graduation exercises are to be held on the 23d inst.

Co. M received an unexpected visit last night from Adjt.-Gen. Laucke, Brig.-Gen. Wankowski of the Seventh regiment and Capt. Midgley of Co. D, Pomona.

The Coroner's inquest in the case of Thomas McCready resulted in a verdict declaring "that he came to his death from wounds inflicted by a running train operated by employés of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company and that no negligence on the part of the train crew was shown by the testimony."

IDYLLWILD.

PLENTY OF RATTLERS.

IDYLLWILD, June 7.—Many rattlesnakes are seen among the rocky defiles of the higher reaches of the mountains and here and there along the piny trails. His snakeship is retiring in his tastes, and is keeping well away from human habitation. For those who do care to explore the slopes along the higher altitudes there is plenty of buzz and coil and crawl and wriggle to be seen without much searching. Charles Green of Pasadena says he kills a snake every time he goes out on horseback. He has his hat and saddle decorated with their skins. The old-timers attribute the early appearance and abundance of the snakes to the dry season and the sudden coming of warm weather.

Strawberry Valley Lodge opened on the 1st inst., with about fifty guests.

CORONA.

WILLIAM BAKER DEAD.

CORONA, June 7.—William Baker, for many years a resident of Corona, was stricken with paralysis Sunday and died this morning, aged 55. He was a member of the Fraternal Aid Association, came here from Missouri, and is survived by his widow and one son, Vard, and two daughters, Kate and Arlie.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Arrangements are being made to furnish Corona literature for T. C. Jameson, who will represent Riverside county at the World's Fair.

The Corona Land Company has been formed here and is to advertise the place in the East.

Mmes. W. Corkhill, Genie Shepard and E. M. Cook will go as delegates to the W.C.T.U. State Convention in Santa Barbara.

Frank Geith will build a two-story house on the boulevard.

Andrews & King will install a fifteen-horse-power gasoline pumping plant on the Newberry ranch at Rincon, which they have leased.

The library trustees are to buy 130 new books for the library.

Orange and lemon shipments from here thus far this season are 775 carloads. The heaviest shipment of lemons was made Saturday, when fifteen carloads went out.

ANAHEIM.

NEWS AND PERSONAL NOTES.

ANAHEIM, June 7.—It was given out today that the Anaheim Union Water Company paid $3750 for its half of the 200-acre tract that was purchased jointly with the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, just below the Durkee ranch, now owned jointly by the two water companies.

Miss Clara Fischer will leave soon on an extended visit to the World's Fair and to New York.

Mr. Beecroft left yesterday for Chicago.

Mr. Dodson and wife, who have been visiting here, left yesterday for their home in St. Louis. Mrs. Dodson will return soon for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. Kuhry has returned from Glendora, where she visited her parents several days.

Miss Theresa Fay and brother, Archer Fay, will leave in a few days on an extended visit to the World's Fair, going East by way of the Grand Cañon of the Colorado.

SANTA ANA.

BAD BOYS PUNISHED.

SANTA ANA, June 7.—Edward Graf, one of the gang of young chicken thieves arrested yesterday, was in the Superior Court today and ordered committed to Whittier Reform School, during his minority for incorrigibility and waywardness. Elmer Dunbauld, another of the gang, will be treated to the same sentence tomorrow. The sixth boy concerned in the thefts, Howard Hickey, was caught last night and today entered a plea of guilty to petty larceny. Hickey, Clarence Grigsby and White will all appear tomorrow afternoon for their sentences.

Leona Louhart, aged 14 years, died this morning at the home of her parents on Baker street from diphtheria. Private funeral services will be held tomorrow. Another case of the same disease is reported from the neighborhood.

DEATH RECORD.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Burpitt of Pasadena, occurred today at the home of G. D. Streeter at Old Newport. Mrs. Burpitt was 73 years of age, and was visiting at Mr. Streeter's home when she was siezed with illness and after a three days' sickness died. The funeral services will be conducted at the residence tomorrow, and interment made in the Santa Ana Cemetery.

CURFEW ORDINANCE.

A curfew ordinance, making it unlawful for minor children to be on the streets after 8 p.m., from May to November, and after 9 p.m. during the remainder of the year, was introduced at the City Council meeting last night and will be made a city law at the next session. The waterworks whistle will do service for a curfew bell. The same ordinance forbids children loitering around poolrooms and billiard halls or places where intoxicating liquors are dispensed.

NEWS LOCALETTES.

At the semi-annual election of the Maccabees held last night, C. E. Beckett was chosen commander; William Cochems, lieutenant commander; T. A. Winbigler, record keeper; C. F. Durfee, finance keeper; M. H. Morrison, chaplain; R. E. Bird, sergeant; P. M. Tricker, master-at-arms; F. Bemus and J. O. Benight, masters of guards; Merrill Jasper, sentinel; M. M. Johnson, picket. After the election a banquet was enjoyed.

The Pacific Electric Company in answer to inquiries from City Attorney Heathman has signified its willingness to proceed with the paving of streets where its tracks run, agreeing to share the expense for the space occupied by its right-of-way.

A marriage license was issued today to Walter C. Scoble, aged 27, of Los Alamitos, and Cora Ford, aged 24, of Fullerton.

Emil J. Hazard filed suit today to eject a tenant, Joseph Phillips, from his Westminster ranch.

Mrs. Cora Vail of Fullerton, an aspirant for the office of postmistress for that city, was here today taking council with local politicians for the furtherance of her candidacy.

Superintendent R. H. Ingram of the Southern Pacific was here today on a tour of inspection of the company's lines between Santa Ana and New port Beach. Mr. Ingram's visit has revived the story of the possible sale or lease of the Southern Pacific tracks from Huntington Beach to Santa Ana to the Pacific Electric Company, for use on their system.

SALOON MEN SCARED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, June 7.—The anticipated raise in the saloon license in this city from $400 to $600 a year was not made by the Town Trustees last night, because Sudden was absent. A leading saloon man addressed the board, asking that the license be not raised for the reason that the saloons could not stand it. Wilde and Pierano voted against the ordinance and McGuire and Lewis for it. It is stated the ordinance will again be taken up on the return of Trustee Sudden from San Francisco, when its friends claim it will be passed.

Capitalists are to Reopen Famous Stonewall Mine in San Diego County.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, June 7.—Eastern capitalists have become interested in the famous Stonewall mine near Julian, and work is at once to be started in reopening this property. The men who are interested are willing to spend $150,000 to start with and to follow it up with as much more as will be necessary. The mine has been filled with water for some years and consequently has been lying idle. It is stated that $600,000 in gold was taken from the Stonewall the first 200 feet and that the total amount of bullion yielded by the mine to its present depth of 600 feet is believed to have been about $2,000,000. Upon the death of Jov Waterman, who owned the mine, litigation occurred, which caused it to be closed down, and it was permitted to fill with water, in which condition it is today.

A new company, known as the Cuyamaca Company, has been organized and has taken over the rights of the Cuyamaca Mining and Ranch Company. The president of the new corporation is E. B. Tustin, a New York banker and treasurer of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company of Mexico. The treasurer is W. Jackson Evans, son of A. H. Evans, the eastern attorney for the concern. The local attorneys will be Daney & Lewis. The western director is J. K. Wilson, president of the First National Bank of San Francisco. G. H. Clarke of Auburn, Me., is the new general manager. Mr. Clarke is president of the Maine State Agricultural Society, president of the Auburn Board of Trade, and proprietor of the Elm House, a famous Maine hostelry.

Mr. Clarke is now in the city and will leave this afternoon for Julian, accompanied by Col. S. H. Lucas, who will be superintendent of the mine.

When seen today, Mr. Clarke said that work would be started at once on the mine. The first thing to be done will be to pump out the water. The mine is 600 feet deep, and 500 feet feet of this is filled with water. The new company will buy another pump and expects to have the water out in ninety days. There is already a twenty-stamp mill at the mine and the company will duplicate this. The mine will be retimbered and everything will be overhauled and put in first-class shape. The cottages at the mine that are worth repairing will be fixed up, and the hotel will hereafter be run strictly in the interests of the company and its employés.

The company proposes to buy all of its supplies and material in San Diego.

Mr. Clarke is accompanied on his western trip by his son, Rodney F. Clarke.

What a very curious person the Chinaman seems to us.

When he meets a friend he shakes his own hand, not his friend's.

He keeps out of step when walking with any one.

How Many Men Have Been Cured

By locating and treating the "EXACT CAUSE" of any diseased condition it is more reasonable to expect and obtain a cure than by uncertain methods. When I treat I know what for and why and you may know what you can depend upon. This is why I NEVER TREAT BY MAIL—there's too much guessing. I know what thorough treatment will accomplish. Many men have been treated many times for conditions which did not exist, only to meet with failure. I wait for my fee until you are cured.

Functional Decline Termed Weakness By Some

My method of treatment of this condition is the only effective means yet known whereby functional activity may be restored without resorting to drastic stimulants which derange the functions of the stomach. I remove the EXACT CAUSE responsible for the disorder, and you may know just what you can depend upon and I wait for my fee until you are cured.

Contracted Diseases

To but partially cure this condition is worse than no treatment at all. Chronic complications are sure to follow. Insist upon a thorough and complete eradication of every particle of infection and be sure your cure is complete, that no evil after effects will occur, as an inflammation or prostatic disorder. Fully one-half of all bladder troubles, prostatic irritation, functional decline, are due to badly treated and partially cured disorders.

Varicocele 4 to 6 Days

My treatment effects a permanent cure, normal circulation is quickly restored, and the parts involved rendered strong and healthy. It is the most effective and certain treatment yet known.

Stricture 10 to 15 Days

I have devoted years of special attention to the formation and eradication of urethral obstruction. Experience of the right kind is absolutely necessary to cure. My treatment softens and relaxes the membrane, and the formation is completely destroyed.

When I Treat I Cure!

DR. O. C. JOSLEN, The Leading Specialist

There is no physician anywhere who employs the same general method of treating men's diseases that I employ. This fact is in itself no recommendation of my services. With proof of superiority added it becomes the highest possible recommendation. Results obtained prove all methods. Results prove mine superior beyond all doubt or question. I cure ailments that others never have cured and never can cure by their present forms of treatment. Not only do none treat as I treat, but none cure as I cure.

"Weakness"

"Weakness" is merely a symptom of some disorder, usually an inflamed condition of the prostate gland. This I overcome by a thoroughly scientific system of local treatment, and the full and normal degree of strength and vigor is permanently restored. Organic weakness, lost vigor, varicocele, contracted disorders, stricture, piles and specific blood poison are among the diseases I cure.

Consultation, advice and instructive pamphlet all free at office or by mail.

MEN

Downstairs at our entrance, 607½ South Broadway, you can help yourself to our medical journal, an extensive description of our special work is given. It contains full information, which we cannot publish in our advertisements. If you live out of the city, write for one.

Weakness Is a result of some disease or irritation of the prostate gland. We can cure the cause and restore the lost function. Not by stomach drugging, but by local scientific treatment of the direct cause. Nearly every case can be cured in a very short time by our original methods.

Contracted Disorders Such as stricture, discharges, local inflammation, swellings, local sores and specific infection, should be treated by a medical expert. These diseases are strictly in our line; we cure them and they stay cured; we give a legal guarantee of cure which is absolutely binding.

Varicocele If you have varicocele and are daily growing vitally weaker, why do you allow such a condition to go on with its destructive work? We can show you dozens of business men in Los Angeles who have been cured years ago and fully restored to health by our treatment in from 5 to 7 days. You can see and talk with them personally.

Specific Blood Poison We treat this disease with absolute certainty of a permanent and lasting cure without mineral poisons or any other harmful drug. We have spent 31 years relieving and curing this King of Diseases. No man can afford to waste time and money on a case of specific blood poison with a doctor who does not know how to cure him.

Any person with good references can secure treatment from us until cured before paying for his case, or pay in installments, as he chooses. Examination strictly free.

PASTOR ASKED TO RESIGN.

PASADENA BAPTISTS DEMAND HIS RETIREMENT.

Red Hot Meeting of Official Board of Whose Trustees are Accused of Unbecoming Conduct—Heavy Debt on the House of Worship, Which is not Yet Dedicated.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. ... South Raymond avenue, June 8.—The resignation of Rev. C. H. Hobart as pastor of the First Baptist Church has been demanded by the advisory board of that religious body. The demand was first made two weeks ago, but friends of the pastor hoped to reconcile contending factions and avoid scandal.

Last evening at one of the most sensational meetings ever held by the board of directors of a Pasadena church it was decided that Hobart must go. The meeting lasted till after midnight and warm words were passed during the spicy discussion of the details. A resolution was adopted declaring that a list of the proceedings should be allowed to get to the newspapers. The trustees were accused of conduct unbecoming church members, and in making the accusations threatened to begin unless their accusations were withdrawn.

The church in which the meeting was held has not yet been dedicated. It stands on the corner of Marengo avenue and Union, and was built at a cost of $65,000. There is still a debt of $30,000 on the church.

The existence of so heavy a debt and the chief points raised against the pastor. Another reason for his accusers is the argument that the church needs a more popular man.

The trouble with the history of the First Baptist Church said last night to a Times reporter had its origin in the church itself. It has had several years of the church without a pastor. The members are few in number, but each considered himself a general, and no one wanted to take orders. The membership was small and spirituality was at a low ebb.

The Rev. Mr. Hobart accepted the pastorate with a realization that differences must be harmonized. How he has succeeded is said to be the only measure of success that could have been accorded the efforts of anyone else, that it was a condition for a general more than one for a minister to deal with.

Two weeks ago at an official meeting of the advisory board of the church, the resignation of Rev. Hobart was demanded. The demand was met in the same spirit, it is said, as it was presented, and the answer of the minister was that he would resign after the meeting of the Southern California Baptist Convention in September, if he could at that time insisted on the resignation. Inasmuch as the personnel of the advisory board will be somewhat changed in September, this was satisfactory to the members who had determined that Hobart should go.

Two weeks ago Friday the ladies of the two societies held a red-hot indignation meeting, at which the action of the trustees was severely criticised. Some of the church membership maintained that perhaps the action of the board was too hasty, and an appeal was made at the meeting last night to reconsider the demand for Hobart's resignation. While the former action was practically unanimous, in the meeting of the advisory board, in an address or speech, declared last night that he would withdraw from the church and possibly from the ministry if the action was permitted to stand.

Hobart left the city Friday, and is now at Indio, in Riverside county, on a vacation. Mrs. Hobart refused yesterday to discuss the matter with a Times reporter, but admitted the truth of the report that her husband had been asked to resign. Mr. Hobart has been asked to return within a few days, but it is not known whether he will occupy the pulpit next Sunday, as he has filed last Sabbath by an-

SANTA MONICA.

BIG BOND ISSUE PROSPECT.

SANTA MONICA, June 7.—If the recommendations of the City Trustee's special bond committee as unanimously adopted by the Trustees at their meeting last night should prevail, Santa Monica will soon hold a special election for the purpose of voting bonds in the sum of $210,000 for municipal utilities. The report recommends the construction of a fire engine-house in Santa Monica and one on the South Side, a chemical engine and apparatus for the South Side and a complete fire alarm system, the whole to cost $12,000.

Concrete bridges and retaining walls are advised for Ocean avenue at wh...t are known as bridges No. 2 and 3. Their cost is estimated at $11,500.

The outfall sewer is broken in three places, and is very obnoxious to the people in the vicinity. Its repair and extension is recommended, together with the extension of the main sewer north and east from Eleventh to Seventeenth streets, and the establishing of a septic tank at the foot of Pier avenue. The estimated expense is $20,000.

For park purposes $15,000 is recommended—$10,000 for Linda Vista and $7500 each for the Seventh Street Park and Southside Park.

The committee also recommends $150,000 for a complete municipal water system.

JUSTICE'S COURT BUSY.

The court of Justice of the Peace Jenness was kept busy grinding today on business from Sawtelle. James Kincaid, a veteran, was arrested, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He and Len Smith had some trouble over a lit...strip of land. Smith, so it is said, sought to emphasize his argument with a cane, when Kincaid began firing into him at close range with a very small revolver. One bullet penetrated Smith's loin. Smith was not badly hurt, and the District Attorney dismissed the charge against Kincaid, who was rearrested for assault and battery. On this charge he will have a hearing Monday.

Another Sawtelle case was that of John Bearbaugh, for assault with intent to kill Thomas K. Beesley, whom he had shot in the leg. Bearbaugh was discharged.

POMONA.

WOMEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED.

POMONA, June 7.—Mrs. John Wasson, assisted by the ladies of the Executive Committee of the Pomona Women's Club entertained at a social session this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wasson on Holt avenue, the occasion being the last meeting of the club before the summer vacation. The rooms of the house were artistically decorated. Two papers were read by members of the club, then followed a literary puzzle entertainment, after which refreshments were served.

The best piece of cement construction in the city has just been completed on Ellen street from Bertie to Walnut streets, by L. Fleming. The street has been graded, curbed, guttered and sidewalked and cross walks have been laid. The cost of the work is about $11,000, paid for by abutting property owners.

H. P. Wilkinson, Andrew Cogswell and others have returned from a hunting trip to Lower California.

C. A. Ludden and W. C. Worthey are still at the Hodges group of mines out on the desert with the thermometer 114 and sometimes 105 at midnight. They will stay till July 1.

CLAREMONT.

TO ENLARGE SCHOOLHOUSE.

CLAREMONT, June 7.—Yesterday afternoon the citizens of Claremont gathered in the schoolhouse and voted to raise $750 by tax for enlarging the present building.

NEW HOSE CART.

The new hose cart and other apparatus for fire protection here have just arrived. The cart is of the latest type, costing some $500; the 500 feet of double jacketed fire hose is ample for its uses, so numerous are the water plugs on every street.

ORANGE GROWERS' PICNIC.

A large number of Claremont citizens attended the orange growers' picnic in the San José Hills yesterday. They report a most bitterly contested argument between the Naftzger and growers' contingents.

BOYS' CONGRESS.

The Y.M.C.A. Congress met last night and first listened to an address by Howard West and then had a debate upon the following question: "Resolved, that heredity has a greater influence upon life than environment." The affirmative was taken by Frank Grossman and Lewis Powell; the negative by Ernest Finley and Fred Johnson: Judges, Marcel Herbelin, Walter Switzer, Howard West; critic, Rolla McCleary. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative, and named Frank Grossman as the best speaker of the evening.

SAWTELLE.

PROHIBITION PICNIC.

SAWTELLE, June 7.—Today the Prohibition Alliance held a picnic in the Gillis Park "for the promotion of the cause of righteous civil government." It was well attended. A short programme was rendered, in which addresses were made by several pastors, and there were readings and recitations by Walter H. Metcalf, Miss Daisy Calhoun, Miss Cassie Langdon and others.

This evening the Rebekah Lodge, I. O.O.F., elected for Noble Grand, Mrs. P. H. Sonnesyn; Vice-Grand, ... J. Belote; Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. A. Muller; Financial Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Beede; Treasurer, P. H. Sonnesyn; Trustee, H. J. Farnsworth.

SAN GABRIEL.

FUNERAL OF TEODORO VERDUGO.

SAN GABRIEL, June 7.—The funeral of Teodoro Verdugo, the last of the old Spanish dons of Southern California, was held here today. The extreme heat did not deter the loving hearts of the old man's race from attending, the old Mission Church being crowded.

DOLGEVILLE.

FACTORY TOWN NOTES.

DOLGEVILLE, June 7.—The Southern Pacific is about to change the name of its station at Shorb and call it Dolgeville.

Charles Millett, superintendent of power for the Dolge mills, is about to build a $2000 house.

PASADENA BAPTISTS DEMAND HIS RETIREMENT.

Red Hot Meeting of Official Board of Whose Trustees are Accused of Unbecoming Conduct—Heavy Debt on the House of Worship, Which is not Yet Dedicated.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. ... South Raymond avenue, June 8.—The resignation of Rev. C. H. Hobart as pastor of the First Baptist Church has been demanded by the advisory board of that religious body. The demand was first made two weeks ago, but friends of the pastor hoped to reconcile contending factions and avoid scandal.

Last evening at one of the most sensational meetings ever held by the board of directors of a Pasadena church it was decided that Hobart must go. The meeting lasted till after midnight and warm words were passed during the spicy discussion of the details. A resolution was adopted declaring that a list of the proceedings should be allowed to get to the newspapers. The trustees were accused of conduct unbecoming church members, and in making the accusations threatened to begin unless their accusations were withdrawn.

The church in which the meeting was held has not yet been dedicated. It stands on the corner of Marengo avenue and Union, and was built at a cost of $65,000. There is still a debt of $30,000 on the church.

The existence of so heavy a debt and the chief points raised against the pastor. Another reason for his accusers is the argument that the church needs a more popular man.

The trouble with the history of the First Baptist Church said last night to a Times reporter had its origin in the church itself. It has had several years of the church without a pastor. The members are few in number, but each considered himself a general, and no one wanted to take orders. The membership was small and spirituality was at a low ebb.

The Rev. Mr. Hobart accepted the pastorate with a realization that differences must be harmonized. How he has succeeded is said to be the only measure of success that could have been accorded the efforts of anyone else, that it was a condition for a general more than one for a minister to deal with.

Two weeks ago at an official meeting of the advisory board of the church, the resignation of Rev. Hobart was demanded. The demand was met in the same spirit, it is said, as it was presented, and the answer of the minister was that he would resign after the meeting of the Southern California Baptist Convention in September, if he could at that time insisted on the resignation. Inasmuch as the personnel of the advisory board will be somewhat changed in September, this was satisfactory to the members who had determined that Hobart should go.

Two weeks ago Friday the ladies of the two societies held a red-hot indignation meeting, at which the action of the trustees was severely criticised. Some of the church membership maintained that perhaps the action of the board was too hasty, and an appeal was made at the meeting last night to reconsider the demand for Hobart's resignation. While the former action was practically unanimous, in the meeting of the advisory board, in an address or speech, declared last night that he would withdraw from the church and possibly from the ministry if the action was permitted to stand.

Hobart left the city Friday, and is now at Indio, in Riverside county, on a vacation. Mrs. Hobart refused yesterday to discuss the matter with a Times reporter, but admitted the truth of the report that her husband had been asked to resign. Mr. Hobart has been asked to return within a few days, but it is not known whether he will occupy the pulpit next Sunday, as he has filed last Sabbath by an-

PACIFIC ELECTRIC PLANS FOR TRESTLE AT SAN PEDRO.

One of the Largest Planing Mills in the State in Process of Erection on Terminal Island—Espee Lets Contract for Dredging Near Its Wharf—A. M. Muller Dead.

SAN PEDRO, June 7.—It is again reported that the Pacific Electric Railway Company will in a few days begin the construction of a trestle across the bay from Wilmington to San Pedro, which will carry the tracks of the new road into this city. The force which has just completed the Newport line will be used to do the work.

The harbor lines have not yet been established by the government engineers, and the Pacific Electric tracks will utilize the right of way of the Southern Pacific Company, running a short distance west of the tracks of that company. A force of surveyors are at work running levels over this right of way within the city limits. A thirty-five-minute service between San Pedro and Los Angeles is promised upon the completion of the road.

About six thousand feet of piling will be used in the construction of the trestle. These are already on the ground having been brought from the north by sailing vessels last year. It is stated that it will require about fifty days to build the trestle.

NEW PLANING MILL.

One of the largest and best planing mills in California is being erected on Terminal Island, near the Leishman mill, under the supervision of M. H. Burke of this city. The frame of the building rests on solid blocks of piers, which are three feet deep and taper from three feet on the bottom to eighteen inches on the top. The building will be 166x180 feet, and the boiler and engine-room will be 32x60 feet, and is to be constructed of brick or concrete. There will be installed three boilers, 66 inches by 16 feet, and a 300-horsepower Norley-Corliss engine. The machinery is on the way. A force of thirty men is employed in the construction of the mill, which is expected to be in operation in about sixty days.

DREDGING FOR THE ESPEE.

The Southern Pacific Company has let a contract for considerable dredging south of the steamer landing at the foot of Tenth street. It is stated that upon the completion of the dredging the company will commence the construction of an extension to their present wharf. The original plans for this extension called for the expenditure of $400,000.

AN OLD CITIZEN DEAD.

Adolph M. Muller, an old and prominent citizen, died at his home on Beacon street last evening, aged 69 years. He was born in Bremerhaben, Germany, in 1835, and has lived in California for thirty-five years, having come around the Horn in the American ship, White Swallow in 1859. For the past twenty-three years he has been a resident of San Pedro, taking a prominent part in the city's advancement and development. For many years he was in the employ of the Southern Pacific, the wharves and depot at this place having been built under his supervision. The funeral ceremonies will be conducted by the local lodge, Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member, having been Master of the Exchequer for the past fifteen years. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Los Angeles, tomorrow morning.

Miss Lillie Lewin, 18 years of age, a niece of Mrs. T. C. Harthorn, died at the home of the latter on Palos Verdes street, Monday. Miss Lewin arrived here from Denver, Colo., only a short time ago, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. The remains were interred in Wilmington Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

John Small, charged with a assault with a deadly weapon, had his preliminary examination in Justice Downing's court this morning, and was held to answer before the Superior Court, with bail fixed at $2000.

A GOOD WOMAN LAID TO REST.

LAST SERVICES OVER REMAINS OF MRS. KANOUSE.

Loving Wife and Devoted Mother, She Brought Happiness into Many a Home—Was an Earnest Laborer in Temperance Cause—Descended from Revolutionary Sire.

GLENDALE, June 7.—The funeral of Amelia Adaiside Levake Kanouse was held this afternoon at the Kanouse home, and was conducted by Revs. Dodd, Merrill and Stewart. Mrs. Kanouse was the wife of Theodore Kanouse, and one of the chief workers in the Glendale Presbyterian Church. She was born in 1840, in Indiana, and with her parents, emigrated to Wisconsin in 1845, where she fitted herself as a teacher. Her family was of revolutionary fame, her great grandfather being a captain in La Fayette's army, with which he came from France to assist the colonists.

During her teaching days she was principal of union schools and teacher in all departments in Wisconsin schools, and lastly in Chicago. While her home duties were equal to those of other wives, she gave the very best energies of her life to consecrated effort to aid young people into higher and nobler lines. The Sunday-school and Good Templar Lodge have been her chosen means of benevolent activities. She was a Good Templar for forty-eight years continuously, and with her husband's work along these lines she most earnestly and ably sympathized and coöperated.

The couple were married at her home in Wyoming Valley in 1863. Mrs. Kanouse leaves a daughter, Rachael, and a son, Theodore K. Kanouse of Los Angeles.

BATTALION DRILL.

Cos. A, C and F of the Seventh Regiment turned out at the Armory last night in honor of Adjt.-Gen. Lauck, who is visiting the city. It was informal. The men were put through a brief battalion drill by Maj. Truman Cole. Gen. Lauck met all the officers of the battalion and most of Gen. Wankowski's staff and examined the Armory. He expressed himself as pleased with the turnout and the general conditions he found.

CRISPUS ATTUCKS LIGHT GUARD.

The Young Men's Afro-American League has taken steps to organize as an auxiliary to that organization the Crispus Attucks Light Guard, a marching club to take an active part in the coming Republican campaign. The first meeting for this purpose was held last week, and the organization will be completed at a meeting to be held next Friday evening at No. 426 Central avenue. The marching club will have over one hundred members.

LIVING CROWD GRAVES OF DEAD.

WILL MOVE MANY BODIES TO MAKE ROOM FOR FLATS.

Odd Fellows Sell Their Old Graveyard Adjoining High School to Cincinnati Syndicate, and Will Reinter Dead Brethren in Their New Cemetery.

Commercial Los Angeles, with that disregard for sentiment which is characteristic of the utilitarianism of the present age, in its rush for the upbuilding of a great modern city is requiring that even the dead should "move on" to make room for the living.

Several years ago the old city cemetery, used for so long a period by the early settlers as a place in which to lay their dead to rest, was closed to further interments, and eventually the modern High School crowded itself into the very heart of the tract held in sacred memory by so many Angeleños.

The next step was to have the cemetery deeded as a city park, but alongside of this section lies the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, in which there are yet twenty-five or thirty graves. This tract is the latest to feel the inexorable demands of the city's growth. It will soon be depopulated of its quiet denizens and large flats and roominghouses will teem with life in place of the present peaceful quietude.

The Odd Fellows' Cemetery Association several years ago purchased a beautiful tract out on the highlands beyond Boyle Heights, and this has been used as their burial grounds for the past four years. They have now sold the old cemetery, about three acres, lying to the southwest of the High School, to a syndicate of Cincinnati men, who will improve it as soon as the remaining graves are moved, which will be some time during the present month.

Recently several of the bodies of old-time Angeleños have been moved from this cemetery as well as several from the city section. The removal of the Odd Fellows' graves yet remaining will be done at one time, probably during the last week in this month.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

SOCIETY has been very quiet for the last few days, and even informal luncheons and dinners have been tabooed by the smart set, for as the summer comes plans are being made for trips, and the summer girl is busy planning a bewildering wardrobe, which, unless the summer man is wary, will surely capture him. Last evening, however, even the busy girls were out in force at the testimonial concert given to Mr. Behymer at the Auditorium Operahouse. There were a great number of the younger set present in the body of the house, and among notable box parties was that given by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Plater. They had as their guests Capt. and Mrs. C. H. McKinstry, ex-Senator and Mrs. Stephen W. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Dunn, Count and Mrs. Jaro von Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Childs, and Mr. Chartiers. After the concert the merry party went to Levy's, where a supper was served from a table made bright with rare blooms and ferns.

Married in Historic Chapel.

To be married among the orange blossoms in the chapel which Helen Hunt Jackson's story "Ramona" made famous would bring joy to almost any girl's heart, and such was the wedding of Miss Nichita Natalia del Valle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. del Valle of the Camulos rancho, descendants of the dons of the old days, when the guitar's sounded throughout California, and the tinkle of the guitar was heard. The groom was John Kirby, son of L. W. Kirby of Los Angeles. The wedding was solemnized in the little chapel on the Camulos ranch, which is owned by the Del Valle family, and which is one of the few private chapels in our land. Besides, most of the story of "Ramona" hinges on this rustic little church, which is nearly a century old, for it was here that Alessandro first saw Ramona, when the torn altar cloth caused her to go here to save the Indian girl.

Across the house which stands near the chapel over the softly-carpeted path the bridal party walked, first, the maid of honor, Miss Susie del Valle, sister of the bride, followed by the beautiful girl-bride on the arm of her father, down the path marked with wide-eyed violets, and through the grape arbor where the fragrance of orange blossoms was wafted through the air, and the song of the mocking bird mingled with the soft organ prelude, which floated out through the windows and doors of the little chapel. The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock in the morning.

The altar was banked with the regal Easter lilies, and smilax was festooned about the church. Great clusters of the lilies were at each pew, and the bridal pair stood beneath a canopy formed of asparagus plumosus and white roses, and just over their heads floated a single snowy dove. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was given before the ceremony, and during the service "O Promise Me," was rendered by Mrs. C. H. Cramm. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father J. Gerard Gay, pastor of the church at Santa Paula. The bride is one of the most beautiful girls seen for many a day, with the black hair, clear eyes, and ivory white skin of the true Castilian. Her lithe young form was covered in a stunning frock of white crepe de chine over white silk, with trimmings of real lace, and it was made with many shirrings and ruffings falling in soft folds about her. Over her fair and pretty face fell a long veil of softest and finest white tulle, caught up with a spray of orange blossoms. In her hand she carried an ivory prayer book. The maid of honor, Miss Susie del Valle, the handsome sister of the bride, wore a beautiful frock of white etamine with garnitures of Spanish lace, and carried white carnations tied with satin ribbon. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the guests which was really a feast such as might have been seen years ago in the old Spanish days of California. The table was set out on the grass beneath the famous old walnut tree, which spreads its great protecting arms so widely that under them easily may be shaded 150 people. There around a board laden with all sorts of dainties, and spread with roses and ferns, sat the bride and groom and the wedding guests, all members of the family, which is large, and there was many a toast to the newly-married couple. Among those who spoke giving well wishes to the bride and groom were Rev. J. Gerard Gay, W. F. del Valle and C. A. Bradt, and after that there were songs, and at last the young couple left amid the singing and merry-making, slipping off on a honeymoon tour, after which they intend making their home in Prescott, Ariz., where Mr. Kirby is engaged in business.

The Del Valles are one of the most prominent Spanish families of California, and they have long been known throughout the State, where their influence has been felt for many years. They own the beautiful Camulos ranch where the ceremony was performed on Monday. The Del Valle girls have always been noted throughout the southland for their beauty, and Mrs. Kirby has commanded much admiration wherever she has been.

Nixon-Reynolds Nuptials.

Last evening under a cloudy bower of softest rose-colored tulle and asparagus plumosus, pretty, dainty Miss Charlotte Rixon became the bride of Mr. Harry Reynolds of San Francisco, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. A. Thomson of the Independent Church of Christ. Miss Rixon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rixon of No. 737 Bonnie Brae street, where the marriage took place. About fifty or sixty friends and relatives witnessed the service. The drawing-room was in delicate shades of pink and green. In the corner where the bridal party stood was a canopy of asparagus plumosus, over which filmy pink tulle was festooned, making a bower of roseate hue, while tall cut-glass vases containing Mme. Cochet roses were arranged about the room. The mantel was banked with potted plants and ferns, and asparagus plumosus was draped in delicate strands over the lace curtains and moss-green walls, giving the whole the appearance of a charming woodland bower. In the library pink and green was the color scheme, great clusters of Mme. Cochet roses being combined effectively with ferns and palms. In the giftroom above were lavender sweet peas and Canterbury bells, arranged in high vases against the canary yellow of the walls, quite refreshing. Here were displayed many handsome and costly gifts, tokens of love from the many friends to the popular couple. In another room scarlet carnations and sprengerii were the dining decorations, while in yet another the delicate fragrance of pink sweet peas was rife.

The dining-room, where Christopher served refreshments, was also in pink and green, and the bride's table, a large affair, bore a large fancy centerpiece of pink carnations, while tiny Cecil Brunner roses were scattered over the cloth, and bands of delicate pink tulle and asparagus plumosus added to the effectiveness of the arrangement. The bride, who is a petite and charming little blonde, was dressed in a handsome creation of white net embroidered in silk and Roman pearls, finished with many ruches of net and lace, and with a full train, with accordion pleated ruffle. The waist was made with great baby sleeves and a yoke elaborately embroidered with Roman pearls, while a bertha of lace fell over her shoulders, giving a quaint, old-fashioned effect. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. The matron of honor, Mrs. Jackson Reynolds of New York, sister-in-law of the groom, who is herself a recent bride, was attired in her own wedding gown, a handsome robe of white crepe de chine and lace. The maid of honor, Miss Eugenie Rixon, sister of the bride, wore a white figured net made with a shirred waist and skirt, and large, puffy sleeves, and trimmed with handsome old lace, while in her hair was a wreath of tiny pink roses. The maids were all attired in the pastel shades which had been chosen for the wedding, and Miss Gertrude McKenzie, a dainty brunette, wore a figured net of pink and white over blue silk; Miss Madeline Edwards of Santa Barbara wore white, embroidered with an exquisite design of lavender flowers, and Miss Ella Hartnell wore pale green, while Miss Alice R. Dailey of Silver City wore palest yellow. Each maid carried a basket of pink sweet peas, tied with airy pink tulle. Jackson E. Reynolds of New York was best man, and the ushers were Charles Rixon, brother of the bride, and Arthur Bumiller. The matron of honor and maids formed an aisle, down which which the bride advanced on the arm of her father, as the sweet strains of the "Lohengrin Wedding March" rang out, as played by Arend's Orchestra. "O Promise Me" was given during the service and the wedding march by Mendelssohn afterwards. After the service a reception was held, when the young couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's parents. Mrs. Rixon wore a handsome gown of imported black net over white silk, with garniture of lace and jet. Mrs. Reynolds is a most popular and well-known girl of Los Angeles, and has won many friends through her sweetness and charm of manner. She is a graduate of Stanford University, where she was one of the belles of her class, and Mr. Reynolds is to be congratulated that he should be the winner of such a much-sought and pretty girl. After a short wedding tour Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds will go to San Francisco, where they intend making their home, and where Dr. Reynolds is a prominent young physician.

Birthday Party.

A birthday party was given in honor of Miss Mamie Consuelo Jenkins, daughter of Charles S. Jenkins, on Monday afternoon, the occasion being the celebration of her seventh anniversary. The house was decorated with crepe paper and flowers. In the reception hall green crepe paper was festooned gracefully, and potted ferns and plants utilized. Pink was used in the parlors, carnations, sweet peas and crepe paper being artistically combined. The dining-room presented a pretty sight, strung with tissue paper and ferns, and the table was trimmed artistically with sweet peas in the prevailing colors and blue ribbons. Places were marked with bouquets of blue sweet peas, and a gorgeous birthday cake was in the center of the table, decorated with seven twinkling tapers.

Games and music were enjoyed during the afternoon, and the little hostess was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from her admiring friends. Those present were Misses Fern Darnele, Helen Northmore, Ruth Matthews, Juliet Salmon, Constance Auchell, Clara Guggenheim, Mildred Springer, Rifa Kinney, Carrie Jones, Felice Andrell, Juliet Guggenheim, Clara Tryce, Maude Wilson, Ana Johnson, and Messrs. Charles Tervin, Joe Springer, Milton Springer, Charles Mendelson, Eddie Mendelson, Clarence Mendelson, Arnold Sparks, Samuel Stagg, James Johnson, Spencer Jones, Claude Froocher and Emile Fritz.

Manhattan Beach Party.

A delightful house party was given by Miss Helen Hale at Manhattan Beach. The guests went down on Saturday and returned yesterday, and a most enjoyable outing was spent at this delightful summer resort. Mrs. Sarah Wright was the chaperon, and the guests were Miss Edna Quinn, Miss Bernice Whittaker, Miss Hazel White, Miss Helen Grant, Miss Nellie Mohr, Miss Eyrle Parker, Miss Augusta List, Miss Ruth List.

Leaves for North.

Mrs. O. G. Murfin, who has been visiting Mrs. Dan MacFarland of West Twenty-third street, received a telegram from her husband, Lieut. Murfin of the U.S.S. Boston, saying that he will be in San Francisco on the 12th inst. Mrs. Murfin will leave the last of the week to join him.

Butterfly Whist Club.

Mrs. M. Danziger of No. 836 Burlington avenue entertained the members of the Butterfly Whist Club at her home yesterday afternoon. The house was artistically decorated with cut flowers and ferns, and cards were played, after which pretty prizes were awarded, and refreshments served. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Danziger's delightful hospitality were Mrs. M. A. Gould, Mrs. J. Strange, Mrs. Cora Johnson, Mrs. M. Bennett, Mrs. Belle Thede, Mrs. A. Merrill, Mrs. Ava McArthur, Mrs. T. F. Minot, Mrs. A. R. Pelton, Mrs. M. J. Neighbors, Mrs. C. C. Rutherford, Mrs. F. Stone and Miss Sadie Pelton.

Reception and Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Grigg of the Cumnock School will give a reception and dancing party to the class of 1904 of the Cumnock School on Friday evening of this week. The affair promises to be a joyous event since great plans are being laid, and this will be the last of the gayeties of the senior year.

Informal Card Evening.

Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald of No. 920 South Union avenue entertained a few friends last evening at whist. There were small tables arranged, and the guests progressed after each game, and later handsome prizes were awarded the fortunate contestants. A delicious buffet luncheon was served, and the house was filled with a profusion of bright flowers.

In Honor of Fiance.

Miss Louise Torrey of No. 323 South Union avenue was at home last evening to a number of friends in honor of her fiancé, Prof. Horace B. Patton, a professor in the Colorado School of Mines. There was a delightful musical programme rendered, participated in by Miss Anna D. Douglas, Miss Lillian Klages, and Charles Lamb. The house was artistically decorated with flowers and ferns, and a luncheon was served to the guests, who numbered about thirty, mostly members of the Christian Endeavor Society, of which Miss Torrey has been an active member.

Silver Wedding.

Sunday afternoon about fifty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schultz gathered at their new home, No. 915 Austin street, to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz were married at Tonnenburg, Prussia, twenty-five years ago, and came to South Bend, Ind., in 1883. Since that time they have lived in several States, but at last chose Los Angeles as the ideal spot for a permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Schultz stood beneath a canopy of pink and white, with a bell of pink and white carnations just over their heads, and surrounded by their seven children and grandchildren, while Rev. C. T. Scholz of the German Lutheran Church performed the ceremony. The Misses Kappas, and Miss Marie Schultz sang, and Theo A. Barth followed with a guitar solo. Miss Lena Schultz recited and Dr. C. W. Unger called forth a number of encores by his music on a bandonia recently imported from Europe. The house was decorated throughout with pink and white carnations, and ferns, silver tinsel being woven in and out, giving an argentiferous appearance to the whole. An elaborate feast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Schultz were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Farewell Tea.

Miss Mary Hendrick of North Soto street entertained the young women of her bridal party with an informal tea yesterday afternoon, as a farewell affair before her marriage, which is to take place on Thursday. This afternoon the last of the prenuptial affairs is to be given by Miss Georgia Caswell at her home on West Twenty-third street. Miss Caswell is one of the attendants at the wedding, and the tea which she gives today promises to be a charming affair.

Notes and Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Taylor of No. 345 West Adams street have returned home after a trip of three weeks in the East, visiting Chicago and the World's Fair.

Mrs. Hamer leaves today for Ocean Park to give an elocution recital. She will be assisted by her daughter, Miss Constance Hamer Wright, and Maude Reese Davies.

Max Schwed and daughter and a number of friends leave in a few days for the East and Europe. On their return they will take in the St. Louis Fair. They expect to be gone about four months.

Crystal Waters of Lake Tahoe.

No one ever forgets the crystal clearness of waters of Lake Tahoe, nor the wonderful shades of color that are seen there. No other lake in the world, perhaps, is so beautiful, and certainly none has such a variety of attractions for sightseer or camper. The mountains, forest, trout streams and smaller lakes around Tahoe really make it "the gem of the Sierras." Train leaves San Francisco daily at 8:05 p.m., connecting with 11:30 p.m. train from Los Angeles evening previous. Folder and details of any Southern Pacific agent.

HENRY CLAY'S FRIENDS

Pittsburgh Banker Recalls Incidents in the Statesman's Career.

[Louisville Evening Post:] George Wood was in Pittsburgh some months ago, when he was asked to stop in a bank and pay his respects to the president, who was 94 years old, and the honored head of the banking community.

"Mr. Wood, you are from Louisville?" said the venerable gentleman. "I was at Louisville only once and that was many years ago. I called at the Bank of Kentucky, and met its president, Virgil McKnight, a man known and respected by bankers everywhere.

While in Mr. McKnight's office Henry Clay was announced.

"'Tell Mr. Clay to come in at once,' said Mr. McKnight, rising.

"I saw enter a tall man of dignified and graceful bearing.

"'Mr. Clay did not delay a moment, but came at once to the purpose of his call.

"'Mr. McKnight,' said he, 'I have indorsed a note which is due in this bank in the next few days. It is for $5000. My friend is unable to meet the note, and I shall have it to pay. I have come to ask if the bank will carry that paper for me until I can arrange to settle the debt.

"'Mr. Clay,' said Mr. McKnight, 'you are mistaken. You are not on any paper in this bank.'

"Mr. Clay was greatly surprised, and said he certainly could not be mistaken.

"Mr. McKnight then said: 'This bank held that paper, but it was paid in full some days ago by friends who desire to be unknown.'

"'Did ever a man have such friends as I?' said Mr. Clay, with emotion. 'I have come from a similar visit to the Bank of Louisville, and have been told by the officers that all the paper on which I am indorser has been paid.'"

Training of Japanese Boys.

Japanese boys do not engage in boisterous sports to the extent the American and European youths do. Gentleness is a prime requisite in the Japanese youngster, and the "hoodlum" is said to be unknown in Japan. He would not be tolerated even momentarily in that ingratiating climate. The little Jap boys are not wanting in animal spirits, but they are trained to control their impulses, to respect the aged, to honor their parents and to protect public and private property.—[Galveston News.
